CATTLE RAISERS AFTER NEW MARKETS

EWISH CUSTOM SET UP AS EXAMPLE

Promoter Says that There Would Be Less Disease if Ordinances of Moses Were Observed in Abattoirs.

DUBLIN, June 30.—(Special Cablegram to The Bee.)—Dr. E. J. Timmins of Boston, one of the leading Irish Americans, is visiting his native place, Newtown Outier, Fermanagh. In a recent interview Dr. Timmins said that the league had made great progress in America since Mr. Devlin's visit and it was now firmly established. He might say, in every state in the union. Practically the head was in Boston, where almost the whole city might be regarded as a branch of the league. They had the national secretary and the national treasurer—Mr. John O'Callaghan and Mr. Thomas B. Fitzpatrick, the latter one of the leading merchants, not of Boston alone, but of America. John O'Callaghan, he said, is one of the best posted men on the Irish question in America.

The convention will take place in Philadelphia, and probably in October. "We expect Mr. John Redmond over to join Mr. Devlin at it," said Dr. Timmins. "Mr. Devlin's program is to return from Australia through America."

Discourages Emigration.

"You ask how do the Irish get on in America. That touches the question of emigration. Personally, I have done everything I could to discourage emigration. Many of our people succeeded in making a living there—a few of them rich. But the majority of them, and then their lives are of extreme misery. Mr. John Redmond in his speech some time ago dealt with this question, and I agree with every word that the chairman of the Irish party has said. Substantially he has it down that the poorest laborer in Ireland was better off than the best laborer in America."

Irish After Meat Trade.

Mr. Ellis Lever, who originated the Royal Jubilee exhibition of 1887 in the city of Manchester, and is now on a tour in Ireland, has just made the admirable and timely suggestion that Irish cattle raisers, dealers and butchers should "bring up" to the grand opportunity afforded them of capturing for the benefit of Ireland the live and dead meat trade which Chicago and other American cities have enjoyed for more than a quarter of a century. Mr. Lever sees no reason why every large town in Ireland should not have its public slaughter houses with official inspection of the living and slaughtered animals. If the same precautions in regard to cleanliness, sanitation and freedom from disease in animals before and after being slaughtered were taken, as are observed in the United States, there would be fewer cases of blood poisoning, cancer, consumption, tumor, etc., than now, unfortunately, prevails.

New Route to England.

A new route from England to Ireland via Fishguard is to be opened in August. No one who visits Fishguard bay can fail to be struck with the magnitude of the achievement which has been accomplished. At a spot where the sea only a few years ago washed against the sides of hills, rising abruptly to an elevation of 250 feet, there has been created an entirely new port, on an area of twenty-seven acres of land, with a present width in parts of 200 feet from the sea wall.

The action of the Great Western Railway company in regard to these costly works has been criticized on the ground that there is not likely to be any substantial increase in their Irish business as would yield an adequate return on so heavy an outlay. But the Great Western Railway company is aiming at something more than the further idea that Fishguard harbor should eventually serve the same purpose as a "port of call," or otherwise via St. George's channel that Plymouth does in the English channel. They hold that liners from Canada, the United States, South America, Australia and eastern ports, bound for Liverpool or Glasgow, would find it to their advantage to call at Fishguard, just as those for London or continental ports may now call at Plymouth. Travelers by the new route to Ireland will be able to leave Paddington after breakfast and reach the piers of Killybegs the same night.

POETS ARE PUT ON THE RACK

Professors of Literature at Glasgow Says They Should Not Run at Large.

GLASGOW, June 30.—(Special Cablegram to The Bee.)—The poet at large in the community is worse than a lion in the street, said Prof. Macmillan Dixon, professor of English language and literature at Glasgow university, in the course of a lecture delivered at the Royal institution. "He disregards convention and overlooks custom; he derides respectability; he despises the law; he is not afraid of the police; he appears to have had a leaning toward polygamy. Burns, Byron and Shelley were reckless of social order. For these things society is not yet prepared; perhaps it may never be prepared, and it is therefore, perhaps, justified in declining to accept the poet as a law giver."

DEPUTIES' SALARIES ATTACHED

Novel Condition of Nearly Two Hundred Members of the Hungarian Parliament.

BUDAPEST, June 30.—(Special Cablegram to The Bee.)—One hundred and seventy-two deputies in the new Hungarian Parliament have had their pay attached by creditors. In thirteen cases this was for debts incurred during the elections, in twenty cases for gambling debts, twenty-six deputies had left their wives or children without means and had to pay alimony out of their pay. While money due on promissory notes was the ground of the attachment in sixty-two

PONTIFICAL SHUNS MEDICINE

Gives Account of His Gout and Dislikes to Take Internal Remedies.

