NEWS FOR THE ARMY

Leave of absence has been granted First Lieutenant T. B. Taylor, Eleventh cavalry, Fort Leavenworth, for one month.

Brigadier General T. J. Wint, commanding the Department of the Missouri, will leave for Jefferson barracks, Missouri, Saturday evening for the annual inspection of that rendezvous.

A telegram was received from the quartermaster general at Washington Saturday morning by Major M. Gray Zaleski, chief quartermaster Department of the Missouri, announcing that the contracts for the new $25,000 post exchange building at Fort Omaha had been let to Omaha bidders.

Peter Roehrig gets the contract proper for the building of the roadways and sidewalks have not yet been received from Washington. The award of the contracts for transporting the Twenty-fifth infantry from Fort Niobrara to the Department of Texas has not yet been decided upon. It is expected that these awards will be made about Monday.

George T. Hall from New York, is at the Karbach hotel and expects to remain in the city for some time to look after his interests in the state adjacent to Omaha. Mr. Hall is particularly interested in the oil interests of Nebraska, along which line he is said to be an expert.

He was somewhat reluctant to make any statements with regard to the prospects for oil in the immediate neighborhood of Omaha, but was frank in saying he thought the prospects for oil were good, if not better, within nine miles of Omaha than they ever were in the state of Pennsylvania and Kansas, judging from a geological standpoint.

He said the reason why no wells had been successful thus far in this state was because none of them had been dug deep enough. He held it useless to sink a well just a few feet, without regard to the various strata struck. He regarded it as highly important that Mississippi limestone be reached before giving up the attempt, and that this could not be reached under less than 2,000 to 3,000 feet in this state.

The seepage here in the state is excellent, according to Mr. Hall, and he claims that if a good flow is struck near Omaha the city can be supplied with a good quality of fuel oil at the rate of 30 cents per barrel at a fair profit. In order to prove the surrounding districts he estimated that it would require an outlay of at least from $12,000 to $25,000. Of his plans and the purpose of his stay in this city, aside from looking at the situation more closely, Mr. Hall would not speak.

FENCES ARE COMING DOWN

Enclosures Around Cattlemen's Pastures Are Being Removed Since Order Was Issued.

Several of the United States secret service men who have recently returned from the cattle country report that the cattlemen are rapidly taking down their fences pursuant to the order of Judge Munger in the United States court. The fences around the Spade ranch are practically all down and the other fences are coming down as rapidly as men can be procured to remove them. There is a disposition all through the cattle country to comply with Judge Munger's order regarding fence removals about public lands.
