WORK OF CONGRESS PLEASES

Meat Inspection and Pure Food Laws Satisfy Packers and Jobbers.

BETTER OFF NOW THAN THEY WERE BEFORE

More Rigid the Inspection More Pleased Are the Manufacturers, Who Look for Great Public Benefit.

The meat inspection and pure food laws enacted by congress are satisfactory to the packers of South Omaha and wholesale grocers of Omaha, respectively. In both cases local dealers agree, coming out of the chaos of public clamor, partisan strife and private influence, brought forth a measure that promises adequate relief and mutual benefit to the dealers and public.

R. C. Howe, manager of Armour & Co.'s plant, said: "So far as I know the local packers are well pleased with the meat inspection bill. It looks like a rigid one from the number of inspectors provided. The more stringent the better. The government should pay for the inspection for several good reasons. The inspectors are responsible to the government for their services and should look to the government for their pay. If the packers paid, the cost of inspection would subject them to much criticism. It would be held that the inspectors were working in the interests of the packers. As it is they can take their orders from the government and be responsible to it alone."

Manager Murphy of Cudahy's packing plant expressed great satisfaction in the provisions of the meat inspection law. "It will have the effect," he declared, "of restoring the confidence of the people. Some measure of the kind was necessary. The more rigid the inspection the better for us. It is natural that we should favor the provision that the government pay the cost of inspection, but on the other hand, it is also human nature that an inspector should favor the company that pays him. We shall be glad to welcome all the inspectors who may be stationed in our plant."

No Fault to Find. Manager Culver of the Omaha plant simply emphasized the statements of the other managers in his expression of satisfaction.

"We have no fault to find. The agitation of the last few weeks required a stringent action to counteract its influence. This law will have the effect of restoring confidence. A short time now will bring back the normal conditions and in the end we are confident the market will be better than before. Whatever might be lost through any process of condemnation at the hands of the inspectors will soon be realized from the strengthening of the conditions of trade. We are expecting five or six new inspectors within a few days and we shall take pleasure in welcoming their advent. The fact that the government pays the inspectors will relieve us from a source of much caustic criticism, however unwarranted."

This attitude of the packers is a decided change from the manner in which they looked on the governmental inspection during the early years of its effect. According to Don C. Ayer, chief inspector, in the end of a number of the older men in the service, at that time they met with a vigorous daily tirade of abuse and opposition. As soon as the day's killing was over the inspector began to shake in his shoes, for at that time he had to pass on all the carcasses he had taken out. The managers and foremen of the plants gathered around ready to protest, not so much because of their knowledge but on the general principle that it paid to kick. "This kind of thing has long since ceased and when an inspector passes on a carcass his judgment is rarely questioned."

Dealers on Pure Food Law.

Omaha wholesale jobbers are expressing their satisfaction over the passage of the pure food bill. Protection of consumers against adulteration and the ultimate emancipation of the jobbers from the annoyance of the various state laws are the main reasons given for their good feeling.

"The principal consideration," said Edgar S. Allen of Allen Bros. company, "Government inspection will protect him against eating things represented to be what they are not. I do say, however, that there is far less adulteration of foods than the public is led to believe. In the respect, the manufacturers have been steadily growing better in the last few years, because the demand has been for high grade stuff, and the jobbers have been careful about getting it."

"I think the standard on food will ultimately be repeated, unless state inspectors have to be continued as firebrands for party political reasons," said J. S. Brady of the McCord-Brady company. "They have been very annoying to the jobbers. For instance, Nebraska does not pay a cent, but made no appropriation to pay an inspector's salary, which is derived from a 'license' paid by manufacturers and dealers in certain articles inspected. We pay the state food inspection bureau $30 a year license. Our competitors in Council Bluffs, Missouri City and St. Joseph do not pay a cent, and all the Nebraska inspectors do with their adulterated product is to order the retailer to send it back. Wyoming has a food law without an appropriation for salary. For two years the inspector didn't do anything, but the present incumbent of the office has hit upon a happy idea. He goes into a retail store, takes down a bottle of something or other and returns in a day or two to tell the dealer that it is adulterated. He says also that if the dealer will pay a fine of $25 he will be relieved of the embarrassment of having the matter taken before the attorney general. The dealer naturally agrees to pay the $25 and the jobber, having sold him the goods, foots the bill. I have a letter on my desk from a Wyoming dealer asking for $50 to pay a fine."