ROME, June 30.—(Special Cablegram to The Bee.)—An Italian prelate gives the following account of the pope's own statement to him respecting his health: "I have had the first symptoms of gout about fourteen months ago. One evening I felt generally indisposed and had pains in two toes of the left foot. I did not pay much attention to it, but next day the whole foot was affected and I was obliged to give up walking. For a few days I was forced to keep my feet in a bath of water. My doctor told me that it was a case of gout. His treatment consisted in checking it. On the 15th the progress was affected. The gout was very acute, and I became very anxious, as the prospect of being unable to move is anything but pleasant. These attacks have returned several times since, and almost always at the most inopportune moment, when I most needed my strength. Happily, but after all, what can you expect beyond the knee for if they had risen any higher—"

The Italian prelate suggested that the pope should try some of the remedies for gout, and particularly certain German pills which have a great reputation. Pius X. replied: "Caro mio, doctors and medicines which are said to be infallible have been recommended to me on all sides. I am always grateful to those who are inspired by such good intentions, and also to the doctor. But, after all, what can you expect? Frictions are all very well, but as to the swallowing of drugs, that is a different matter. I arrange the bottles and pill boxes before me, and, after looking at them, I say to myself, 'These are the things which I ought to take.' But the idea of swallowing a pill, or of taking a medicine, does not come into my mind. I feel as if I had been cured. Bottles and boxes follow each other into the cupboard, which now contains a collection of the medicines of all countries."

LABOR CANDIDATE FEARED

British Conservatives Do Not Desire a General Election at Present Time.

LONDON, June 30.—(Special Cablegram to The Bee.)—The duke of Devonshire, addressing the Unionist Free Trade club yesterday, announced his belief that the views held by a majority of the supporters of the government on colonial questions, on the education question, the incidence of taxation and a great variety of social questions, would before very long produce friction and dissensions among the majority itself, and subsequently reaction of public opinion. At the same time he pointed out that this tendency would be retarded by the adoption of a constructive policy of fiscal reform, but he felt confident that a general election must occur in the not far distant future. One of his admirers, replying, called attention to a remarkable notice in the Standard, to the effect that the conservatives fear another general election and would not outvote the ministry if they could, because it is admitted on all sides that another general election would result in several hundred seats being carried to Parliament, and these new labor members would be a greater source of danger to conservatism, even if the conservatives should triumph, than the present liberal government.

LONGWORTH IN INSURANCE

Paris News Interesting Story of Future Course of Son-in-Law of President.

PARIS, June 30.—(Special Cablegram to The Bee.)—Word has reached here that Congressman Nicholas Longworth, husband of the daughter of President Roosevelt, has been picked as president of one of the city life insurance companies, which one is not known, but it is believed to be the New York Life, and that he does not contemplate standing for a reelection in the Cincinnati district this fall. It is known that since his arrival in Europe he has been constantly studying life insurance conditions and making inquiries regarding life insurance in general and government life insurance in particular. His inquiries are taken to indicate that he possesses more than a passing interest in the life insurance business. He is a member of a committee at the request of 50,000 policy holders in Ohio, but it is now known that the insurance company is not merely an academic or personal, but he is going into the matter with a thoroughness which puzzles life insurance people on this side of the water.

SEARCH OF SUNKEN SHIPS

Italian Firm Will Go After Treasures Claimed by Government of Greece.

MILAN, June 30.—(Special Cablegram to The Bee.)—A contract has been concluded between the Greek government and a Leghorn Divers' association famed for their skill for the recovery of seventy Turkish men-of-war sunk at Navarino by the combined English, French and Russian fleets during the famous battle of October, 1827. The Turkish ships were believed to be carrying a great deal of money. The contract also includes a search for the Roman galleys sunk between Cerigo and Candia while conveying art treasures carried off from Greece during the Latin conquests. The exact spot where these galleys lie is already known, a Greek diver having lately brought up from those waters a beautiful Greek vase, which that government purchased for $50,000. The Leghorn divers will leave for Navarino at once.

LEOPOLD CLAIMS CONGO STATE

King of Belgium Says Atrocities Are Inseparable from All Human Work.

BRUSSELS, June 30.—(Special Cablegram to The Bee.)—King Leopold sets forth his personal claims to the Congo Free State in two letters just published in the "Official Bulletin." His majesty then comments on the atrocities which have taken place, which he says are inseparable from all human work. Administration must protect the natives, but cannot forget the rights of the whites. The state must be developed by railways and other means, and for this purpose bonds will be placed as necessary arises. "Sleeping sickness must be stamped out," writes his majesty, "and for the investigation necessary I will sign a credit for $500,000. A prize of $100,000 also awaits the man who succeeds in doing this."

TOKIO DISLIKES UNL RECENT REPORT

Statement that American Legation Guard at Peking is to Be Doubled Does Not Please Islanders.

TOKIO, June 30.—(Special Cablegram to The Bee.)—Reports that the 100 marines who are now guarding the American legation in Peking having nearly finished their term of enlistment, 200 American marines will be replaced by 200 fresh marines if the Chinese government can be induced to permit, are not meeting with favor here. The excuse that it was originally meant to furnish the Russian marines in Peking, but that the United States has heretofore not been in a position to spare so large a force from other duty does not deceive the Japanese and probably does not deceive the Chinese either. The Japanese are interested in the "Oriental" in fact, all nations accustomed to deal with the Russian government are accustomed to the hidden meanings in connection with this kind of diplomacy.

