MICKEY MAY TAKE HAND IN GAME

Governor Not Satisfied with Action of Subordinates and a General Cleanup in Possible.

(From a Staff Correspondent.) LINCOLN, June 17.-(Special.)-It is barely possible those state officers who desire a renomination at the hands of the republican party may have some hurdles to lump before they reach their goal. All is not peace and harmony at the statehouse by any means and it may be in coming down the home stretch Governor Mickey will take a hand in the game and throw a few rocks. The governor was by no means atiefied with the assessment of the Union Pacific and Northwestern railroads which he and Treasurer Mortensen tried in vain to have increased, and during the discussion of valuation of these roads he entered into

Then when the governor attempted to have Dr. Alden and Dr. Nicholson get out of the Norfolk asylum, charging them with being incompetent to run the institution as should be run, he did not receive the enuragement of Land Commissioner Eaton and Secretary of State Galusha. Mr. Mortensen, there seems little doubt, sympathises with the governor in his action, whether he believes Dr. Alden has allowed the attendants to be cruel to inmates or Attorney General Norris Brown, the other member of the board, has said little regarding his belief of the conduct of the institution and he has also failed to express

Now that the governor has waked up to the fact that his administration will be charged with everything done by the other state officers as well as by his own appointees, he may take it into his mind to nake a general cleaning up in order to leave as little ground as possible for criticiem to be made during the next campaign. Some time ago the governor made the statement that he did not want any of his appointees to ride on passes, as such acwas in opposition to the resolution of the republican state convention and contrary to his own action and wishes. After the statement was made there was a discreet silence among the appointees and so far as heard from the appointees of the governor are still using the pasteboards. though some of them are clamoring for the nomination of republican candidates who are opposed in every way to railroad domination of Nebraska politics. It is not impossible that the governor will, in the days come, decide these appointees of his are not consistent with his own attitude on the orporation question and he may decide not only to clean out the Norfolk asylum, but shake up other institutions and employed as well. And while he is going after his own immediate household of appointees he may also decide to say a few words about the nominees of the next republican convention. If the governor decides to do business along the lines some of his friends have suggested he might do, it is claimed he can deliver the goods.

Mortensen Urges Economy. While candidates for public offices are urging the people to participate in the primaries and caucuses at which are selected delegates to the state convention in order that the nominees on the republican state ticket will be men Wild are representatives of the people. State Treasurer Peter Mortensen is also anxious that the nomi-ness for the legislature be men who will ducing the state debt be kept up. By the first of January Mr. Mortensen expects to least $380,000 and it is his earnest desire that in making appropriations the next legislature will use good judgment so the effects of the present economical adminstration will not be lost. It is very probable the Kearney Normal school will want about $50,000 for new buildings, as it is desired by the officials of that institution to double its capacity The orthopedic hospital will doubtless come in with a request for a larger appropriation than last year and of course the Home for the Friendless will do the same thing. The Peru Normal school, it is said, will not ask for a very large appropriation, probably asking only what is necessary to pay running expenses, as it is now well provided with buildings. The Lincoln asylum may want an addition, though this has not been stated positively. At Norfolk a request may be filed for money with which to enlarge the capacity

It is the belief of the state treasurer, though, and of those who have kept in close touch with the state institutions thera will be little excuse for the legislature to appropriate large sums for new The university doubtless will want more money to pay running expenses, but the university will not need any new buildings at the hands of the next legislature.

Mr. Mortensen believes very little money should be appropriated for permanent improvements entalling great expense during the next four years and if the legislators follow his advice, Nebraska's state debt will dwindle during that time, to almest nothing.

On the other hand, it is recognized Nebraska needs a library building for the use of the state library, the legal department and the supreme court, and it may be possible, providing the requests of the state institutions are not too large an effort will be made this year to get such an appropriation through. A safe place for Nebraska's valuable library is urgent, and it may be the next legislature will be saked to appropriate money for the erection of a library building. Even with such, an appropriation there is little reason why the appropriation made by the last legislature should not be materially reduced.

As a result Colonel Maher is negotiating for the purchase of the boulevard in order to have a place in which to exercise his new ma-

For some time the police have been sug gesting Colonel Maher he should either get a chauffeur or keep his machine off the streets, but the incidents of yesterday capped the climax and Maher got his positive orders. For thirty minutes or more he had the O street motor line tied up and six cars puffing and groaning under heavy loads of passengers enroute to the circus were stopped on dead center. Colonel Maher was driving along O street, near Twenty-seventh, when he attempted to cross the car tracks at an angle and the machine stuck. Lincoln's street cars. as everyone knows, run in groups of three, probably to prevent holdups or to keep the crews from getting lonesome, but, anyhow, it was not long until two groups going in opposite directions were tied up as the front wheels of the machine were on one track and the bind

"One, two, three, skiddoo!" yelled the crowd on the first car. But the machine wouldn't skid, and on the third round the colonel merely slipped

For fully thirty minutes this was kept up until the passengers failed to see any fun in the performance and they helped push the car off the track.

When the car was finelly started it made a bee line for a house, the front porch of which runs clear out to the sidewalk. A woman with her daughters was on the porch and all made a hasty getaway into the front room. Maher stopped the machine after the front wheels had climbed onto the sidewalk. The woman seeing the car had stopped ventured to open the door a little and remark:

"I thought your machine was coming right into the house." "Madam, I assure you I thought the same thing," agreed the colonel. Colonel Maher then borrowed the woman's telephone and asked for a tug to haul him to town. A short time later the well known real estate-oil-gold-copper-political magnate was rushing through the streets, his great big touring car drawn by a little bit of a puffing automobile not two feet off the ground. It was then the police notified him to keep off the streets until he learns to run the thing. In the meantime Mrs. Maher is visiting in Kansas City until the colonel gets the automobile under complete control. Memorial services were held today by the members of the Independent Order of Odd Fellows, the Maccabees, the Red Men and Hen Hur fraternal orders. Services were held at the lodge rooms of each of the orders after which graves of deceased members were decorated with flowers.

> GAMES IN THE NATIONAL LEAGUE Cincinnati Shuts Out Brooklyn Three to Nothing.

to Nothing.

BROOKLYN, June 17.—Sunday base ball playing by professional teams was resumed nere today and Cincinnati defeated Brooklyn 3 to 6 after the police had made five arrests in order that a test case might be made in the courts. Those taken into custody were President Charles H. Ebbotts. Manager Patrick Donovan and Pitcher Eason of the Brooklyn club, Manager Edward Hanlon and Pitcher Fraser of the Cincinnati club. Eason had pitched but two balls to Fraser when a police captain and several detectives walked upon the field and made the arrests. The accused men were taken to a nearby police station and admitted to bail for a hearing before a police magistrate tomorrow morning. The game then proceeded without interruption. Fully 12,000 persons attended and practically all of them placed contributions in convenient boxes at the various entrances. It is upon the question as to whether or not these voluntary offerings constitute a subterfuge for paid admissions that the legality of Sunday ball playing in Brooklyn hangs. Scanlon finally pitched the game for Brooklyn today and Ewing was in the box for Cincinnati. Score:
