

June, the Month Beautiful

June, the ideal time of the year, when roses blossom, and flowers whisper to the balmy breezes, all nature smiles and looks her loveliest and best.

Fans for Graduation Gifts.

Much needed right now. They will always recall the giver on cold winter nights at the party of ball, as well as on the hot summer evenings.

Parasols for the Bride or Graduation.

This season has brought new beauty in parasols, and must be seen to be appreciated. Our showing includes all the real choice novelties and should be looked over leisurely.

Umbrellas for Vacation Time.

You may have need of one. It is easy to buy an umbrella for knockabout or vacation time at these prices.

French Underwear for Graduation Gifts.

Beautifully wrought from the daintiest of sheer nainsook. CORSET COVERS. Pretty designs, in embroidered effects, others with lace insertion and medallions; prices start at $2.00.

Monday 75c and 85c Silks, 29c and 39c. All Silk $1.00

Bungalow, 49c. Handsome all Silk $1.25 Rajah, 49c yd. Monday's Grand Special Sale of Silks will secure to you the very latest and choicest Silks at about one-half of what the Silks cost to manufacture.

Special Sale of Lace Curtains, Monday, June 11, Basement, West Side.

Having closed out many grades of Lace Curtains, we have taken the higher grade goods to fill the opening, hence these extraordinary reductions made from our usually low prices.

Colored Wash Goods for Summer Wear.

See these, we have them in the choicest styles. Not every store has them. Zephyr Gingham, 15c, 20c, 25c yd.

The Mountain Shirt for Women

We are showing two new styles of these Outing Shirts: one is plain white, the other is a polka dot effect. Prices, $1.50 and $2.25 each.

Fine Cluny Lace Pieces for June Weddings.

First showing of new and beautiful Cluny and Byzantine lace pieces; have been in our store hardly a week. The patterns are new and exclusive; never have we shown anything so pretty as these dainty lace pieces.

Gift Hosiery.

A splendid showing of women's fancy hosiery that will make a highly acceptable gift for the June bride: Women's black or white fine hose, hand embroidered in step, at $2.50 per pair.

Bargains in Our Cloak Department Monday.

All the tailor-made suits at half price. Clearing sale prices on all our Tan and White Velvet suits, with ruffled embroidery, $2.00 per pair.

Ladies' Gloves, the New, the Beautiful, the Needed Styles.

Elbow Length White Suede Gloves—Comfortable for summer wear; a three-button glove with pretty, dainty, per pair, $3.00. Elbow Length White Lace Gloves—Very stylish and made of the best selected skins, per pair, $3.00.

TRICK OF BRITISH TRADERS

John Burns Finds All Meats Are Not What They Seem.

INSPECTION IN BRITAIN IS DIFFICULT

Government Discovers that American Beef and Pork is Sold as Native Product Across the Water.

LONDON, June 9.—John Burns, president of the local government board, has requested the Foreign office to communicate with the State department at Washington and ascertain to what extent reliance can be placed on the system of meat inspection undertaken by the Bureau of Animal Industry.

Fulkerson Wants All Facts.

WASHINGTON, June 9.—Representative Fulkerson of Missouri has introduced a resolution calling on the president and secretary of agriculture to immediately make public any and all information relating to a question put in the House of Commons today by William Field, nationalist member of the St. Patrick's division of Dublin and president of the Irish Cattle Traders and Stock Owners' association.

Paris, June 9.—(Special Cablegram to The Bee.)—Not only are the ladies of Countess Greffulhe's 'League of Little Hats' bound by a solemn oath to wear little hats at the play, but if milliners will not make little hats for them they will make their own hats.

WOMAN VISITS THE PIGMIES

Major Cotton's Wife Attracts Much Attention in Trip Through Central Africa.

BRITAIN AND CHINA AGREE

Japan Hears that New Regulations for Wel-hai-wel Have Been Adopted.

FIRE RECORD.

West Virginia Brewery. HUNTINGTON, W. Va., June 8.—The plant of the West Virginia Brewing company was destroyed by fire early today. Loss $200,000, nearly covered by insurance.

DEATH RECORD

Colombi Squire Turney. COLUMBIA, Mo., June 8.—Colonel Squire Turney, who had been prominent in Missouri politics for nearly fifty years, dropped dead at his country home near Lexington, Ky., served in the Confederate Army, was many times elected to the Missouri legislature and was a brother-in-law of Senator Stone, who was reared under Colonel Turney's care.

