

AGAINST GOLF ON SUNDAY

Rev. J. W. Conley Says it Puts God's Sabbath on a Low Plane.

DAY MEANT FOR THE HIGHEST THINGS

Says People Who Thus Devote the Sabbath Are Ministering Only to Their Bodies, Neglecting Their Souls.

Sunday golf received another shot from the pulpit Sunday morning, this time from Rev. J. W. Conley, pastor of the First Baptist church.

"Ministering to the body they are, these people who stay away from church on the Sabbath and seek amusement," said Dr. Conley. "Recreation, they call it. If a man works hard all week what is the matter with going out on an excursion to the golf course that day? I'll tell you what's the matter—it is putting the Sabbath on a low plane, when God meant it for the very highest things."

"What is the harm in going to see a play on Sunday? If there is no harm in the theater, that does not give us the right to drag the high things of God to a low plane."

Dr. Conley was discoursing on the low ideals of the rich man in Luke, who wanted to build larger barns, quit work, eat, drink and be merry.

"He had no thought of his family," said the speaker. "The thought of the community, he was not the one to give to charity, to colleges and hospitals. He was like some men of these modern times, who, if they do go to church, grumble because the collection box is passed so many times and grumble about in proportion as they give little."

"I am glad to say that with all the faults of this age, the sentiment for helping others is growing everywhere. It is very popular now to fill at the rich. At the same time it is true that never before was there such a disposition among the rich to give to charitable, benevolent and educational institutions."

"This rich man was lazy, selfish, looking upon the gratification of the body as the chief end of existence. In few words, he had a low conception of life."

"Low ideals are responsible for the existence of the saloon. There is great need that the saloons be banished from the city, and that the need of high ideals, for with them universal saloons could not flourish."

"The educational institution which sends out young men and young women without installing high conceptions of life in their minds has failed."

LIFE AS THE SCHOOL FOR ALL

Subject Suggested to Dr. Clarke by the Commencement Time.

Rev. A. S. Clarke preached yesterday morning at Lowe Avenue Presbyterian church on the subject, "The School of Life," this topic being suggested by the closing of the schools last week. In substance he said:

"We call the close of school commencement. We often say we have finished their education. Often, that is true, but it ought not to be so. What is education?"

"Education means drawing or leading out. This is the prime end of the discipline of school and life. Man comes into life a bundle of possibilities. He is like the angel in the block of marble. Great responsibilities rest upon the sculptors, the parents and teachers. Self-realization is the aim of life. To prune or develop the latent powers is the aim of culture. It is a mistake to think that opportunity is all. We are apt to overemphasize environment and minimize heredity. Environment only modifies, but does not alter. It takes a man to grasp and use opportunity when it comes."

"Man is fourfold in nature, yet all are interlinked. The body is not to be despised. It is the temple of the Holy Ghost. In brain man differs from all other animals. We study many things for the sole purpose of developing it. The aesthetic, the study of the beautiful, harmony of form and sound, art and music, poetry and painting is important. Yet the crown of all is the spiritual, embracing the ethical."

"The home, with its mutual regard of parents and children, brothers and sisters, is important in the education of the youth. Here the foundation is laid during the first six years of life. But many valuable lessons are to be learned from school life. Here we learn obedience to authority. We find that nothing is right for us that does not bring to somebody else. We are especially weak in these things in these days. We now have independence run to seed. Personal initiative is all right, but we must learn that there are others to be considered. Here we learn lessons of relationships and rights of companions and friends. That connection of lessons is tasks is the secret of success. We find that these things are governed by law."

"In the finished product we have the full grown man into the measure of the stature of Christ. He is the ideal which God, the great school master, has set. To this end is all life, all lessons and all discipline."

