

BIG RECEPTION FOR BRYAN

Lincoln Business Men Plan to Make Non-partisan Demonstration.

DELEGATION EXPECTED FROM OMAHA

Mayor Brown Orders Citizens to Clean Up All Rubbish in Order to Prevent Fires from Use of "Firecrackers."

(From a Staff Correspondent.) LINCOLN, June 25.—(Special.)—Lincoln business men today held a meeting at the Commercial club rooms and decided to name an executive committee to extend an enthusiastic welcome to W. J. Bryan.

The motion to name the executive non-partisan in character and extensive in program was carried unanimously. A motion calling for the appointment of a committee of ten representative business men, with Mayor Brown as chairman and President J. E. Miller as a member, was also carried unanimously.

Some of the business men thought that the executive committee should consist of the directors of the Commercial club and the mayor and city council, but the smaller committee idea failed.

The mass meeting was called to order by President J. E. Miller of the Commercial club. F. E. Edgerton was elected secretary. In discussing the reception, Mayor Brown declared that he expected to see more people in Lincoln than have ever been here before.

"I was talking to Mayor Dahlman of Omaha recently and he told me that the metropolis will send railroads of Nebraska to Lincoln on the day of our reception. He said that the reception by Omaha will be but a local affair and will not interfere with that given in Lincoln in the least. In St. Louis the people told me that they considered the reception at Lincoln should rightfully be the greatest extended. They promised me that many visitors from Missouri would be here."

Mayor Brown said that Mr. Bryan would reach New York about August 25 and the time of his arrival in Lincoln will depend upon the number of receptions he has between that city and Lincoln. He thought the reception might well be held September 16.

"We ought to make this reception a great big affair," said George J. Woods, when called upon for an expression of opinion. "We ought to send invitations to people all over the country and they will come if they are invited, too. It doesn't make any difference about a man's political holdings in this affair. We give the reception because we know the man and we like him."

F. M. Hall, C. H. Rudge, M. W. Folsom, O. W. Webster, A. R. Talbot, W. E. Sharp and J. C. Seacrest also made short addresses. Several of the business men thought that it would be a good plan to hold the reception during fair week, but the majority opposed this.

Order to Clean Up. Mayor Brown has requested everybody in Lincoln to clean up the rubbish in their back yards, along the sidewalks and in their basements before the small boy starts in on his firecrackers July 4. Insurance Deputy Pierce has looked up the station and has found a greater majority of the fires started on July 4 in the cities have had their origin in the small firecracker. These small crackers are set off by the small boy out somewhere back of the barn or on the sidewalk near a basement window and the rest is easy. Only few of the fires are caused by the common error of the children who throw a majority of the deaths are caused by this noisy invention.

Adjutant General Culver received today a handsome gold-headed cane, the gift of members of the old First Wisconsin regiment of which the general was a member. Inscribed on the head of the cane is "Presented to Adjutant General J. H. Culver by F. C. Putnam, J. S. Greaser, H. Corby, Thomas Bryant, on his sixty-first birthday. First Wisconsin regiment, June 13, '02." General Culver entertained his comrades at a camping party at Milford on that date.

Hearing in Mathews Case. Dr. J. T. Mathews of Omaha had another inning before the board of secretaries of the board of health this afternoon in the case wherein the board recommended his certificate be revoked on the charge of having performed an illegal operation and most of the time was put in by John Yeiser, attorney for Mathews, demanding that certain records be brought in from the Bailey sanitarium upon which the board based their statements that Dr. Bailey was in Lincoln at about the time the operation on Edith Short was supposed to have been performed in Omaha.

The board refused Yeiser's request to have the record brought in and the attorney before the secretaries of the board Miss Shibley, a bookkeeper at the sanitarium, who swore Dr. Bailey was not in Omaha at the time in question. Dr. J. E. Summers testified Miss Short had come to his office and advised him of her condition and had told him she intended to have an operation performed. She had not asked him to perform the operation, he said, and

San Francisco Wants Clothing. Governor Mickey has received the following letter from the San Francisco relief and clothing distribution committee:

We received today at our station for the distribution of clothing to the refugees from San Francisco one large case of clothing. There has been a great demand, more than we could supply. Just such articles as your box contained. Underclothing for children, especially stockings, are much needed. Infants' clothing is also always wanted; girls' dresses, in fact, your entire contribution was greatly appreciated by the women at the relief station and will be even more so when it is given to the poor refugees living among us.

They are becoming better acquainted with their needs, for we have visiting committees who go among them to learn their needs, and we are prepared to air them to regain their work and establish once more their homes, but it will take time and help will long be needed.

Your generous supply of clothing is appreciated in the name of the refugees. We thank you heartily for your donation.

NORTH NEBRASKA GETS GOOD RAIN

Needed at Some Points and Comes Handy at All.

NORFOLK, Neb., June 25.—(Special Telegram.)—An inch of rain fell over all northern Nebraska. In Boyd county moisture was badly needed, and crops now have magnificent prospects.

