The meeting followed a fight on the floor pension of the session. It was after the close of the session that the duel occurred. Late reports show that M. Sarraut is suffering from a deep wound in the right wound is considered to be serious, it is not standard. necessarily dangerous.

Despite this sanguinary conflict, laws ere finally enacted today by the Chamber of Deputies reinstating Dreyfus, who ob artillery, and Picquart, who is made a brigadier general. Both houses were overwheimingly favorable to Dreyfus and Picquart. Throughout the day feeling was stirred intensely between the Dreyfus and anti-Dreyfus elements. This was heightened by fierce attacks by Dreyfusists against General Mercler and other prominent officers who were responsible for in the riot. The trouble, which began by Dreyfus' condemnation. Early in the day s demand for an increased rate of pay, Minister of War Etlenne presented the brought everything to a standstill at the government bills restoring Dreyfus and Picquart to the army.

During the interim the excitement continued, but at the resumption of the sitting the members were somewhat more calm. Pugleisi-Contl and Sarraut were both presers on the government and opposition sides exchanged threats. Eventually, after Premier Sarrien had promised that the government would take the necessary measures to deal with the officers who had been witnesses against Dreyfus, and requested that the house terminate the conflict that Had been dividing France, a motion was passed expressing confidence in the government. The chamber also voted to transfer the CHICAGO, July 12.-The underground system for the transporting of mail in Chicago will be inaugurated next Monday when the tunnel connections between the postoffice and the La Salle street station is to be put in operation. Postmaster Fred A. Busse announced today that this tunnel is completed and that the tunnels to the other five railroad stations in the city will be opened by September 1. The underground conduits extend from the postoffice to the Illinois Central, Grand Central, Dearborn street, La Salle street and Chicago & Northwestern railroad stations, and two to the Union station. All of these tunnels are part of the system of and aggregate nearly seventy-five miles of underground electric lines for the transportation of freight. When connection has been made with the stations, the use of the heavy mail wagons on the streets will be abolished and the driveway beneath the postoffice building will be used only by receivers of mail who send their own wagons to the postoffice.

Rev. Charles A. Eaton, D. D., Speaks on Power of God in Evangelism.

DR. J. O. A. HENRY ALSO MAKES ADDRESS

Convention Will Close Tonight and Minister-Delegates Will Preach in Various Churches Sunday Morning and Evening.

Friday was a day full of big things for the B. Y. P. U., who are in session here. First of all there was the election of officers, which resulted in the selection of the entire corps, with the exception of Vice President W. W. Gains of Atlanta, Ga., who did not desire re-nomination, Then there were five powerful addresses, one in the morning by Rev. L. F. Hughson of Ontario, two in the afternoon by Rev. S. J. Farmer of Brantford, Ont., and Rev. Charles D. Eaton, D. D., of Cleveland, and Rev. J. Q. A. Henry, D. D., of New York. When John H. Chapman of Chicago was elected president of the union for the sixteenth consecutive time a checr went up from 2,000 throats which gave some idea of the immense popularity of the man. He
