MRS. KAUFMAN BOUND OVER

Wife of Sioux Falls Brewer Must Face Court on Murder Charge.

TROUBLESOME TIME IN THE COURT ROOM

Riot Nearly Precipitated at Preliminary Examination of Woman Accused of Killing Hired Girl by Beating.

SIoux FALLS, S. D., June 20.—(Special Telegram.)—The concluding session in the preliminary examination of Mrs. Emma Kaufman, wife of a wealthy local brewer, held this forenoon resulted in the defendant being held to the state circuit court without bail, to answer to the charge of having murdered Miss Agnes Poirets, her 16-year-old domestic.

The forenoon session was a brief one. Mrs. Kaufman and her husband arrived at the court room at 10 o'clock. She was shortly after 10 o'clock. As soon as they had found seats, States Attorney Orr of this city, arose and asked that the defendant be committed to the custody of the sheriff, pending her trial at the next term of state circuit court. Mrs. Kaufman's attorney made no objection and the defense offered no testimony whatever.

It was expected that the attorney for the defense would make a motion for the dismissal of the case on the ground that murder had not been shown by the prosecution, but nothing of the kind was done. Beyond the brief motion of the state attorney and a few words spoken by Judge Wheelock, nothing further transpired. It is understood that later in the day a motion will be made before Judge Jones of the state circuit court asking that the defendant be admitted to bail pending her trial in the state circuit court.

Many in Court Room.

Brief as the preliminary hearing was, there was a number of sensational episodes immediately prior to and following the hearing. Notwithstanding that the hearing was not to be held until 10 o'clock, crowds began gathering in and around the court room as early as 8 o'clock. Before 9 o'clock available foot of space in the court room, in the doorways and in the hall adjoining it was packed with a dense mass of people, a great part of the crowd being composed of women, many in fashionable attire, society circles being well represented and some being her friends. When the carriage occupied by Mrs. Kaufman and her husband drove up in front of the court house the sidewalk was closely packed with a dense mass of humanity and it was with difficulty that policemen forced a passage through the crowd so Mr. and Mrs. Kaufman could make their way to the court room.

Defendant is Hissed.

While the party was crowding its way through the hallway to the court room Mrs. Kaufman was vigorously hissed at by the spectators, the hisses coming largely from the women in the crowd. Mrs. Kaufman is of dark complexion and, although she wore a veil, it could be seen that her face was as white as a sheet of paper. After being in the court room for a period of only a few minutes Mrs. Kaufman was again escorted to the sidewalk, but their carriage had not put in an appearance and after a painful wait of perhaps a minute or two herself, husband and others of the little party started across the street to a livery establishment, where they for a time sought refuge. The crowd packed closely about them and for a moment there were fears for Mrs. Kaufman's

SAFETY. Some few cries of "Lynch her!" were heard.

Mrs. Kaufmann Taken to Jail. After a conference between the attorneys it was decided that Mrs. Kaufmann should be taken to jail. It is probable that in view of the excited condition of the public, application for bail for Mrs. Kaufmann will not be made for a few days.

WORK FOR SUNDAY SCHOOLS

Over Three Hundred Attend State Convention at York.

MODEL SCHOOL ONE OF THE FEATURES

Men and Women of National Reputation in that Line Taking Part in the Exercises Each Day.

YORK, Neb., June 20.—(Special.)—The primary school of instruction planned and executed by Miss Mamie Haines of Lincoln, state superintendent of public work, was successful and satisfactory in every respect. It was in session all day Tuesday.

Mrs. Walker of Denver, international superintendent of primary work, assisted very materially all through the day. Rev. Enslow of Kearney presented the subject of "Having the Boy"; Miss Alice Boone of Lincoln, "First Step to Success in Primary Work"; being a consecrated Christian, Miss Grace Clark of Lincoln, "What Shall We Teach in Elementary Grades?" and was followed by Mrs. Walker on "How Shall We Teach?"

All subjects were given in a very helpful, practical way. The organized work was taken up in sections. The beginners—the children from 5 to 6 years old—was presented by Mrs. Frank Warner of Syracuse, telling how to teach the tiny tots. The primary proper was told of its organization, the lesson and supplemental work, by Mrs. Pope of Grand Island. The junior section was presided over by Mrs. Walker. After the junior work was explained a class was graduated from this just as it should be done in different Sunday schools. Miss George Gontley, head teacher of the York schools, had prepared fourteen children for this exercise and diplomas were presented them for successful completion of three years' course of study in supplemental work.