CHILDREN'S DAY AT PEOPLE'S SERVICES GIVEN UP TO YOUNG FOLKS

Rev. Charles W. Savidge, pastor of the People's church, who was to have filled the pulpit Sunday morning, did not reach Omaha in time to do so. Mr. Savidge is working his way through the University of Chicago, where he has captured scholarships by excellence in scholarship. It was planned to have him make the address Children's day at the church, with the thought that an account of his experiences would prove inspiring to the young people. The services were in charge of Sunday School Superintendent Stegner and consisted of recitations by members of the classes. One of the features was a spirited reading by Mrs. Grace Whithead, who gave evidence of the possession of no small elocutionary talent.

City Comptroller C. O. Lobock, a former superintendent of the Sunday school, was called upon for a few remarks and responded by a short address to the children. He told them that adults profit by Sunday school work, for it is impossible to assist children without a reflective result of benefit. He held that one never grows too old for Sunday school work and declared he intended to be both a Sunday school pupil and teacher as long as he lived. He referred to a larger Sunday school in the life beyond, where personal worth is the price of admission.

YOUNG FOLKS HOLD SERVICES

Children Are Leaders at the First Congregational Sunday.

Sunday at the First Congregational church was designated as children's day and the church was filled with the children playing golf and their parents. The entire program was in charge of the Sunday school and the services were under the auspices of the school. The regular church choir assisted in the singing of the general hymns. The front part of the church was reserved for the youngsters of the Sunday school, whose number was augmented by the children of the Chapel of the Carpenter from the southern part of the city.

The church was beautifully decorated with plants in pots, which were distributed to the children. The pastor, Rev. H. C. Herling, presided over the services, which were of a most interesting character. The program consisted chiefly of songs and recitations by the little folks and was as follows:

Organ voluntary.....
Processional—Come Ye Children.....
Intermediate and Primary.....
Opening Hymn—Holy, Holy, Holy.....
Apostle's Creed.....
Hymn—When Morning Gilds the Skies.....
Responsive Reading.....
Prayer.....
Hymn—Once in David's Royal City.....
Recitation—The Birth of the Christ.....
Song—Birds Are Happy, So Are We.....
Recitation—The Birth of the Christ.....
Songs—Quotations from the Bible.....
"Beautiful Little Hands".....
"Jesus Hides His Face".....
Primary Department.....
Recitation—The Children's Part.....
Fleet Births Have Come Again.....
Fleet Births, Esther McCann.....
Recitation—Why We Like Children's Day.....
Mary, Helen Sandford.....
Song—Happy Little Workers.....
Recitation—The Reason.....
Margaret, Ruth Sandford.....
Harriet Sherman, Martha Milburn, Josephine Condon.....
Song—He Doth Love Us.....
Primary Department.....
Recitation—Sharing of the Feast.....
Signs, Walter Engler.....
Violin Solo.....
Recitation—The Queen's Gift.....
Alice Lead.....
Song—Just a Little Boy.....
Charlotte Rydman.....
Song—Be a Little Sunbeam.....
Offering for Congregational Sunday School and Publishing Society.....
Address.....
By the Choir.

RECENT IMPRESSIONS OF JAPAN

George F. Bidwell Tells of His Trip to the Far Country.

George F. Bidwell spoke last night at the First Presbyterian church on the impressions he formed during a journey of several weeks in Japan. His conclusions are that the Japanese are fully competent to take care of themselves and do not need foreign guardians.

"The Japanese are fully competent to take care of themselves and do not need foreign guardians," he said. "are as well built as any in the United States, and their bridges are as fine as we can build. Some of their finest public works were built back in the fifteenth century, before the discovery of America, and are as perfect today as they were then."

"The Japanese are fully competent to take care of themselves and do not need foreign guardians," he said. "are as well built as any in the United States, and their bridges are as fine as we can build. Some of their finest public works were built back in the fifteenth century, before the discovery of America, and are as perfect today as they were then."

"The Japanese are fully competent to take care of themselves and do not need foreign guardians," he said. "are as well built as any in the United States, and their bridges are as fine as we can build. Some of their finest public works were built back in the fifteenth century, before the discovery of America, and are as perfect today as they were then."

"The Japanese are fully competent to take care of themselves and do not need foreign guardians," he said. "are as well built as any in the United States, and their bridges are as fine as we can build. Some of their finest public works were built back in the fifteenth century, before the discovery of America, and are as perfect today as they were then."

