

PREMIER OF NEW ZEALAND

Sir Joseph Ward, Postmaster General, Stops in Omaha Enroute Home.

DELEGATE TO POSTAL CONGRESS IN ROME

Stops in Washington, Where He Meets President Roosevelt and Becomes Deeply Impressed with American Government.

Sir Joseph Ward, premier and postmaster general of New Zealand, accompanied by his wife, daughter, a son and private secretary, passed through Omaha Monday morning on the Overland Limited on his way west across the continent from the International Postal congress at Rome, at which he headed the New Zealand delegation.

Sir Joseph had wired Edward Rosewater, asking him to meet him at the train, and it was Mr. Rosewater's hope that the premier could be induced to spend a day in Omaha. This Sir Joseph found impossible to do, as he is hurrying home and plans to reach New Zealand within twenty days, of which seventeen days are to be spent on the sea.

Besides Mr. Rosewater, Miss Blanche Rosewater, who became acquainted with the New Zealanders while abroad; Congressman Kennedy and James C. Lindsay, met the party and dined while the train stood under Union station sheds. The congressman had a personal interest in seeing Sir Joseph, as it was the latter who appointed Mr. Kennedy's cousin, James Kennedy Logan, to the position of superintendent of telegraphs in New Zealand. Mr. Logan went to the island about thirty years ago, and in overall and jumper helped construct the first telegraphs there. He worked his way to the top and is a warm friend of the premier's. Mr. Lindsay had spent two years in New Zealand and is thoroughly familiar with the country and its people.

Mannerisms of an American. Sir Joseph is a rugged-looking man of middle age who looks more like a typical railroad manager than a statesman. His mannerisms are those of an American, though his wife and daughter betray their English ancestry. As premier Sir Joseph is the highest government official of New Zealand. This is his first trip through the United States and he said he was enjoying it immensely, despite its hurried character. He is a self-made man and began years ago in the telegraph service.

T. M. Orr, secretary to Vice President and General Manager Mohler of the Union Pacific, met the party at the station and said his road wished to place a special car at the disposal of the premier for his journey to the coast. This Sir Joseph laughingly declined, saying he had sleeping car accommodations already engaged and was very comfortable in them.

At Chicago the members of the party had a 15-mile automobile ride, which gave them an opportunity to realize the magnitude of the city.

Two-Cent Postal Rate. Sir Joseph is very anxious to have established a 2-cent postal rate between the United States and New Zealand, which can be done by concurrence of the two countries under the present regulations. Such a treaty has been made with Canada and is being considered by the United States. Eventually the premier hopes to have a 2-cent international rate put in. He made a motion to this effect in the Rome congress, but it was not accepted.

At Washington Sir Joseph met President Roosevelt and was much impressed by his personality.

"As everybody probably knows, we have state railroads, telegraphs, telephones and postal savings banks in New Zealand," said Sir Joseph. "All are working in a highly satisfactory manner. I think the postal savings banks are fully equal to the best I have seen anywhere. I know the reputation of the Union Pacific as one of the best roads in the world and shall observe its workings very closely."

At Rome Sir Joseph entertained lavishly for his associates and was a very wealthy man.

Civil Service Changes. The United States Civil Service commission announces an examination on July 21 at Omaha, Grand Island and Lincoln to secure positions of postmaster, mail carrier, or less, in the position of inspector of mail products (male) at $1,400 per annum each, in the Bureau of Animal Industry, Department of Agriculture, age limit, 21 to 50 years. WORST ECZEMA DOCTORS EVER SAW

Spread Rapidly Over Body—Limbs and Arms Had to Be Bandaged and Scalp Looked Dreadful—Suffered Untold Misery for Three Years—Better in Two Months

MARVELOUS CURE BY CUTICURA REMEDIES

"My son, who is now twenty-two years of age, when he was four months old began to have eczema on his face spreading quite rapidly until he was nearly covered. We had all the doctors around us and some from larger places, but no one helped him a particle. The eczema was something terrible, and the doctors said it was the worst case they ever saw. At times his whole body and face were covered, all but his feet. I had to bandage his limbs and arms; his scalp was just dreadful. I used many kinds of patent medicines before trying the Cuticura Remedies, all to no avail. "A friend teased me to try Cuticura. At last I consented, when my boy was three years and four months old, having had eczema all that time, and suffering untold misery. I began to use all three of the Cuticura Remedies, the Cuticura Soap helped as well as the Ointment. He was better in two months; in six months he was well; but I gave him the Cuticura Resolvent one year, using twelve bottles, I think, and always used the Cuticura Soap for bathing, and now a good deal. He was four years old before he was well, and his skin became perfectly fair when cured. I give you permission to publish this letter for I am very glad to do good when I can. I think I have told you all there is necessary to tell." Mrs. R. L. Risley, Oct. 24, 1905. Pismont, N. H.

FOUNTAIN OF YOUTH TAPPED

Through Greeting King Ak-Sar-Ben at Monday Night's Session at the Den.

King Ak-Sar-Ben and his merry crew did the honors gracefully last evening at the den on North Twentieth street, where a large throng gathered to drink at the Fountain of Youth and receive inspirations for the advancement of the kingdom of Quivera.

Grand Mufti Bennett offered some timely advice to the knights regarding the necessity of meeting visitors from time to time in a personal manner and cementing in an effectual manner the commercial ties of Omaha and sister cities of the realm.

Some new features were promulgated at the den each Monday evening during the remainder of the season.

Edward Rosewater was the principal speaker of the evening. Mr. Rosewater spoke in a humorous vein of his recent visit to Rome and won his hearers from the start. He was cordially greeted. He delivered a message of greeting from the mayor of Rome to the Knights of Ak-Sar-Ben, and drew comparisons between the Coliseum of Rome and the Omaha Coliseum, which latter building is now the temple of Ak-Sar-Ben. His anecdotes of personal experiences in the Eternal city, were both interesting and amusing.