FORECAST OF THE WEATHER

Fair and warmer in North Portion of Nebraska Today—Fair Tomorrow.

WIRELESS FOR SAN FRANCISCO.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 9.—A 25-foot mast has been erected on Russian Hill by a local wireless telegraph company. It will be used at a station in this city to relay with a branch of the same system in Colorado, connecting this coast with the east by wireless.

There was a young man of Wahoo, Whose eyesight was getting untrue—

He mistook trees for fences, Till he tried some new lenses "Toriscus"—they're bully ones too. —Isabelle Graham.

The principles upon which "Toriscus" lenses are made are acknowledged by scientists to be practical and correct.

"TORISCUS" LENSES ARE MADE AND SOLD ONLY BY COLUMBIA OPTICAL CO.

211 South Sixteenth Street, Omaha

ESTABLISHED IN 1888

Denver, Omaha, Kansas City, Salt Lake City, Dallas, Portland

GOVERNMENT TO BREAK TRUSTS

New Zealand Enters into Competition with Combines and Maintains Fair Prices.

WELLINGTON, N. Z., June 9.—(Special Cablegram to The Bee.)—Mr. Sedden, the premier, says the cost of living in the colony has become so serious owing to the action of the "trusts" that he hopes to see the government adopt further measures in the direction of socialism.

WOMEN WANT LITTLE HATS

If They Cannot Buy What They Desire They Will Boycott Milliners.

PARIS, June 9.—(Special Cablegram to The Bee.)—Not only are the ladies of Countess Greffulhe's 'League of Little Hats' bound by a solemn oath to wear little hats at the play, but if milliners will not make little hats for them they will make their own hats.

WOMAN VISITS THE PIGMIES

Major Cotton's Wife Attracts Much Attention in Trip Through Central Africa.

BRITAIN AND CHINA AGREE

Japan Hears that New Regulations for Wel-hai-wel Have Been Adopted.

FIRE RECORD.

West Virginia Brewery. HUNTINGTON, W. Va., June 8.—The plant of the West Virginia Brewing company was destroyed by fire early today. Loss $200,000, nearly covered by insurance.

DEATH RECORD

Colombi Squire Turney. COLUMBIA, Mo., June 8.—Colonel Squire Turney, who had been prominent in Missouri politics for nearly fifty years, dropped dead at his country home near Lexington, Ky., served in the Confederate Army, was many times elected to the Missouri legislature and was a brother-in-law of Senator Stone, who was reared under Colonel Turney's care.

FORECAST OF THE WEATHER

Fair and warmer in North Portion of Nebraska Today—Fair Tomorrow.

WIRELESS FOR SAN FRANCISCO.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 9.—A 25-foot mast has been erected on Russian Hill by a local wireless telegraph company. It will be used at a station in this city to relay with a branch of the same system in Colorado, connecting this coast with the east by wireless.

There was a young man of Wahoo, Whose eyesight was getting untrue—

He mistook trees for fences, Till he tried some new lenses "Toriscus"—they're bully ones too. —Isabelle Graham.

The principles upon which "Toriscus" lenses are made are acknowledged by scientists to be practical and correct.

"TORISCUS" LENSES ARE MADE AND SOLD ONLY BY COLUMBIA OPTICAL CO.

211 South Sixteenth Street, Omaha

ESTABLISHED IN 1888

Denver, Omaha, Kansas City, Salt Lake City, Dallas, Portland

That Lingering Ash You know what it means. Long filler—perfect workmanship. These qualities and all that's good in cigars make the OPTIMO the best of the best. Buy it—try it—judge for yourself. The band guarantees you.

A. SANTALLA & CO., Makers, Tampa, Fla. Perego & Moore, Co. Distributors, Omaha and Council Bluffs

ELEVEN KILLED, FIVE HURT

Dynamite Factory Near Lancaster, Pa. Destroyed by an Explosion.

BODIES OF VICTIMS HORRIBLY MANGLED

Eleven of the Twelve Buildings Blown Up—Seven Girls Working in One Remaining Intact.

