CHICAGO, July 11 .- Judge Landis, in the tenced States district court, today sentenced the Chicago & Alton road, which was recontly convicted of granting illegal assure sebates at Kansas City, to pay a fine of poc.600 on each of two counts, or a total

John Faithorn and Fred A. Wann, former officials of the read, who were also convicted, were sentenced to pay a fine of cate Vilas. sand each on two counts, or a total of

The defendants were fined on two counts f an indictment containing ten counts. The specific charge on which they were livan here through the remainder of the convicted was that they had given to the grand jury investigation Schwarzschild & Suinberger company a rebate of $1 per car on all shipments from the Kansus City plant of the packing company. The defendants claimed that the harge was made against them by the packing company, which had the right to plant and therefore had the right to charge he railroad for trackage.

No Extenuating Circumstances.

Julge Landis in his instructions practically directed the jury to bring in a verdiet of guilty, and after it had been rendered the attorneys for the railroad and for the individual defendants asked until today to show that the rebate was public and ot a secret affair.

The court in passing sentence said that he could see no extenuting circumstances in the granting of the rebutes. After the entering of the sentence the defendants gave notice of appeal.

The fine jufficted today by Judge Landis is identical with that imposed on the Chicago. Burlington & Quincy railroad in a similar case by Judge Bethea in the United States circuit court.

CURTIS JETT CONFESSES CRIME Kentuckian Says He Killed Marcum and He Alone is Responsible for Death.

REATTYVILLE, Ky., July 11.-Curtis Jett, at the afternoon trial of Judge Hargis for murder, took the witness stand, admitted the assassination of Marcum and told the manner in which the crime was committed. "Mr. Marcum had prosecuted me in several cases and was my bitter enemy and I am the man who killed him," said Jett. He then told of the assassination, tallying with the description given by B. J. Ewen. Jett said he had not conferred with White in regard to the killing The pistol he used he said was his own and had been owned by him several months. He told the attorneys this morning that Sheriff Callahan had given it to him The other defendants helped to defend him in his previous trial. He did not know, but thought they had paid his attorney fees. He suddenly lost his memory at the most crucial moments and could tell nothing of his or White's action preceding or following the murder. Jett did not remember seeing White in the court house at all, and as far as he is converued White is perfectly innocent. That Jett has had a marvelous change of heart is apparent, but the reason may be found in the statement of the conwealth's attorney, who said that Jett had been drinking and another attempt temorrow will be made to have him repeat Act Due to Severity of Discipline and His Part in Trial and Execution of Lieutenant Schmidt.

SEVASTOPOL, July B .- An attempt was made at 1 o'clock this afternoon to assassinate Vice Admiral Chouknin, commander wounded and taken to a hospital.

Vice Admiral Chouknin has been blamed for his severity and it was to his treatment of the crews of the ships under his command that the mutiny on the battleship by the grand jury this morning were Kniaz Potemkine in June and July last of the Lake Shore road at Chicago, and year was attributed. The admiral displayed considerable activity in attempting to capture the mutineers at that time and in suppressing the saflors' mutiny at Sevastopol in November last,

The would-be assassin is a sailor, who hid in the bushes and shot at the admiral as he was walking in the garden of his villa. The culprit has not been apprehended. Admiral Chouknin's condition is extremely serious. The bullet lodged in his lung, making breathing difficult. The docfors hold out no hope of his recovery.

The admiral's assailant is thought to be one of the sallors of the battleship Otcha-C. Pagin, special c. visel of the Department | koff. and his act is supposed to have been in revenge for the execution of Lieutenant Schmidt, the revolutionary leader,

Admiral Chouknin has had a good deal of active service and for a time was believed to be under orders to take to the far east during the war with Japan, the Second Pacific squadron relieving Vice Admiral Rojestvensky. Chouknin was port atimiral Viadivostok from 1896 to 1991. Later he was appointed director of the naval college, which post he held until he took command of the Black sea fleet. While Chouknin was recovering from the wounds inflicted upon him by Cecella Shabad it was reported that he had been offered and had declined to accept the post of minister of marine to succeed Admiral Avellan.

Preparing to Defend Cities.

ST. PETERSBURG, July 12 .- 1:40 a. m. The preparations which the War office has been making at all the principal cities to meet an armed revolutionary movement prove to have been very elaborate. The plans for the defence of Riga have faller into the hands of the revolutionary paper Misla, which this morning publishes the entire plan of defence. As given, the garrison is divided into three divisions of two battalions of infantry, half a company of Cossacks and three machine guns each, to prevent the Invasion of the city from its three open sides; namely, the canal, the dam and the river Duna. Two battalions of infantry, 200 Cossacks and four machine guns constitute the reserve. The commander, in framing the plan of defence, even designated his successor in the event of himself being killed or incapacitated Similar plans, it is understood, have been drawn up by every commander of a garrison or city. In addition, special troop trains, equipped with machine and field guns, are in constant readiness at St Petersburg, Moscow, Kiev, Warsaw and other strategic points.

The emperor, in his speech to the detachment of fortress artillery recently. brought to Peterhof from Cronstadt, told them that as guardians of the entrance of the capital they must show an example of loyalty and fidelity to Russia.

Defends Death Penalty.

One of the curious features of the debate in the upper house of Parliament yester day on the bill of the lower house providing for the abolition of the death penalty, was a speech made by Father Butkayich. a priest elected by the orthodox clergy, in which he seriously defended the death penalty on the ground that it was justified both by God and Christ, citing the laws of Moses and Christ's statement before Pilate as recognition of the right to impose punishment.