WEST POINT, Neb., June 25.—(Special.)—The few cloudy days closing the week were followed by another heavy rain last night, thoroughly soaking the soil and effectually precluding the fear of drought. The nights are extremely cool, too much so for corn, but in spite of this drawback the corn is growing apace, being of a splendid color and strong stand. Potatoes are filling out in great shape and yielding well. Some fields of rye and early oats are very nearly ready to cut with prospects of more than an average yield. Pastures have materially revived.

ST. PAUL, Neb., June 25.—(Special.)—A fine, gentle shower fell here this afternoon. The precipitation amounted to .70 of an inch and was gladly received.

TABLE ROCK, Neb., June 25.—(Special.)—The recent showers have been of great value to all kinds of crops. Corn is growing nicely and the ground is in fine condition. Cherries are more abundant than for several years. Prospects are good for a fine crop of potatoes. Wheat, oats and rye are fine and the work of harvesting has already begun in some of the most of the crop will be in the shock before the close of the week. Timothy hay will likely be scarce for several years.

REPUBLICAN CITY, Neb., June 25.—(Special.)—It commenced to rain here on Saturday evening and continued until Sunday morning. The rain was not very heavy, but better if it had been ordered by an expert rainmaker. It seemed to be general all over this part of the Republican valley. At least 1.5 inches fell, which will be a great help to the growing crops.

HARVARD, Neb., June 25.—(Special.)—There was another fine, slow rain amounting to one inch during the last forty-eight hours, most of which fell Sunday afternoon. All crop conditions are first-class and a large wheat crop now seems assured, as the only thing to prevent would be a destructive storm of some kind. Some wheat will be cut the last of the week.

Much Interest in Surveys. FREMONT, Neb., June 25.—(Special.)—Fremont people are taking much interest in the railroad surveys being made northwest of the city. The line runs strikes into the bluffs about two miles west and north of Leavitt. It passes the sugar factory about a mile to the north and about a mile west. Surveys were made for side-tracks, which would indicate the location of a town there. A Caterell township farmer, who was formerly a civil engineer and familiar by experience with railroad work, says that the work is being done very thoroughly and that it is not preliminary, but final work. The survey has progressed some distance into the bluffs and the line is a straight one from the northwest part of the city.

DOANE COLLEGE COMMENCEMENT

Former Nebraskan Preaches Baccalaureate Sermon.

CRETE, Neb., June 25.—(Special.)—Prof. Jellison's German and elocution classes gave an extremely interesting program at the college chapel this morning. The recital consisted of declamations in both German and English, singing and scenes from "Minna von Barheim." The performance was excellent on its own merits and showed commendable interest on the part of students and professor in their work.

Baccalaureate Sunday at Doane college was observed yesterday. The morning address was given by Rev. Howard MacAryal of Akron, O. Mr. MacAryal used to reside in Nebraska at Cambridge and later in Omaha. He said he owed very much to the discipline of those days much for him. He sees great changes in the state and great possibilities for the future. He paid a high compliment to the Christian college and its influence in the land. His sermon was upon "The Gospel, a Transforming Power in Character and Life," and he made a strong appeal to the seniors to remember that this is God's world and whatever they do they cannot get away from the fact that they belong to God. In the evening the address before the Christian association was made by Rev. Edwin Dean of Northfield, Minn. Mr. Dean is a graduate of Doane and was heartily welcomed back to his alma mater. He gave an excellent address upon "Unfinished Work, Motive for Service."

NORTH PLATTE—There are evidences that Lincoln county will be overrun with potatoes. A total of about forty-four of these animals were presented to the county clerk's office for certificates of ownership. Not a single one was paid by the county treasurer. The total number of scalps presented since June 1 is 218. The last year the county paid $2,500 as bounty on these animals and this year promises to exceed last. Lincoln is the big county in Nebraska in the number of coyotes, which are naturally the home of coyotes. It is seen almost impossible that 1,200 of these animals could be killed last year and still a sufficient number be left to produce a crop for the next year. Should the coyotes continue to increase there is danger that the payment of bounty on these animals will be discontinued.

HARTINGTON—An abstract of the assessor's returns of Cedar county shows the actual value of personal property as being $2,640,000, as compared with $1,850,000 in 1905 and $1,350,000 in 1904. WORLAND READY FOR CROWDS

New Burlington Terminal Making Great Preparations for Land Opening.

WILL ALSO HAIL END OF THE TRACK

Burlington is Building Twelve Thousand Feet a Day and Will Reach There Fourth of July.

C. F. Robertson, mayor of the new town of Worland, Wyo., said at Burlington head-quarters Monday perfecting plans for taking care of the large number of people expected at Worland to register for the Shoshone reservation lands, registration for which begins July 16 and closes July 21.

"The Burlington is laying track at the rate of 1,200 feet a day and will open the Worland and division point of the Burlington road's new extension into the Big Horn basin. It now has a population of about 500 people and is expected to grow rapidly with the incoming of the railroad. However, all of the wild and woolly west is missing; gambling has been suppressed, stringent municipal ordinances have been adopted and the officers of the town are determined that law and order shall prevail. Ample provisions will be made to feed and sleep the people who come to register, and to insure the comfort, safety and pleasure of all who go to Worland during the registration period and will furnish reliable information free to all inquiries.