"I am glad to see that the bill has become a law. The government will be feared and the consumer will benefit by getting pure food. As it is, there is an enormous amount of adulteration. Most vanilla extract is not vanilla extract at all; there is scarcely a pound of pure cream of tartar in the city; 90 per cent of the olive oil in the retail stores is bogus. All this will be changed. The government will inspect everything that goes from one state to another, and there is scarcely anything manufactured for one state alone."

No Copy of Rate Law. The rate bill, which has become a law, is not commented on as yet by the railroad men of this city, as they have received no copy of the law, and all are uncertain as to its exact limitations. The Iowa legislature, however, passed a law which will go into effect July 4, which puts a limitation on passes to several classes of office holders. The text of the Iowa law is: By a statute enacted at the last session of the legislature of Iowa, it was provided that July 4, 1906, all railway companies are forbidden, under similar penalty, to issue any free pass, ticket or other privilege at a rate less than is charged the public to any person within the state of Iowa, including judges and members of the General Assembly of Iowa, and federal officers in Iowa.

Delegates to any political convention, traveling to or from such convention. Members and employees of any political committee. Candidates for any city, county, district, state or federal office. Jurors in state or federal courts. Persons within the stated classes are likewise forbidden, under similar penalty, to request or use a free pass, ticket or privilege granted at a less rate than is charged the public.

The statutory prohibition does not apply, however, to notaries public, persons holding an office that pays no fees or salary, officers or members of any board of directors of any educational institution, officers or directors of the Iowa National Guard or of any city fire department, or to the use of transportation in accompanying live stock, or perishable freight or using the return privilege given upon such shipments, or to riding or traveling in transportation upon a special train run for the public safety, health or welfare.

CROP AND SOIL IN WYOMING

Conditions Along the Burlington Show Ample Reason for General Rejoicing.

The Burlington crop and soil report for the Wyoming district for the week ending June 30 shows that the wheat division making good progress and heading nicely, the heads being well-filled. Harvesting will begin in a few days and the average yield will be fair. The oats crop has suffered considerably from drought and has a very poor prospect for a heavy yield. The last week was very favorable for corn on the Alliance division and is doing well. Potatoes are doing nicely and the rain of the last week insures a good crop. The first alfalfa crop was heavy.

On the Sheridan division wheat is growing fast and so far has had plenty of rain and unless it turns dry soon a good crop is insured. Winter wheat is just beginning to head out. Oats are growing fast, with prospects good for a heavy yield. The potato crop is doing well, with prospects for a heavy yield. Meadows and pastures are still in good condition and the grass is curing to an excellent condition.

The beet crop is doing fairly well, but is greatly in need of rain and will be rather short for binding. Corn is of a good color and stand, with very few weeds. Weather has been favorable during last week. A good crop is expected.

Potatoes are doing fine and a good crop is expected. Beets are doing very well, but on account of the heavy winds lately considerable replanting had to be done. The first crop of alfalfa has been cut, the yield being an average. The second crop is nicely started. The pastures over the entire division are in good condition.

Plenty of moisture during last week put the soil in first-class shape.

VINTON, THE MODEL SCHOOL

New Building is to Be Pattern in Point of Mechanical Construction.

The Board of Education is trying to make the new Vinton school a model for school house construction in Omaha. The building is to be patterned in point of mechanical construction. The new school structures and the building is to be patterned in point of mechanical construction. The effort is to take the best features of school houses here and elsewhere and combine them so as to form a standard. If the object is accomplished it is likely that future buildings will be reared from the same plans, which will become the property of the board. It is understood that Mrs. Clarke has some of the preliminary sketches about prepared. The board at its meeting last night opened bids for fuel, printing and other supplies for the next year.

F. C. ANTHONY DOES NO WRONG

Former Elevator Conductor at City Hall Exonerated by Mayor Dahlman.