LANCASTER, Pa., June 9.—Eleven men were blown to pieces and five others were seriously injured by the explosion of a dynamite plant today near Troups along the Susquehanna river. The dead are: BENJAMIN GEBHARDT, aged 22; BENJAMIN RINEER, aged 21; GEORGE RINEER, aged 20; FRED RICE, aged 22; COLLINS PARKER, aged 18; WILLIAM FUNK, aged 19; JOHN BOATTMAN, aged 17; THREE UNIDENTIFIED MEN.

Seriously injured: Walter Brown, Martin Rineer, George Gray, Charles Cramer, Jacob Shoof.

The accident was one of the most horrible in the history of Lancaster county. The victims were literally torn to pieces, hardly enough remaining of the bodies to make identification possible.

The cause of the explosion is not known. Two of the unidentified victims had just started to drive from the place with a load of dynamite. They had gone scarcely fifty feet when the plant blew up with a detonation that was plainly heard fifteen miles away. A great cloud of smoke covered the site of the factory and when it cleared away there was not a vestige of the horses, wagon or men. Fragments of human bodies were found hanging 45 feet 100 yards away.

Persons living near the factory began the work of rescue, but there were few in the place who had not been blown to atoms. The remains of these were gathered up and placed in soap boxes, identification being impossible. The injured, some of whom it is thought will die, were taken to their homes in the immediate vicinity. George and Benjamin Rineer, who were killed, were sons of Martin Rineer, one of the injured.

The plant consisted of a dozen buildings. All were blown to pieces except a remote structure in which seven girls were at work. The factory was owned by G. R. McAbee & Co. of Pittsburg, and manufactured explosives for use in the Pennsylvania railroad construction work.

The cause of the explosion is not known. Two of the unidentified victims had just started to drive from the place with a load of dynamite. They had gone scarcely fifty feet when the plant blew up with a detonation that was plainly heard fifteen miles away. A great cloud of smoke covered the site of the factory and when it cleared away there was not a vestige of the horses, wagon or men. Fragments of human bodies were found hanging 45 feet 100 yards away.

Persons living near the factory began the work of rescue, but there were few in the place who had not been blown to atoms. The remains of these were gathered up and placed in soap boxes, identification being impossible. The injured, some of whom it is thought will die, were taken to their homes in the immediate vicinity. George and Benjamin Rineer, who were killed, were sons of Martin Rineer, one of the injured.

The plant consisted of a dozen buildings. All were blown to pieces except a remote structure in which seven girls were at work. The factory was owned by G. R. McAbee & Co. of Pittsburg, and manufactured explosives for use in the Pennsylvania railroad construction work.

The cause of the explosion is not known. Two of the unidentified victims had just started to drive from the place with a load of dynamite. They had gone scarcely fifty feet when the plant blew up with a detonation that was plainly heard fifteen miles away. A great cloud of smoke covered the site of the factory and when it cleared away there was not a vestige of the horses, wagon or men. Fragments of human bodies were found hanging 45 feet 100 yards away.

Persons living near the factory began the work of rescue, but there were few in the place who had not been blown to atoms. The remains of these were gathered up and placed in soap boxes, identification being impossible. The injured, some of whom it is thought will die, were taken to their homes in the immediate vicinity. George and Benjamin Rineer, who were killed, were sons of Martin Rineer, one of the injured.

The plant consisted of a dozen buildings. All were blown to pieces except a remote structure in which seven girls were at work. The factory was owned by G. R. McAbee & Co. of Pittsburg, and manufactured explosives for use in the Pennsylvania railroad construction work.

The cause of the explosion is not known. Two of the unidentified victims had just started to drive from the place with a load of dynamite. They had gone scarcely fifty feet when the plant blew up with a detonation that was plainly heard fifteen miles away. A great cloud of smoke covered the site of the factory and when it cleared away there was not a vestige of the horses, wagon or men. Fragments of human bodies were found hanging 45 feet 100 yards away.

Persons living near the factory began the work of rescue, but there were few in the place who had not been blown to atoms. The remains of these were gathered up and placed in soap boxes, identification being impossible. The injured, some of whom it is thought will die, were taken to their homes in the immediate vicinity. George and Benjamin Rineer, who were killed, were sons of Martin Rineer, one of the injured.

The plant consisted of a dozen buildings. All were blown to pieces except a remote structure in which seven girls were at work. The factory was owned by G. R. McAbee & Co. of Pittsburg, and manufactured explosives for use in the Pennsylvania railroad construction work.