Charles C. Rosewater spoke of the growth of Omaha, which he had occasion to observe during his long residence here. He hoped for great things for the Gate City in the future.

John T. Yates said he had just returned from a trip over many of the states and was glad to report that Omaha is prestige among the cities of the country had been growing wonderfully. He urged that every citizen of Omaha should acquaint himself with the industries and commercial strength of the city, so he may be able to speak intelligently when away from home.

William Kennedy read a poem of Edward Rosewater in the United States senate. Rose Miller and Charles Duffie also spoke briefly.

Things look favorable for the Auburn excursion on Wednesday, when a special train will leave the Union station at 8:30 over the Missouri Pacific at 11 for the round trip. About 200 tickets have been sold already. A band will go with the train and bells will be in evidence. Tickets may be obtained at the Myers-Dillon, Sherman & McConnell and Beaton drug stores and at Penfold's store on Farnam street.

PAY SIX AND FOUR DOLLARS

Amounts for Election Officials in City and Country Precincts, Respectively.

With an expression of regret that they were unable under the law to allow more, the county commissioners yesterday afternoon voted to give the election officials in Omaha and South Omaha $6 each and those in the country $4 each for their services at the recent primary. This was done in accordance with an opinion rendered by Deputy County Attorney Foster that the law specifically fixes the pay of officials in Omaha and South Omaha at $6 without reference to the time they put in. The law also provides officials in the country shall receive $4 a day. The board allowed them two days' pay. Attached to the resolution as passed was a statement by the board that this amount is not as much as it should be, but is all that can be legally allowed.

Chairman Bruening's redistricting resolution was passed with Ure voting in the negative and Kennard not voting. The resolution redistricts the county into districts to conform to the changes in ward boundaries. Mr. Kennard's consent for election again this year and the changes will affect him more than any other member of the board. For this reason he asked to be excused from voting. Mr. Ure said he thought it was a political mistake to make the changes at the present time without fuller discussion. He declared, however, that the boundaries of his district were perfectly satisfactory to him. The other members of the board voted for the resolution.

Register of deeds Frank Handle was allowed another recorder at a salary of $90 a month. The county superintendent was given a stenographer at $80 a month.

BIG DEAL IN REAL ESTATE

Three Lots on Sixteenth Street Opposite Postoffice Are Sold.

PRICE AND PURPOSE ARE KEPT SECRET

First Important Investment of Eastern Capital Made in Omaha Since the Late Financial Stringency.

Another big sale has been made of business property in the North Sixteenth street district, including three lots and part of another at the northeast corner of Seventeenth street and Capitol avenue, immediately across the street north from the postoffice building.

The property is described as lots 5, 6 and the west thirty-four feet of 7, block 77, city of Omaha. It was transferred by Abram Reber of New York to the Western Real Estate Trustees of Boston, the trustees being Alfred D. Foster, Lawrence Minot, Charles Francis Adams, second, Moses Williams and Moses Williams, Jr. The consideration which will be mentioned when the deeds are recorded is "1 and other valuable consideration." The real price is kept secret.

The purchase is significant because it is the first important investment of eastern money made in Omaha since the years of the financial depression which darkened the United States. The same concern has property on Douglas and Dodge streets which it bought in the '90s, and the same man, under the name of the Boston Ground Rent company, own the Paxton block, the ground on which the Kilpatrick store is located and property on Farnam, Harney and Douglas streets. They have made no investment in Omaha at all since the late '90s.

The property, which has a frontage of 196 feet on Capitol avenue and a depth of 129 feet, is now covered with one-story brick store rooms. John McCague of the McCague investment company, which will have charge, says it will be covered with better buildings, though no immediate improvements are scheduled. The sale was made through the McCague Investment company, representing the buyers, and Conrad Young, representing the sellers. Since 1892 the lot has changed hands several times, being held successively by S. L. Wiley, F. A. Kemp, Walter

Tooth Talk No. 47

Care of the Teeth. It is hardly necessary to urge the importance of frequent inspection of the teeth by a competent dentist, and if the dentist be one who has YOUR interests at heart as well as his own, so much the better for you.

I make no charge for inspecting the teeth, and I am honest with those who come to me for advice. That is, I tell them what is best for their own welfare, believing that out of their permanent satisfaction will come my greatest benefit.

Another thought—nobody has his teeth operated on by pleasure—the discomforts freely handed out in the average dental office are many. In my office the things most dreaded are reduced to a minimum. I give you my word that I have practically eliminated pain from my operating. My patients substantiate what I say in my ads.

REED AND THE BOARD CLASH

County Assessor Protests at Commissioners' Reduction of Armour's Figures.

SAYS HE WILL GO INTO COURT ON IT

Willing to Pay Costs of Case if the County Should Lose—No Horse Play Will Be Tolerated.

The County Board of Equalization at the adjourned session Monday morning reduced the valuation of the personal property of Armour & Co., from $800,000 to $750,000, in the vigorous protests of County Assessor Harry Reed. After the action was taken Mr. Reed declared he would take an appeal to the district court and if the county lost out he would pay the court costs himself. He declared there was no reason for the reduction and he was satisfied the court would hold the $800,000 valuation previously placed by the board to be too low if anything.

Robert C. Howe of Armour & Co., asked for the reduction. The county assessor had returned the Armour plant at $900,000, but the board at a previous sitting reduced the amount to $800,000 at the same time fixing the valuations of the other plants, Cudahy being the next highest, at $700,000. Mr. Howe protested his company was being