"I think a decided injustice has been done to F. C. Anthony, a former elevator conductor at the city hall, by reports in some of the newspapers that he was caught stealing supplies from the city hall," said Mayor Dahlman. "As a matter of fact the city hall superintendent noticed Anthony leaving the building with a package under his arm and investigating the package he discovered a couple of rolls of toilet paper. The matter was immediately brought before me and Anthony explained that the stuff had been given him by a janitor, who said it had been thrown in a pile of rubbish. Mr. Anthony is a man of excellent reputation and I am satisfied that he was not involved in any real or contemplated theft."

DIAMONDS—Frenzer, 18th and Dodge sts

Field Club Tennis. Fast play was the order on the Field club courts last night. Four matches were finished, two of them taking an extra set to decide the winner. The match between Fred and Caldwell attracted the greatest crowd, young Potter taking the first set 6-2 and gave the veteran a bad scare.

Hughes beat Kohn more easily than was expected, as Kohn was picked as a likely winner of the tournament. The match is now down to five men and the finals will be played off Wednesday afternoon.

Rainey beat West, 4-2. A. C. Potter beat Neely, 5-2, 6-1, 6-4. Caldwell beat Fred, 2-6, 6-1, 6-2. Hughes beat Kohn, 6-3, 6-1. Play Tuesday will be: Neely against Rainey. Potter against Martin. Hughes against Caldwell.

Man and Wife Disturb the Peace in Two Languages.

BREAK LOOSE WITH THE COCK'S CROW For Disturbing the Slumbers of Law-Abiding Citizens at Such Unseemly Hours They Are Punished.

Edward Kirshoff of Ninth and Castellar streets was arraigned before the people's bar Monday morning on the charge of disturbing the peace at his home. The circumstances of Kirshoff's peace disturbance were unusual, in that he not only disturbed the peace at the unseemly hour of 5:30 a. m., but disturbed the peace in both the English and German languages. The police records show that most of the cases of disturbing the peace occur about candle light time, or after that hour, when the labor of the day is over and the dishes all washed. But Kirshoff was not at all conventional in his troublemaking; any old time for Kirshoff. Mrs. Kirshoff was also arrested with her valiant peace disturber. When both Kirshoffs got started their home sounded like the din of a nail factory filling rush orders for stricken San Francisco, neighbors declared. The appearance of the Kirshoffs in the police court Monday morning was not their first arraignment before the police magistrate. They were received with a "welcome home" sort of salutation. The husband was sentenced thirty days in the county jail, while the wife was fined $5 and costs.

Sergeant Hayes, Patrolman Heelan and others testified that the conduct of the Kirshoffs had been a disgrace to the south side for several months. J. P. Rahl testified regarding the German part of the case. He declared Mrs. Kirshoff could disturb the peace in German as well as in English. Mr. Rahl said Mrs. Kirshoff called his aged mother many vile names in German and even made faces in German. The worst part of the whole business was the testimony that the Kirshoffs began their daily disturbances at 5:30 a. m., even arousing patients at St. Joseph's hospital.

The Shoshone Reservation

AND Big Horn Basin

The Shoshone Reservation is a new empire about to be opened for development and trade. Besides 2,000 irrigable farms to be drawn for, there are 700,000 acres of mineral and timber lands to be taken up in the usual way. The whole Shoshone proposition deserves thoughtful consideration by those who desire a farm, or a mineral or a timber claim. Those who are fortunate in the drawing for agricultural lands are to pay only $1.50 an acre, one-third cash, subject, of course, to the future prorated cost of irrigation.

When you register, combine business with pleasure and instruction, and go to Worland, Wyo., for the registration. This is the terminus of the Burlington's new line through the Big Horn Basin along the Big Horn River, enroute to the Shoshone Reservation. You will enjoy the views of the Black Hills, the Big Horn Mountains, the Custer Battlefield, and the scenic canons of Big Horn River. You will pass through the new towns along the Worland extension, which offer splendid chances for moderate capital in the way of stores and industries, and you will pass through thousands of acres of perfectly irrigated farms, giving you an idea of the profits yielded annually from irrigated farming.

Less than half fare with a maximum excursion rate of but $20.00 from Nebraska territory. Send for Shoshone descriptive folder with map of the Reservation and the Big Horn Basin, rates, routes, train service, method of drawing, etc., free.