The cause of the explosion is not known. Two of the unidentified victims had just started to drive from the place with a load of dynamite. They had gone scarcely fifty feet when the plant blew up with a detonation that was plainly heard fifteen miles away. A great cloud of smoke covered the site of the factory and when it cleared away there was not a vestige of the horses, wagon or men. Fragments of human bodies were found hanging 45 feet 100 yards away.

Persons living near the factory began the work of rescue, but there were few in the place who had not been blown to atoms. The remains of these were gathered up and placed in soap boxes, identification being impossible. The injured, some of whom it is thought will die, were taken to their homes in the immediate vicinity. George and Benjamin Rineer, who were killed, were sons of Martin Rineer, one of the injured.

The plant consisted of a dozen buildings. All were blown to pieces except a remote structure in which seven girls were at work. The factory was owned by G. R. McAbee & Co. of Pittsburg, and manufactured explosives for use in the Pennsylvania railroad construction work.

The cause of the explosion is not known. Two of the unidentified victims had just started to drive from the place with a load of dynamite. They had gone scarcely fifty feet when the plant blew up with a detonation that was plainly heard fifteen miles away. A great cloud of smoke covered the site of the factory and when it cleared away there was not a vestige of the horses, wagon or men. Fragments of human bodies were found hanging 45 feet 100 yards away.

Persons living near the factory began the work of rescue, but there were few in the place who had not been blown to atoms. The remains of these were gathered up and placed in soap boxes, identification being impossible. The injured, some of whom it is thought will die, were taken to their homes in the immediate vicinity. George and Benjamin Rineer, who were killed, were sons of Martin Rineer, one of the injured.

The plant consisted of a dozen buildings. All were blown to pieces except a remote structure in which seven girls were at work. The factory was owned by G. R. McAbee & Co. of Pittsburg, and manufactured explosives for use in the Pennsylvania railroad construction work.

The cause of the explosion is not known. Two of the unidentified victims had just started to drive from the place with a load of dynamite. They had gone scarcely fifty feet when the plant blew up with a detonation that was plainly heard fifteen miles away. A great cloud of smoke covered the site of the factory and when it cleared away there was not a vestige of the horses, wagon or men. Fragments of human bodies were found hanging 45 feet 100 yards away.

Persons living near the factory began the work of rescue, but there were few in the place who had not been blown to atoms. The remains of these were gathered up and placed in soap boxes, identification being impossible. The injured, some of whom it is thought will die, were taken to their homes in the immediate vicinity. George and Benjamin Rineer, who were killed, were sons of Martin Rineer, one of the injured.

The plant consisted of a dozen buildings. All were blown to pieces except a remote structure in which seven girls were at work. The factory was owned by G. R. McAbee & Co. of Pittsburg, and manufactured explosives for use in the Pennsylvania railroad construction work.

The cause of the explosion is not known. Two of the unidentified victims had just started to drive from the place with a load of dynamite. They had gone scarcely fifty feet when the plant blew up with a detonation that was plainly heard fifteen miles away. A great cloud of smoke covered the site of the factory and when it cleared away there was not a vestige of the horses, wagon or men. Fragments of human bodies were found hanging 45 feet 100 yards away.

Persons living near the factory began the work of rescue, but there were few in the place who had not been blown to atoms. The remains of these were gathered up and placed in soap boxes, identification being impossible. The injured, some of whom it is thought will die, were taken to their homes in the immediate vicinity. George and Benjamin Rineer, who were killed, were sons of Martin Rineer, one of the injured.

The plant consisted of a dozen buildings. All were blown to pieces except a remote structure in which seven girls were at work. The factory was owned by G. R. McAbee & Co. of Pittsburg, and manufactured explosives for use in the Pennsylvania railroad construction work.

The cause of the explosion is not known. Two of the unidentified victims had just started to drive from the place with a load of dynamite. They had gone scarcely fifty feet when the plant blew up with a detonation that was plainly heard fifteen miles away. A great cloud of smoke covered the site of the factory and when it cleared away there was not a vestige of the horses, wagon or men. Fragments of human bodies were found hanging 45 feet 100 yards away.

Persons living near the factory began the work of rescue, but there were few in the place who had not been blown to atoms. The remains of these were gathered up and placed in soap boxes, identification being impossible. The injured, some of whom it is thought will die, were taken to their homes in the immediate vicinity. George and Benjamin Rineer, who were killed, were sons of Martin Rineer, one of the injured.

