SHOTWELL NAILS NEWS FAKE

"I Never Made Such a Statement," Says Deputy County Attorney.

REAL LIAR NOW STANDS UNCOVERED

Official Writes His Own Words, Repeating Yellow Journal's Falsities and Affirming Other Papers' Reports.

"Somebody's lying" is the striking caption over the double column article in the Wednesday evening edition of the Omaha Evening News. Under it is printed the broad statement that The Bee and the World-Herald are doing all they can to thwart the efforts of the county attorney and Sheriff Wheeler to "justice the murderer of Frank Wheeler. In parallel columns are printed statements from the World-Herald and The Bee and what purports to be categorical denials of these statements from County Attorney Shalbaugh and Sheriff Wheeler.

Mr. Shotwell is made to say that a statement copied from the Tuesday evening issue of The Bee is "false from beginning to end." This was called to Mr. Shotwell's attention last evening, and he wrote the following statement: "In reference to the statement made by the Daily News of July 13, stating that I said that The Bee and World-Herald statements (in regard to the arrest of James Diggs) were 'false from beginning to end,' I wish to state that I never made such a statement. When asked by the News reporter whether or not the county attorney's office would prosecute the Diggs and Wheeler case, because requested to do so by the Daily News, I told the reporter that we were prosecuting them because we deemed it our duty to do so; that we were not influenced by newspapers or persons, and that the only object we had in the prosecution was to clear up the mystery surrounding the murder of Wheeler, and to do all in our power as officers of the law to bring the guilty to justice."

It does not seem it wise for a public prosecutor to try his case in the newspapers, but I do not want the public to be misled by our action, or for any newspaper unjustly to misquote our office. We have no fault to find with The Bee or the World-Herald in their treatment of our office. We will prosecute the case with all our energy, and endeavor to do our duty without fear or favor."

Mr. Shotwell said further that the item in The Bee, to which the News also such violent and unwarranted exceptions, is published as an editorial, and the information to the reporter.

Miss Wheeler is Satisfied.

The preliminary hearing of James Diggs, colored, and his alleged paramour, Mrs. Dora Wheeler, on the charge of having murdered Frank E. Wheeler will come up in the police court this morning. Deputy County Attorney Shotwell will represent the state, while W. Dodge will appear for the defendants. A general plea of not guilty was entered for the prisoners Tuesday morning.

Miss Iva Wheeler, sister of the murdered man, will attend the trial. C. L. Shamp, secretary of the firemen's union, stated Wednesday morning that his union had offered the county attorney any assistance in the way of additional legal counsel or money to push the case to the end.

When shown some accounts of the trial which had been carried in the inter-related local yellow Journal, Miss Wheeler agreed that The Bee had handled the case from a fair and conservative standpoint rather than trying to try the case through the columns of a newspaper.

Miss Wheeler said the following statement for publication: "I came to investigate Diggs' release, not knowing he could be rearrested, but when the state, while in the city, was made subject to arrest at any time, I did not have to be released by a jury. Since Diggs' arrest many friends of my brother-in-law, who I have known since I was a child, have in every possible way. Now and important evidence has been submitted to the grand jury, and I think now or convict those charged. I think none of the newspapers should make assertions that I did not come here to ensure, praise or blame. At home, I am expected to try the trial, which I expect to attend."

In conclusion, I want to thank those who have so kindly and liberally supported me, and any further help will be more than appreciated. MISS IVA WHEELER.

DEATH RECORD.

Word reached Omaha yesterday of the death Tuesday at St. Louis of William B. Mason, who was a member of Camp U. I. First of the American Legion and former captain of the Philippines with his command. The death of the ex-soldier came somewhat as a surprise to his comrades in Omaha, although some of them were aware he had been ill for some time. He was reported to have been in the hospital at St. Louis for a sudden turn for the worse.

Members of the old First Nebraska in the city are making arrangements for the burial and the body will be brought to Omaha. They will give the dead the highest military honors. It is possible interment will be in Company I, lot at Prospect Hill.

Willard B. Mason served with distinction and credit during the stay of his command in the Philippines, and was wounded at San Vicente. He was one of the few selected from his regiment to compose the body of scouts under Major Bell.