The Rech today declares that the tone of the debate in the upper house yesterday leaves little hope that this "assembly of bureaucrats, land and commercial magnates and representatives of the reaction ary noblity and clergy, with a small leaven of liberals, will ever be able to work in harmony with the progressive ideas represented in Parliament."

The Novoe Vremya, on the contrary, defends the conservative spirit of the upper house and appeals to the emperor not to entrust power to the constitutional democrats of the lower house, who, the paper insists, are "augumenting the danger of an explosion by their cowardly refusal either to clasp hands with the right or break with the left."

LONDON, July 12 .- The Express this norning says the cabinet is in the throes of a serious crisis, "split in twain on the vital question whether the navy shall be maintained in a condition of invulnerable efficiency or shall be weakened considerably and rival nations permitted to out distance us in the race for naval supremacy." The paper points out that some days ago thes cabinet decided to reduce this year's plant. shipbuilding program, abandoning one of the two battleships of the Dreadnaught class, which it was originally intended to lay down the coming autumn. Three or four members of the cabinet, it is asserted, expressed themselves as opposed to "this dangerous economy." Then came protests from the Board of Admiralty experts, including Sir John Fisher, admiral of the fieet, all of whom threatened to resign if the cabinet persisted.

At the cabinet meeting on Tuesday there was a prolonged discussion, but the majority stood steadfast for the reduction, The protest, however, had the effect of postponing consideration of the naval estimates to July 27.

R. A. McCauley of Ames and J. P. McCaul

August H. Hennings, city treasurer of Omaha from 1990 to 1996, treasurer of the state republican committee and unsuccessful candidate for the republican nominaroute 5. James F. Goodsell carrier, Lillian tion for mayor last spring, shot and killed himself in the bath room of his home, 3364 Davenport street, Wednesday at 7:35 a. m. He gave no warning whatever that he contemplated ending his life.

The letter which appears above was found in Mr. Hennings' coat pecket. It was written on Paxton hotel stationery, dated July 10, and sealed in a Paxton ho tel envelope and addressed " to Anna Hennings, my wife."

Until the finding of this letter there was no definite clue to a cause for the suicide, nor any intimation that the deed was premeditated. This letter bears out the theory of some friends that financial difficulties preyed on Mr. Hennings' mind until he took his life. The first theory assigned was constant worrying over his defeat for the nomination for mayor in the spring and some of his friends yet believe this had much to do with Mr. Hennings' action.

Siegbert Kahn mentioned in the letter is manager of the Western Loan company, a chattel mortgage money loan concern in the Neville block at Sixteenth and Harney streets.

Extremely Sensitive Nature.

Friends who attributed disappointment over political failure as the cause of the deed recall the keen disappointment which Mr. Hennings sustained by his defeat for the mayoralty nomination. His nature was extremely sensative, and up to a short time before the primaries, April 3, he fully expected to win. Outwardly he bare Two New Positions Created to Relieve his defeat cheerfully, and after retiring from the office of city treasurer he entered into a merchandise and household goods storage and mercandise brokerage business with his former chief clerk, Harry Q. Counsman. The affairs of this company were prosperous. Some information tended to show that instead of being in financial straits Mr. Hennings was in terial which in no way can contribute to engineer of maintenance of lines east of excellent financial condition, having a personal income of $3,000 a year from investments, and was the beneficiary of a $22,000 legacy from a Holland estate, of which he had received $5,000. His health

> No Flaw in Official Records. Repeated examinations of the books and ecounts by his bonding companies of the city treasurer's office, from which Mr Hennings retired actively in April, showed no discrepancies, but, to the contrary, that the funds of the office had been handled with scrupulous fidelity. City and County Treasurer Fink, who received the office by reason of the charter consolidation, says that it was turned over in perfect condition and he cannot believe any despond ency was caused from this source, which reflected nothing but credit upon the previous incumbent. It was known that Mr. Hennings took his defeat at the republican city primaries by E. A. Benson much to heart. Later, when Mr. Benson jost in the contest with the democratic nominee, Mr. Hennings exwould have been entirely different if he had been the nominee against Mayor Dahlman. At the same time he appeared to Tuesday he was soliciting business with his usual energy. As late as 7:30 in the evening he had a conversation about the business of his firm for the following day with his partner.

Eats Breakfast with Family. The family, consisting of Mr. and Mrs. Hennings and their only child, Miss Harriet Hennings, breakfasted as usual. Bekilled in an attempt to escape, and two nings left the table and went upstairs to other men, believed to be members of the the bathroom. He locked the door, and, fully dressed, except his coat, stood about eight feet from a mirror, pressed a revolver muzzle to his right temple and fired. The bullet, a 28-caliber, clear through the front part of his head, from right to left, and he fell face downward on the tiled floor, the hand classing the weapon being doubted under him, There was a profuse hemorrhage and the floor was covered with blood.

The shot was heard by Mrs. and Miss Hennings, who, when Mr. Hennings left the table, had no cause to believe he contemplated suicide. After the shot they heard him fall. Miss Hennings ran im mediately to the home of W. B. Graham, across Thirty-third street, at 301, north, and appeared at the window of the diningroom, where the family was gathered at broakfast. She exclaimed hurriedly what had happened. Mrs. Hennings became hysterical and the commotion aroused Alvin Hart kicked in the panel, they opened the door and beheld the dead body of Mr. Hennings lying in a great quantity of