After dinner school was resumed, with Miss Haines presiding. The program was carried out as follows: "Special Days in Primary"; Omaha union; "Work of County Primary Superintendents"; Mrs. Follmer of Lincoln; "Primary Teacher's Preparation," Mrs. Walker.

Rev. Charles Ray of Alliance gave an interesting talk on "Mothers' Meetings" and told of the north alliance cradle roll in the United States, which is at Alliance, Neb.

A mothers' meeting was conducted by Miss Haines, addressed by Mrs. Walker. The church was crowded, there being about 60 people.

After the mothers' meeting the convention divided into sections and model schools were held.

The assignment committee worked tirelessly that all might be cared for promptly. The committee is composed of Mrs. E. H. Hancock, Mrs. E. Wightman and Miss Georgene Gontley. Tuesday evening 210 delegates were enrolled.

The Nebraska State Sunday school convention opened Tuesday evening with an excellent program. The program was presided over by George G. Wallace of Omaha, chairman of the executive committee. Rev. Clarence Weyer of Fremont gave the address of the evening on the subject of "The Debt of the Church to the Sunday School."

JESSE HEADLEY HELD FOR MURDER

YOUNGER BROTHER IS DISCHARGED ON MOTION OF COUNTY ATTORNEY.

TEKAMAH, Neb., June 20.—(Special.)—The court room was crowded to its utmost capacity this morning with spectators, mostly from Craig and vicinity, who are here to attend the preliminary trial of Jesse Headley, charged with the murder of his father, Jacob Headley, who was found in Bell creek on the morning of June 9 in such a condition that identification was impossible except by the clothing on the dead man.

All of the evidence taken in the forenoon pertained to the finding and identification of the dead man by the principal witnesses being Coroner Sward, Dr. Clark and Robert Adams, who first found the body. Dr. Sward testified that he first saw the body of the dead man about 10 a. m. on the morning of June 9 and that it was hanging to the top of the left shoulder of the coat. His legs and trunk were partly out of the water but the head was completely submerged. He further testified that the flesh had been eaten off the face, and the hair was gone. The skull was cracked across the top and when it was being raised out of the water it opened like a pair of huge jaws. Witness said he severed the skull from the body, took it home with him and after leaving it in a strong solution of formaldehyde for a week returned to his home and saw the body. A positive death was caused by shooting, he found several indentations in the skull, which could only be caused by small shot.

Mrs. Headley was the next witness and testified that the clothing found on the dead man was that of her husband. She also said that on her return from the field at Bertha, Neb., Jesse told her that his father had gone to Tekamah.

Noah Headley said that he was in the field harvesting on the morning of May 15, and between 8 and 9 o'clock he heard a noise in the direction of the house that sounded like a shotgun, and that it was about 11 o'clock before Jesse came into the field to work.

Joseph Johnson, a neighbor, also testified about the same thing regarding the report of the shotgun.

A recess was then taken for dinner. Dr. Clark was the first witness called after dinner and was asked if, in his opinion, the wound the dead man received through the forehead, which was probably two feet, as the shot all seemed to hit in one place; but on cross-examination the witness said he was not a shotgun expert and did not know the difference between a straight bore gun and one with a full choke.

Victor Johnson testified that he was harvesting in a field about eighty rods from the Headley house on the morning of the 15th of May, and that he saw a person leave the house at 11 o'clock and was in the field next to where he was. The party was pushing a two-wheeled cart, about four feet long, south toward Bell creek. On cross-examination witness said he had known the defendant for about a year for the past three years, but could not swear positively whether it was Jesse or Noah, as they were such about one-fourth of a mile away from him.

Sheriff Phillips was placed on the stand and testified that he had examined the body and asked to see the clothing found on the defendant, the county attorney and himself at the county jail on the morning of June 10, or the next day after the defendant was arrested.

Sheriff Phillips said: "When he was asked how he got the body in the creek he said he rolled it out of the wagon into the creek; when asked why he did it he said he did not know; when asked if he did it with a shotgun he said he did it with a double-barrel, but he only fired one shot." The defense and the state both waived argument and Judge Hasler bound the defendant, Jesse Headley, over to the district court and to be placed in the county jail, without bail, to answer to the charge of murder in the first degree.

The sheriff has in his possession a box about four feet long and two feet wide, which has spots of blood on it, that was found at the Headley residence, and is supposed to be the box that was used on the cart to take the body of the dead man from his home to Bell creek, about three-fourths of a mile. This box was not used in the preliminary examination, but probably will be introduced as evidence at the trial in the district court.