"The Japanese are fully competent to take care of themselves and do not need foreign guardians," he said. "are as well built as any in the United States, and their bridges are as fine as we can build. Some of their finest public works were built back in the fifteenth century, before the discovery of America, and are as perfect today as they were then."

"The Japanese are fully competent to take care of themselves and do not need foreign guardians," he said. "are as well built as any in the United States, and their bridges are as fine as we can build. Some of their finest public works were built back in the fifteenth century, before the discovery of America, and are as perfect today as they were then."

"The Japanese are fully competent to take care of themselves and do not need foreign guardians," he said. "are as well built as any in the United States, and their bridges are as fine as we can build. Some of their finest public works were built back in the fifteenth century, before the discovery of America, and are as perfect today as they were then."

"The Japanese are fully competent to take care of themselves and do not need foreign guardians," he said. "are as well built as any in the United States, and their bridges are as fine as we can build. Some of their finest public works were built back in the fifteenth century, before the discovery of America, and are as perfect today as they were then."

"The Japanese are fully competent to take care of themselves and do not need foreign guardians," he said. "are as well built as any in the United States, and their bridges are as fine as we can build. Some of their finest public works were built back in the fifteenth century, before the discovery of America, and are as perfect today as they were then."

"The Japanese are fully competent to take care of themselves and do not need foreign guardians," he said. "are as well built as any in the United States, and their bridges are as fine as we can build. Some of their finest public works were built back in the fifteenth century, before the discovery of America, and are as perfect today as they were then."

"The Japanese are fully competent to take care of themselves and do not need foreign guardians," he said. "are as well built as any in the United States, and their bridges are as fine as we can build. Some of their finest public works were built back in the fifteenth century, before the discovery of America, and are as perfect today as they were then."

"The Japanese are fully competent to take care of themselves and do not need foreign guardians," he said. "are as well built as any in the United States, and their bridges are as fine as we can build. Some of their finest public works were built back in the fifteenth century, before the discovery of America, and are as perfect today as they were then."

"The Japanese are fully competent to take care of themselves and do not need foreign guardians," he said. "are as well built as any in the United States, and their bridges are as fine as we can build. Some of their finest public works were built back in the fifteenth century, before the discovery of America, and are as perfect today as they were then."

JUDGE WOOLWORTH AT REST

Distinguished Man Buried with Simple Rites of Protestant Episcopal Church.

OLD FRIENDS AND ASSOCIATES ATTEND

Services Conducted by Episcopal Clergy at Trinity Cathedral and Body is Laid at Prospect Hill Cemetery.

The honors due a man who has lived well more than the allotted time for mortal life were accorded the memory of James Mills Woolworth yesterday afternoon, when public services were held by the local Episcopal clergy at Trinity cathedral, of which Judge Woolworth was a pillar, and the body of the prominent business man and churchman committed to rest in its last earthly resting place in Prospect Hill cemetery. The last rites included no eulogy nor other tokens of mere perfunctory words. The simple and dignified burial service of the Episcopal church, in consonance with the character and life of the deceased, sufficed to express the sorrow of the occasion.

Many of the city's leading citizens gathered at the cathedral at 4 p. m., when the service was begun. The funeral party from the Woolworth home, 231 St. Mary's avenue, was met at the church doors by the choir, cathedral chapter, cathedral vestry and clergy.

The regular Episcopal burial service was read, Dean Beecher of the cathedral reading the opening sentences, followed by Rev. John Williams of St. Barnabas' church and the choir in responsive psalms. Bishop Williams read the lesson and offered the closing prayer. The choir sang "Abide With Me," "Softly Now the Light of Day," and "For All Thy Saints, Who From Thy Labors Rest."

College Emblems in Evidence

The body rested in a black state casket on which were placed a large number of emblems representing the various institutions of higher learning which the deceased had attended. Mr. Woolworth was buried in one of his college gowns, and on the casket was a college cap and the red and gray hood of Trinity college, Toronto, from which institution he received the degree of doctor of civil law.