The plant consisted of a dozen buildings. All were blown to pieces except a remote structure in which seven girls were at work. The factory was owned by G. R. McAbee & Co. of Pittsburg, and manufactured explosives for use in the Pennsylvania railroad construction work.

The cause of the explosion is not known. Two of the unidentified victims had just started to drive from the place with a load of dynamite. They had gone scarcely fifty feet when the plant blew up with a detonation that was plainly heard fifteen miles away. A great cloud of smoke covered the site of the factory and when it cleared away there was not a vestige of the horses, wagon or men. Fragments of human bodies were found hanging 45 feet 100 yards away.

Persons living near the factory began the work of rescue, but there were few in the place who had not been blown to atoms. The remains of these were gathered up and placed in soap boxes, identification being impossible. The injured, some of whom it is thought will die, were taken to their homes in the immediate vicinity. George and Benjamin Rineer, who were killed, were sons of Martin Rineer, one of the injured.

YANKEE SHIP ON GUARD

Cruiser Marblehead Goes to Guatemala to Watch the Revolution.

WILL LOOK UP SHIP FLYING OLD GLORY

Vessel from United States Said to Have Loaded Guns and Men for the Revolutionary Party.

WASHINGTON, June 9.—Secrecy no longer surrounds the movements of the United States cruiser Marblehead which has sailed from Panama. At the request of the State department the Marblehead sailed for San Jose, Guatemala to investigate the movements of the American vessel Empire, which reported to have landed recruits from San Francisco and arms and ammunition for the use of the revolution against President Cabrerer.

Disquieting dispatches reached the State department today from Guatemala concerning the revolution. The enemies of the present administration are active in several parts of the republic, but it is impossible to discover the exact causes of the movement and the directing force.

Both the Salvadoran and Mexican borders have been lending support to the revolution and it is the desire of this government that the Marblehead shall find out exactly what the situation is and have care that there be no participation in the revolution by American vessels.

The vessel is a tug seventy feet in length and its normal crew numbers thirteen men.

Revolutionists Win Victory. MEXICO CITY, June 9.—Salvadoran advices today report a great victory for the revolutionists who repulsed a vigorous attack by government troops in southern Guatemala, though the government forces had artillery and kept up a terrific cannonading for six hours.

Under the leadership of General Toledo, the revolutionary forces fought desperately and as a result of their success there is great rejoicing in their camp.

President Cabrera's cabinet has resigned in a body and intense excitement prevails in Guatemala City, where it is believed the revolutionists are on their way to the capital and may reach there by Tuesday.

San Saves Mother from Drowning. SHERIDAN, Wyo., June 9.—(Special.)—Mrs. Ruth Conley, postmaster at Big Horn, had a narrow escape from drowning in Little Goose creek Friday. She had started to cross the stream on a foot bridge and when near the center became dizzy and fell in. Her cries attracted her son, who rushed to the river bank in time to see his mother sink a second time. The boy did not hesitate, but plunged into the turbulent waters, and getting hold of his drowning parent succeeded in holding her head above water until assistance arrived. Mrs. Conley was unconscious for more than an hour, but is now recovering.

Brazilian Ambassador to Leave. WASHINGTON, June 9.—Mr. Nabuco, the Brazilian ambassador, will sail from New York for Southampton on June 15. He will sail June 15 from Southampton for Rio Janeiro to attend the Pan-American conference.

Blackburn Succeeds German. WASHINGTON, June 9.—At a meeting of the democratic senators Senator Blackburn of Kentucky was elected chairman of the democratic conference, to succeed Senator German.

IN CAMP BY FORT NIOBRARA

Four Days' Reunion of North Nebraska Soldiers and Sailors.

VETERANS HEAR SPEECHES AND MUSIC

Attendance is Slim Because Few of the Old Boys Remain—Tents Are Furnished from the Fort.

VALENTINE, Neb., June 9.—(Special Telegram.)—Lest evening closed four days' exercises of the North Nebraska Grand Army of the Republic reunion, which was held at a grove within three miles of this place and within a mile of Fort Niobrara. Speeches were made by Department Commander J. R. Maxon, Hon. J. A. Douglas, of Bassett and Captain A. G. Fisher of Chadron. Each day's exercises were interspersed with music furnished by the Twenty-fifth infantry band of Fort Niobrara, that most contributing largely to the entertainment during the entire four days. The attendance was not particularly large, owing to the fact that the old soldiers are becoming painfully less, but those who attended enjoyed the reunion, and everything was done possible for the care and entertainment of the veterans.