A former United States army officer who has been spending a great deal of time in China, and who is a European firm supplying arms and ammunition to the Japanese and the Chinese is authority for the statement that the world's next great war will take place in this part of the world. "There is no use of disguising the fact that there is a grave danger from the yellow peril," he said. "The Japanese, who possess minds more subtle than any other nation in the world, will not allow the outbreak to come until China and Japan are thoroughly armed and equipped. The Japanese expect to furnish the brains for the next fight, but they expect to make the Chinese do most of the drudgery. 'The orientals do not understand the occidentals and the people of the far east do not understand the people of the western world. This is all there is to it. And sooner or later these misunderstandings must blossom out into actual warfare. No diplomacy can avert it, for the popular pressure on the oriental governments will be so great that no oriental government can withstand it. The government of Japan itself could not have prevented the recent war with Russia. The people were bound to have the war, and although they worship the emperor, still he could not stop the war. Fears Japanese Soldiers. 'On the part of the Americans there is a complete misunderstanding as to the ability of the Japs. I have seen them fight in China and in Russia, and I can tell you that, while I would not be afraid to pit an American regiment against the crack regiments of France and Germany, I should be afraid of the Japanese. I believe they are as good as the British and Americans, and the Americans, man to man, though I suppose few Americans—few white men—can find willing to believe it. But if there are better soldiers than the Americans the Japs are those soldiers. 'On the Japanese side the people do not understand what the white races can really do when it comes to manning armies and navies. For instance, they figure it out this way: China has 400,000,000 of people; Japan has 40,000,000 people. The United States has 80,000,000 people. Japan can whip the United States five times as easily as it whipped China. Japan is whittier than the United States of Russia and Russia was the big policeman of Asia. The United States has only two-thirds of the population of Russia; therefore, Japan could whip the United States far easier than it whipped Russia. The educated people know something of the sky-scrapers—the big machines—factories and otherwise in America—but the rank and file do not understand it; will not try to understand it. War is coming and it is coming more quickly than most people imagine.' The Jiji Shimpo, in a Peking telegram, states that the British and American merchants at Shanghai and Tientsin contemplate taking united action against the Japanese military administration in Manchuria. While Japan ostensibly publishes the statement that Dalny is a free port, it is not yet open, even when it is opened it will only be open as far as goods concerned in the Liaoting peninsula are concerned."

NEW DEVICE FOR LIVE-FISH

German Firm Would Make Hauling of Sea Food by Rail Easier.

BERLIN, June 30.—(Special Cablegram to The Bee.)—Messrs. Siemens and Halske are constructing railway cars for the conveyance of live fish out of the Baltic. German chemical experts have discovered that fish remain alive in the air so long as their gills are damp and have invented compartments in which the fish are supplied with oxygen and moisture. Experiments have shown that fish can live in this manner for three or four days.

ARMY A BIG FACTOR IN SITUATION

Recurring Disaffection Convines His Majesty of Folly of Further Trying Temper of People.

ST. PETERSBURG, June 30.—The downfall of the Goremynkin ministry, whose attempts to bridge the chasm between the government and the Duma have resulted only in widening the breach, now is virtually an accomplished fact, if the statement of a grand duke can be accepted. According to this personage the final desperate effort of the faction, headed by Minister of Agriculture Shchegolev, which Finance Minister Kokovtsov and again recurred to repression, has failed. The recurring disaffection among the troops probably convinced his majesty of the folly of trying further to temper the feeling of the country. At any rate, according to the grand duke, the "reaction" has been taken to bow to Parliament, dismiss the ministry and make no attempt to impose a forced recess. The frank surrender of power into the hands of the constitutional democrats, which would mean nothing less than the inauguration of a real constitutional monarchy, would find the leaders of that party ready to undertake the fight against the rising trend of the revolutionists, but it is too much to expect the emperor and the court to make such abrupt capitulation. Czar Negotiates with Leaders. In spite of denials, negotiations between the constitutional democratic leaders and Emperor Nicholas have been secretly in progress for several days. But there is no reason to believe they have eventuated anything definite towards superseding the Goremynkin cabinet with a mixed ministry of constitutional democrats and October revolutionists elected from the council of the empire. Finance Minister Kokovtsov as premier. Such a cabinet, if it could be formed, might temporarily tide over the present crisis, but the divergent elements probably would be incapable of working in harmony and thus it would only postpone and not solve the great constitutional difficulty of forming a new cabinet. It is likely to take the announcement of Premier Goremynkin's retirement several days. Neither the press nor the public is aware of the decision at Peterhof. Earlier View of Situation. The constitutional democrats, as now known, the present deadlock between Parliament and the government can continue. Premier Goremynkin is no longer a factor in the situation, but some of his colleagues, headed by Minister of Agriculture Shchegolev, realize that the government has ceased to exist. The cabinet must fall, are earnestly advising the emperor to take the bull by the horns and dissolve Parliament. They have submitted a memorandum to the emperor, advising him to take this course on the ground that the Duma is a body and is simply the center of revolutionary agitation, and urging that immediate action is necessary. They contended that the army as a whole can still be relied upon.