With the other tokens of his earlier life was the salmon and apple hood of his own college, Hamilton, where he received the degree of doctor of laws.

Apart from the other distinguished citizens at the services the following members of the bar sat as a delegation representing the Douglas County bar: J. H. Brown, H. B. Baird, E. W. Walker, George W. Deane, John L. Webster, George E. Pritchett, Isaac Congdon, T. J. Mahoney, Charles J. Greene, Myron Learned, J. C. Cowin, Warren Switzer, E. M. Morsman, Jr., William F. Gurley, William Baird and Robert W. Patrick.

Representing the Omaha Water company were A. Hunt, Stockton Heh, C. O. Dooley, F. R. Payne, F. L. Underwood and F. R. Underwood.

The pallbearers were: George W. Holdrege, Richard S. Hall, William A. Redick, William S. Foppleson, Alfred Millard, John W. Farny, James K. Chambers and Alvin F. Johnson.

As a recognition for faithful services covering a period of a quarter of a century at the Woolworth home, Anton Larsen touched the spring which released the coffin at the top of the grave. Mr. Larsen performed a similar service at the funeral of Mrs. Woolworth.

As everything was put in shape Sunday the parade will leave the grounds at 9 o'clock this morning and proceed over the Grand Trunk to the following performances: 2 and 4 sharp.

DIAMONDS—Edison, 16th and Harney.

SIX THOUSAND AT HANSCOM

Big Crowds Visit the Pretty Park and Listen to the Gretty Greys' Band.

Hanscom Park was the gathering place for over 6,000 people Sunday afternoon, attracted by the cool shade and the electric music of the Gretty Greys' band. The concert was enjoyed by all and "Aunt Jane" and several other numbers had to be repeated. "The Stars and Stripes," "The Patrol" and others met with rousing receptions.

THE MEXICAN BOMBERS

The Mexican bombers were badly scared as the Americans and dodged back, fearing the Americans. When the condition of the train was such that it was impossible to reply to the fire of the Mexicans he replied, "How could I when we were all under the sea?" A bullet came into the hospital, tore off the drain pipe and buried itself in the banister.

The next night was a repetition of the preceding one. We had guards out, but nothing disturbed. There was a hard fight of fighting, but it was down in the town and did not disturb us. Considerable revolutionary spirit was mixed up in the fray. Some of the men were some politicians in the United States.

The man who was in the hospital was the trouble, as the postmaster here is an American hater who does not care whether the Americans get their money or not.

The letter describes many amusing incidents in connection with the trouble. One was the shooting of a donkey in the dark. A noise was heard in a clump of trees near the mine entrance and many shots were fired during the night, and when the sun rose not a scratch was found on the donkey or any dead Mexicans.

When your eyes are dim, tongue coated, appetite poor, bowels constipated, Electric Bitters will cure you. 50 cents. For sale by Sherman & McConnell Drug Co.

NEW HOMES IN THE WEST

Shoshone Reservations to Be Opened to Settlement.

CHICAGO & NORTHWESTERN RY Announces Round-Trip Excursion Rates from All Points July 15 to 23.

Less than one fare for the round trip to Shoshone, Wyo., the reservation border. The only all-rail route to the reservation.

Dates of registration July 16 to 21 at Shoshone and Lander. Reached only by this line.

Write for pamphlets telling how to take one of these attractive hikes. For information, maps and pamphlets for request at City Office, 160-3 Farnam street.

Sunday at Lake Manawa.

Lake Manawa, a beautiful lake, is being developed as a resort for pleasure seekers. Every attraction did a rapidly business this morning, and the lake is being developed as a resort for pleasure seekers.

When your body is starving—robbed by indigestion—Dr. King's New Life Pills will relieve and cure. 25 cents. For sale by Sherman & McConnell Drug Co.

DIAMONDS—Fresner, 16th and Dodge sts.

PERSONAL PARAGRAPHS.