Those who made up this organization were the pick of the regiment to which they belonged, and were considered as the most dangerous kind, requiring courage, nerve and a cool head to a greater degree than in any other branch of the service.

"FEED UP"

In the Way to Make Old Men Young.

One of the most remarkable evidences of the power of proper food is found in the following interesting story by a Canadian.

"I am now 71 years of age and have been aged more or less ever since I was 16 years old, part of the time an invalid suffering with stomach and bowel troubles."

"About two years ago, having learned of the good Grape-Nuts food was doing for some friends of mine, I resolved to try it myself, and I immediately found help in vigor and power of endurance."

"That summer the heat did not effect me as it did before I used Grape-Nuts and after about four months constant use I began to realize what it was to be well and found my bowels adjusting themselves so that now I am free from the old troubles. I had long despaired of such results and can safely say I am enjoying better health today than for many years past, for this wonderful food has literally made a new man of me. Names given by Postum Co., Maple Creek, Michigan, who is known to become the wife of Captain William Grayson Hildt, at Fort Des Moines, Ia. The late president gave similar endorsement to several of his aides upon the occasion of their marriage. Miss Hildt's husband and she are now residing in this city. Write for a copy of the famous little book, 'The Road to Wellville.'"

ELKS SELECT PHILADELPHIA

Next Convention of Order Will Be Held in City of Brotherly Love.

Twenty Sections of New Fundamental Law Agreed Upon Before Adjournment—Proposed Ritual Exemplified.

DENVER, July 18.—Philadelphia was chosen by the grand lodge of the Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks today as the convention city for next year.

Philadelphia received 435 votes and Baltimore 245. St. Joseph was withdrawn from the contest.

The afternoon session of the grand lodge was devoted to revision of the constitution and by-laws. One of the matters considered was the Elks home at Bedford City, Va. The home has not come up to the expectations of the originators, and it is proposed to convert it into a hospital or infirmary of some kind.

An effort was made to have a constitutional convention called for this fall, but this was voted down, and the convention decided to adopt a new constitution at its session. The body went into committee of the whole with J. B. Fisher of Jamestown, N. Y., in the chair. The committee on revision of the constitution had the draft of a new constitution ready and by the time adjournment was taken for the day twenty provisions were adopted.

Plan of New Constitution. It is sought to build up the order on the lines of an executive, legislative and judicial body. To decrease the size of the grand lodge and make it a representative body the plan is this:

No one will be legislated out and all the grand lodge members remain unless they drop out of the order. Failure to attend the sessions of the grand lodge for four consecutive years will cost the member his life membership. Elected delegates will serve two years, the even members electing in even years and the odd members in odd years. As the older members die off or drop out the body will gradually become representative. The grand lodge went on record emphatically against auxiliary bodies of any kind and against insurance features in this connection. The work will be resumed tomorrow afternoon after the parade.

Proposed Ritual Exemplified. Tonight there was an exemplification of the proposed new ritual. For several years the old ritual underwent almost annual revision and last year at the meeting at Buffalo a committee was appointed to look after the work of getting up a new ritual and a prize of $1,000 was offered for the work which should be successful of adoption.

As a result thirteen new rituals were written and submitted to the committee. The committee then compiled a ritual from the thirteen submitted and the prize money was awarded to the author.

Russian Butler Informed that in Case He Cannot Control Old Kingdom Other Monarchs Will Help.

PARIS, July 18.—The Journal today says it is in a position to affirm that in the recent interview at Schoenbrunn palace, near Vienna, between the emperor of Austria-Hungary and the German emperor their majesties deliberated on the means to adopt in case of the outbreak of a revolution in Russia. Emperor Nicholas being advised of the general nature of the deliberations. It was decided in principle, the paper says, that Germany and Austria will intervene in Poland with armed forces in case the Russian emperor finds it impossible to maintain the control of Poland. The three emperors thereafter acted in concert for the maintenance of the status quo of their respective Polish possessions.

The Journal further asserts that this understanding amounts to a regular holy alliance between the three emperors.
