dents over last year, and the total caroliment is to per cent greater than last year.

The graduating class, in the lines of the three-year courses, is not so large as usual, owing to so many of last years middle class having bacle work and feeling that they ought certainly to take another year in finishing their courses. The class for next year, however, bids fair to be an unusually large and strong one, though some of its members are not likely to finish preparation here.

The quality of the students has been varied, as always, but the leading body to fatudents have had high ideass and the work done, the principal believes, of very high average. On the other hand, we have seemed to have several examples of extens innolence, of insubordination and of careless conduct, that grew too heavy to carry with safety. Three were set certain definite tasks and suspended, after warning, until they did the thing required. Three were requested at the close of the term not to return, and some others dropped out, as sickness or too great pressure gave occasion. The thirty-three who are active students to the very end of the year are of unusually high average in faithfulness and carnestness.

Spiritually this has been a good year for the school. The meetings conducted in the village by Evangelist George H. Williams, while stirrring, were held from over-excitement, and the whole school was strongly influenced by them. Twenty-one of our students made profession of Christ or public reconsecration during the time of the meetings has gone through the year. The Christian association meetings have been steadily and strongly helpful. For the first time we have sent a representative to the Young Momen's Christian association conference at Lake Geneva, Wis, and are to send a representative to Waterloo to the Young Women's Christian association conference in August. In both cases the association bears half of the expenses, meeting the expense, about 35, by income from socials or direct solicitation.

After being cut Hanson ran for a short distance and then, seeing he was not pursued, sat down under a tree, where an effort was made to stop the flow of blood. As the artery in the wrist had been severed, neither he nor those around him were able to accomplish it and before surgical aid was at hand Hanson was dead.

It was then the officers were notified and pursuit of Lightner taken up. Descriptions of him were sent out by telephone to surrounding towns and these resulted in his arrest at Waterloo by officers from Valley. At the time of his arrest he did not know that Hanson was dead.

Murderer is Captured. WATERLOO, Neb., July 18 - (Special Telegram.)-John Hanson, a workman at a grading camp east of Waterloo about a mile, was killed today by A. Lightner, a fellow worker. Hanson was slashed on the left arm with a razor and cut about the body elsewhere, bleeding to death. The two men were at Elkhorn at noon, Hanson later having boarded the train for Omaha. Lightner followed him on the train and asked for money and on being refused took it from his pocket and jumped off the moving train, the victim following to get his money back. Both were left behind. They went back to camp to work and renewed the quarrel afterward, when the killing took place, about 4 o'clock.

Lightner stayed in the brush about camp some time and passed through Waterloo about 6 o'clock, a posse of men meanwhile looking for him. He walked west on the railroad and was captured about 8 o'clock about a half mile this side of Valley by Marshal Talcott and party, who had been notified from here that the man had headed for Valley. They brought him to Waterloo and he was identified by men from the camp where he worked.

A charge of murder was sworn out before a justice and Lightner will be held until morning, when he will be taken to Omaha. This is the second murder at the grading camp this month, the other one occurring July 4 when one man stabbed another so that he died after being taken to a hospital. There have also been a number of serious cutting scrapes at these camps and

"Doing Things"

The way to do a thing these days is to do it-quick and

We've been working along serious lines of late trying to get you to see some of the crying needs of the day and how they can be met, and we've put into the struggle every pound of nerve and force we have. And now that midsummer is here, when everybody "lets-down" and wants lighter reading, we have put the same nerve and force into a special fiction number.

For August, we have undertaken to get together the liveliest and best collection of stories ever seen in a magazine-not just as good, or only a little better, but 'way ahead the best.

We have interested in our plan such writers as Jack London, Lloyd Osbourne, O. Henry, Arthur McFarlane, William Bulfin, Roy Norton, and such artists as Philip Goodwin, George Gibbs, Dan Smith, Martin Justice, Will Crawford and Karl Anderson. They have caught the spirit most superbly, and have given us nine mighty good stories, any one of six (five anyway) good enough to be the "star" story of any fiction number ever published.

Just get this August fiction number of Everybody's and see what we mean by "doing things."

No; we haven't forgotten our serious work - we never lose sight of that. We are living for that. There's "Soldiers of the Common Good," Russell's fact-story on Japan, the Mystery Nation-the new force let loose upon the rest of the world, the great dominating trust-fighting and trust-absorbing government, so full of suggestions to us Americans. We hope you are reading Russell's series. Then there's Teague showing the inner workings of the Bucket Shop game with a terrible arraignment of the foul sneak-thieves who steal a hundred million dollars a year from those whom they profess to advise. Mr. Lawson varies his usual instalment with a humorous but deep-underneath earnest talk on "Muck and Muck Rakers."

Everybody's for August—the great fiction magazine of the year. Always the great fact-story magazine. Get it.

CONSPIRACY IN HARTJE CASE Evidence Relating to Alleged Plot Against Defendant Admitted in Divorce Case.

John L. Weishons Tells How Statement Was Obtained from Man Now. in Jail on Charge of Perjury.

PITTSBURG, July 12.-Following a sensational attack on the character of Augustus Hartje in which it was alleged that he had taken two different women frequently to a questionable resort, the real sensation of the day in the Hartje divorce trial culminated this afternoon when Judge Robert B. Fraser admitted, under bitter protest of opposing counsel, testimony relating to the charges of conspiracy against John L. Welshons, a prominent merchant Augustus Hartje, the libeliant, and Clifford Hoos, the negro coachman, now in fail on perjury charges for alleged false swearing in the case.

Welshons, who was called by Mrs. Hartje's counsel, told a clear story of how the deposition was secured from Hooe. He said that Hooe then left the city and the witness told of having given him various small sums of money at different times. This looked like blackmail, the witness said. He said he reight have told Hooe that he would be sent to the penitentiary for perjury if he did not stick to the original story he told. Welshon's story, it is said, coincides very closely to the statement of Hooe, relating to the case, which is in the possession of the district attorney. This was the first attempt during the trial to present evidence of an aileged conspiracy, which Mrs. Hartje's ounsel declares was formed to defame her. Welshons is a close friend of Augustus Hartje and is accused with Hartje and Hooe of conspiring against Mrs. Hartje.

Expert on the Stand.

Samuel C. Malone of Baltimore, a handwriting expert, was the first witness called. He went a little farther than the other experts for Mrs. Hartje by declaring that characteristics of certain letter formations in some of the exhibits showed that there had been "an attempt to put someone off the track." Malone also said that, in his opinion, the pieces of the mutilated letter which form exhibit No. 35 had been pasted on cardboard before they had been written.

When Mrs. Gerone Bechtold, the next witness, took the stand, and counsel for the respondent attempted to show that the plaintiff had visited a questionable resort with a woman, attorneys for Hartje vigorously objected and a long argument ensued. The objections were overruled by Judge Frazer. The witness, who was a chambermaid in the house, explained the character of the place and testified that Hartje visited the resort twice a week in company with an auburn-haired woman.