A. J. Kuhns of St. Paul, J. R. McDowell, R. L. McDowell and W. F. Wurth of Fairbury are at the Henasha.

Lenae Fair, May Fair of Denver, M. J. Cline of Gandy, F. D. Yeast of Hyannis and John McKee of North Platte are at the Murray.

Mr. and Mrs. L. G. Muller of San Francisco, George R. Deane of Denver, Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Harris, Miss Harris, Miss Frances Harris of Chadron and Charles S. Ash of Lathrop are at the Grand.

Harry Anderson of Grand Island, George F. Burr of Lincoln, George T. Hancock, George H. Barker of Madison, Wm. Gray, Mrs. G. L. Wolfe of Glenwood and E. E. Vanechuck of Bryant, S. D., are at the Millard.

A. D. Nicholson of St. Paul, C. R. Grape of St. Edward, G. G. Patton of Lincoln, Frank A. Basha of Dayton, C. B. Smith of Madison, J. V. Edwards of Hastings and D. H. Dunthill of Overton are at the Millard.

F. I. Love of Fort Collins, E. L. Bayre of Denver, John J. Mack of Seattle, Mr. and Mrs. V. L. Hawthorne of Walnut, George V. Arnes of Deadwood, Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Hansen of Laramie, John D. Walsh of Cheyenne, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Gray, E. K. Boyd of Salt Lake City, C. M. Grunthe of Kearney and E. E. Farnsworth of Grand Island are at the Paxton.

Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Lovell of Paxton, George H. Barker of Madison, Wm. Gray, Mrs. G. L. Wolfe of Glenwood and E. E. Vanechuck of Bryant, S. D., are at the Millard.

When your body is starving—robbed by indigestion—Dr. King's New Life Pills will relieve and cure. 25 cents. For sale by Sherman & McConnell Drug Co.

DRUGGIST IN BED FROM SHOT

R. L. Tinkham, Wounded by Holdup Men, Threatened with Abscess.

CLAIM STRONG AROUND ONE CAPTIVE

Police Are Weaving Web that Promises to Clench Identification of E. W. Lawrence as One of the Outlaws.

R. L. Tinkham, the druggist at Thirty-third and Cuming streets, who was shot Thursday evening by holdup men, is threatened with an abscess on his hip, which was struck by a bullet. Sunday morning Mr. Tinkham took to his bed and was attended by Dr. Jefferson.

The police are securing a chain of identification around E. W. Lawrence, who was arrested Friday afternoon by Detectives Mitchell and Shepherd at 94 North Twenty-eighth avenue. Lawrence answers the description of the taller of the two men who perpetrated the series of holdups Thursday evening.

Those who are quite positive in their identification are R. L. Tinkham, druggist; R. Gross, conductor on car ordered to move on at Thirty-third and Cuming streets; E. G. Campbell, A. O. Schroeder, Charles Walters and T. J. Cronin, the four young men who witnessed the drug holdup Thursday evening.

Miss Electa B. P. R. of the Motorcar F. E. Burke, Conductor B. C. Kirk, Charles Leslie, Carl Brandes, Frank Clements, H. W. Pope and I. W. Popk expressed themselves as reasonably certain regarding the identification of Lawrence. They all agreed the man answered the description, but were not sufficiently certain to make their evidence of much value. Lawrence maintains an alibi.

The police would like to have all parties riding on the car ordered to proceed at Thirty-third and Cuming streets or the car held up at Forty-first and Dodge streets to call at the police station and take a look at Lawrence.

Sunday morning Detectives Davis and Pattullo went to Council Bluffs and brought back Ed Greenlee, arrested Saturday evening by the Bluffs authorities on suspicion. In a general way Greenlee answers the description of the shorter man in the holdup. Greenlee is known to the Council Bluffs police as a pal of Lawrence's, but when brought to Omaha Greenlee denied any acquaintance with Lawrence. When the two were brought together in Omaha Lawrence immediately recognized Greenlee and winked.

Strength of the New York Life.