Col. R. O. Adams. GRAND ISLAND, June 9.—(Special Telegram.)—R. O. Adams, until March of this year editor of the Grand Island Democrat, passed away at the Methodist hospital in Omaha. He was the organizer of the Western Bee, a fraternal insurance organization, and was its supreme president and its first deputy.

Thomas Emmett Dewey. TOPEKA, June 9.—Thomas Emmett Dewey, reporter of the Kansas supreme court, died suddenly of heart disease at his home here today, aged 46 years. He was born at Victor, N. Y.

General C. H. Alden. PASADENA, Cal., June 9.—Brigadier General Charles H. Alden, U. S. A., retired, died at his home here last night aged 70 years.

Wireless for San Francisco. SAN FRANCISCO, June 9.—A 25-foot mast has been erected on Russian Hill by a local wireless telegraph company. It will be used at a station in this city to relay with a branch of the same system in Colorado, connecting this coast with the east by wireless.

There was a young man of Wahoo, Whose eyesight was getting untrue—

He mistook trees for fences, Till he tried some new lenses "Toriscus"—they're bully ones too. —Isabelle Graham.

The principles upon which "Toriscus" lenses are made are acknowledged by scientists to be practical and correct.

"TORISCUS" LENSES ARE MADE AND SOLD ONLY BY COLUMBIA OPTICAL CO.

211 South Sixteenth Street, Omaha

ESTABLISHED IN 1888

Denver, Omaha, Kansas City, Salt Lake City, Dallas, Portland

Oxfords, Slippers, Sandals. We have good things to tell you about boys' and girls' shoes, things you ought to know of, if you appreciate good shoes. The shoes we offer for growing feet. Our stock rooms are full of just the shoes you want for summer; shoes that are selling rapidly to the most exacting will please you.

BEANSON & THORNE'S Lilliputian Bazaar OMAHA, NEB. SANDALS. Bare-foot sandals of tan willow calf, strong and durable, sizes 5 to 9 are 90c; 8 1/2 to 12, $1.00; 12 1/2 to 15, $1.10. BOYS' SPECIAL. Plain and fancy soft sole shoes of fine soft kid, various colors and combinations, and white, at 75c, 80c and 90c. Baby shoes and slippers with hard soles; in tan, black, red or white, and combinations, at $1.50, $1.95, $1.25 and $1.00.

Colombi Squire Turney.

COLUMBIA, Mo., June 8.—Colonel Squire Turney, who had been prominent in Missouri politics for nearly fifty years, dropped dead at his country home near Lexington, Ky., served in the Confederate Army, was many times elected to the Missouri legislature and was a brother-in-law of Senator Stone, who was reared under Colonel Turney's care.

Grand Island, June 9.—(Special Telegram.)

R. O. Adams, until March of this year editor of the Grand Island Democrat, passed away at the Methodist hospital in Omaha. He was the organizer of the Western Bee, a fraternal insurance organization, and was its supreme president and its first deputy.

Thomas Emmett Dewey.

TOPEKA, June 9.—Thomas Emmett Dewey, reporter of the Kansas supreme court, died suddenly of heart disease at his home here today, aged 46 years. He was born at Victor, N. Y.

General C. H. Alden.

PASADENA, Cal., June 9.—Brigadier General Charles H. Alden, U. S. A., retired, died at his home here last night aged 70 years.

Wireless for San Francisco.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 9.—A 25-foot mast has been erected on Russian Hill by a local wireless telegraph company. It will be used at a station in this city to relay with a branch of the same system in Colorado, connecting this coast with the east by wireless.

There was a young man of Wahoo, Whose eyesight was getting untrue—

He mistook trees for fences, Till he tried some new lenses "Toriscus"—they're bully ones too. —Isabelle Graham.

The principles upon which "Toriscus" lenses are made are acknowledged by scientists to be practical and correct.

"TORISCUS" LENSES ARE MADE AND SOLD ONLY BY COLUMBIA OPTICAL CO.

211 South Sixteenth Street, Omaha

ESTABLISHED IN 1888

Denver, Omaha, Kansas City, Salt Lake City, Dallas, Portland