"Worland will prove to be an interesting and instructive place at which to register, as the intending settler will pass through the famous Big Horn basin, up the valley to the Big Horn river, where may be seen the results of irrigation and the methods employed in the artificial application of water to the soil.

Large Crowds Expected. "The Shoshone reservation has been so extensively advertised for the last two years that large crowds are expected at Worland during the two weeks of registration. Of the 1,100,000 acres of land in the reservation to be thrown open for settlement between 300,000 and 600,000 acres are susceptible to irrigation. The state of Wyoming has gone to the expense of making surveys and maps, and the intending settler with a reliable map showing the location of lands in relation to a feasible plan of reclaiming the same. If there are 200,000 acres of land so situated, it means that 2,000 of those who register will be able to secure claims, which, when improved and placed under irrigation, will be worth $100 per acre, which means that each of those claims in a few years will be worth $10,000. Somebody gave out the statement a few days ago that the 'prize claim' would be worth $10,000, which at first thought would seem to be extravagant. But experience has proven that irrigated lands soon to be made will produce a net income justifying a valuation of $100 per acre. Instead of there being one 'prize claim' worth $10,000 to those who are willing to settle upon and improve these lands, there will be

SHOE WORKERS DROP UNION

Kirkendall's Employees Withdraw from the International Body.

RESULT OF PUT INSIDE THE UNION

Members in Revolt Assert that They Have Been Unjustly Treated by the Governing Body of Union.

One hundred and twenty-five boot and shoe workers, the total force in the factory of F. P. Kirkendall, have withdrawn from the Boot and Shoe Workers' union. At their request Mr. Kirkendall has returned his union stamp to the office of the International union at Boston.

"We are tired of the international and will have nothing more to do with it," said William McGill, spokesman for the Kirkendall employees. "We are sick of the union label on shoes and we will organize to fight it all over the United States. We have provided a fund for use in printing literature to send to the locals all over the country, advising them of our action and asking them to join us as we did."

Trouble has been brewing for some time, but it came to a head over the question of a delegate to the national convention of boot and shoe workers at Milwaukee. One of the national organizers was in town and according to Mr. McGill, by the help of the employees of the Regent shoe company, railroaded a measure through the union to send W. M. Lee, a Kirkendall employee, to the convention. The Kirkendall people protested the legality of the vote, but Lee had things his way and went. The next day Mr. Kirkendall's employees sent Mr. McGill to Milwaukee, and after a fight of two days he was expelled.

Employees Loyal to Kirkendall. About the same time Mr. Kirkendall had a letter from the international officers, threatening to take away his union stamp unless he complied with certain of their demands. The men, loyal to their employer to the last degree and angered by the treatment of their representative, drew

TRIBUTE TO MAYOR'S WIDOW

Engrossed and Framed Copy of Council's Resolution to Be Presented.

After three months delay a handsomely engrossed and framed copy of the resolutions adopted by the council after the death of Mayor Moore is to be presented to his widow. Mayor Clark Butler discovered that the resolutions had never been transmitted to any member of the family, as ordered by the council, owing to uncertainty whether they should go to the children of the late mayor or his widow. Apparently, rather than risk adjudicating the delicate problems presented, former City Clerk Elsbourn dodged. Not so Mr. Butler. He thinks the document should be handed to Mrs. Moore and is arranging to have this done.

Treating Wrong Disease.

Many times women call on their family physician, suffering, as they imagine, one from dyspepsia, another from heart disease, another from liver or kidney disease, another from nervous exhaustion or prostration, another with pain here and there, and in this way they all present themselves to the family physician, who, after a cursory examination, prescribes for each a different, or over-busy doctor, separate and distinct diseases, for which he, assuming them to be such, prescribes his pills and potions, and in this way he all only symptoms caused by some uterine disease. The physician, ignorant of the cause of suffering, encourages this practice until large bills are made. The suffering patient gets no better, but probably worse, by reason of the delay, wrong treatment and consequent complications. A proper medicine like Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, directed to the cause would have entirely removed the disease, thereby dispelling all those distressing symptoms, and instituting comfort instead of prolonged misery. It has been well said, that "a disease known is half cured."

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is a scientific medicine, carefully devised by an experienced and skillful physician, and adapted to woman's delicate system. It is made of native medicinal roots and is perfectly harmless in its effects in any condition of the system. As a powerful invigorating tonic "Favorite Prescription" imparts strength to the whole system, and to the system of the weakly female in particular. For overworked, "worn-out," run-down, or debilitated teachers, milliners, dressmakers, seamstresses, "shop girls," house-keepers, nursing mothers, and feeble women generally, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the greatest earthly boon, being equalled as an appetizing cordial and restorative tonic.

As a soothing and strengthening nerve "Favorite Prescription" is unequalled and is invaluable in allaying and subduing nervous excitability, irritability, nervous exhaustion, nervous prostration, neuritis, hysteria, spasms, chorea, St. Vitus's dance, and other distressing nervous symptoms, especially attendant upon functional and organic diseases of the uterus. It induces refreshing sleep and relieves mental anxiety and despondency. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets invigorates the stomach, liver and bowels. One to three a day. May be taken as candy.