The special committee of the New York Life Insurance company, known as the "Fowler Committee," has received and presented to the board of trustees a balance sheet as of December 31, 1905, prepared by the chartered and certified public accountants employed some months ago. Messrs. Haskins & Sells, and Price, Waterhouse & Co. have verified the assets of the institution and made up its liabilities from independent sources and without relation to the statement presented by the company's president in January last.

After adding $1,200,000 additional reserve to the sum called for by the laws of the state of New York, they certify that they find a balance available for dividends and contingencies in excess of $4,000,000. This balance is larger than the one shown by the company in its last annual statement. The complete statement appears on another page and will be of great interest to New York Life policy holders and to those interested in life insurance.

One of the Longest Stretches of Double Track in the World

under construction is that of the Grand Trunk Railway System from Chicago to Montreal and to Niagara Falls. The Grand Trunk-Lehigh Valley Double Track Route via Niagara Falls reaches from Chicago to New York.

Descriptive literature, time tables, etc., will be mailed free on application to Geo. W. Nichols, P. O. Box 1, Grand Trunk Railway System, 135 Adams St., Chicago.

Gotham Idea.

"I see," said the New York publisher, "that a Chicago paper is going to send an alibi expedition to the north end of Omaha at the end of the month."

"I've thought of something better," replied the editor. "I'm preparing to send a relief expedition and scoop all the news."

See Want Ads for Business Boosters.

Civil Service Chances.

The United States Civil Service commission announces the following examinations to secure eligibles to fill existing vacancies:

June 27-28—For the position of topographic draftsman for the department of construction and engineering on the Isthmus of Panama at a salary of $100 or $125 a month. Age limit, 30 to 45 years.

July 1-2—For the position of pumping engineer in the quartermaster's department at large, Fort McPherson, Ga., at $1,200 per year. Age limit, 30 years or over.

July 11-12—For the positions of sixteen vacancies of surveyor at $1,400 per annum each, in the Philippine islands. Similar vacancies as they may occur in that service. Age limit, 18 to 40 years.

PART I.

March—The Omaha Horse Show.....Dalbey Selection from George M. Coban's "Lamentation, Jr.".....Cohan Poppies—A Japanese Romance.....Moret Leader Buck—A Reg. new.....Itiner

PART II.

March—Stars and Stripes.....Souza Greave—From a Twine Day to Twine Day.....Waltz—The First Violin.....Witt Overture—Celestial religious.....Prendyville

PART III.

Intermezzo Two Step—Aunt Jane.....Patrol—Blue and Gray.....Van Aelstine Hearts and Flowers—A Flower Song.....National Air Span and Banner.....

When your body is starving—robbed by indigestion—Dr. King's New Life Pills will relieve and cure. 25 cents. For sale by Sherman & McConnell Drug Co.

DIAMONDS—Fresner, 16th and Dodge sts.

PERSONAL PARAGRAPHS.

A. J. Kuhns of St. Paul, J. R. McDowell, R. L. McDowell and W. F. Wurth of Fairbury are at the Henasha.

Lenae Fair, May Fair of Denver, M. J. Cline of Gandy, F. D. Yeast of Hyannis and John McKee of North Platte are at the Murray.

Mr. and Mrs. L. G. Muller of San Francisco, George R. Deane of Denver, Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Harris, Miss Harris, Miss Frances Harris of Chadron and Charles S. Ash of Lathrop are at the Grand.

Harry Anderson of Grand Island, George F. Burr of Lincoln, George T. Hancock, George H. Barker of Madison, Wm. Gray, Mrs. G. L. Wolfe of Glenwood and E. E. Vanechuck of Bryant, S. D., are at the Millard.

A. D. Nicholson of St. Paul, C. R. Grape of St. Edward, G. G. Patton of Lincoln, Frank A. Basha of Dayton, C. B. Smith of Madison, J. V. Edwards of Hastings and D. H. Dunthill of Overton are at the Millard.

F. I. Love of Fort Collins, E. L. Bayre of Denver, John J. Mack of Seattle, Mr. and Mrs. V. L. Hawthorne of Walnut, George V. Arnes of Deadwood, Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Hansen of Laramie, John D. Walsh of Cheyenne, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Gray, E. K. Boyd of Salt Lake City, C. M. Grunthe of Kearney and E. E. Farnsworth of Grand Island are at the Paxton.

Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Lovell of Paxton, George H. Barker of Madison, Wm. Gray, Mrs. G. L. Wolfe of Glenwood and E. E. Vanechuck of Bryant, S. D., are at the Millard.

When your body is starving—robbed by indigestion—Dr. King's New Life Pills will relieve and cure. 25 cents. For sale by Sherman & McConnell Drug Co.

When your body is starving—robbed by indigestion—Dr. King's New Life Pills will relieve and cure. 25 cents. For sale by Sherman & McConnell Drug Co.

When your body is starving—robbed by indigestion—Dr. King's New Life Pills will relieve and cure. 25 cents. For sale by Sherman & McConnell Drug Co.

When your body is starving—robbed by indigestion—Dr. King's New Life Pills will relieve and cure. 25 cents. For sale by Sherman & McConnell Drug Co.

When your body is starving—robbed by indigestion—Dr. King's New Life Pills will relieve and cure. 25 cents. For sale by Sherman & McConnell Drug Co.

DRUGGIST IN BED FROM SHOT

R. L. Tinkham, Wounded by Holdup Men, Threatened with Abscess.

CLAIM STRONG AROUND ONE CAPTIVE

Police Are Weaving Web that Promises to Clench Identification of E. W. Lawrence as One of the Outlaws.

R. L. Tinkham, the druggist at Thirty-third and Cuming streets, who was shot Thursday evening by holdup men, is threatened with an abscess on his hip, which was struck by a bullet. Sunday morning Mr. Tinkham took to his bed and was attended by Dr. Jefferson.

The police are securing a chain of identification around E. W. Lawrence, who was arrested Friday afternoon by Detectives Mitchell and Shepherd at 94 North Twenty-eighth avenue. Lawrence answers the description of the taller of the two men who perpetrated the series of holdups Thursday evening.

Those who are quite positive in their identification are R. L. Tinkham, druggist; R. Gross, conductor on car ordered to move on at Thirty-third and Cuming streets; E. G. Campbell, A. O. Schroeder, Charles Walters and T. J. Cronin, the four young men who witnessed the drug holdup Thursday evening.

Miss Electa B. P. R. of the Motorcar F. E. Burke, Conductor B. C. Kirk, Charles Leslie, Carl Brandes, Frank Clements, H. W. Pope and I. W. Popk expressed themselves as reasonably certain regarding the identification of Lawrence. They all agreed the man answered the description, but were not sufficiently certain to make their evidence of much value. Lawrence maintains an alibi.

The police would like to have all parties riding on the car ordered to proceed at Thirty-third and Cuming streets or the car held up at Forty-first and Dodge streets to call at the police station and take a look at Lawrence.

Sunday morning Detectives Davis and Pattullo went to Council Bluffs and brought back Ed Greenlee, arrested Saturday evening by the Bluffs authorities on suspicion. In a general way Greenlee answers the description of the shorter man in the holdup. Greenlee is known to the Council Bluffs police as a pal of Lawrence's, but when brought to Omaha Greenlee denied any acquaintance with Lawrence. When the two were brought together in Omaha Lawrence immediately recognized Greenlee and winked.

Strength of the New York Life.

The special committee of the New York Life Insurance company, known as the "Fowler Committee," has received and presented to the board of trustees a balance sheet as of December 31, 1905, prepared by the chartered and certified public accountants employed some months ago. Messrs. Haskins & Sells, and Price, Waterhouse & Co. have verified the assets of the institution and made up its liabilities from independent sources and without relation to the statement presented by the company's president in January last.

After adding $1,200,000 additional reserve to the sum called for by the laws of the state of New York, they certify that they find a balance available for dividends and contingencies in excess of $4,000,000. This balance is larger than the one shown by the company in its last annual statement. The complete statement appears on another page and will be of great interest to New York Life policy holders and to those interested in life insurance.

One of the Longest Stretches of Double Track in the World