The laws of nature and heredity are fixed and invariable. Parents who related by the ties of blood, or who have a consumptive tendency, or family blood taint, are sure to transmit it to their children in the form of Scrofula. Swollen glands, brittle bones, weak eyes, hip disease, pale, waxy complexions, emaciated bodies, running sores and ulcers, and general weak constitutions are the principal ways in which the disease is manifested. Those who have inherited this blighting trouble may succeed in holding it in check during young, vigorous life; but after a spell of sickness, or when the system has begun to weaken and lose its natural vitality, the ravages of the disease will become manifest and sometimes run into Consumption. S. S. S. goes down into the circulation and forces out the scrofulous deposits kills the germs and completely cures the disease. It changes the quality of the blood by removing all impurities and poisons and supplying this vital fluid with rich, health-sustaining qualities. S. S. OUR LETTER BOX.

Water Bates. OMAHA, July 20.-To the Editor of The See: I want to add something to what said in The Bee yesterday on the water works question by way of post script. Systematic war on the Omaha Water company has been waged for years on account of the rates. These rates, according to a decision of the United States circut court are contract rates. I never heard anybody complain of the rates to private consumers until certain gentlemen discovered that the company. I always thought and think now that, considering the conditions of rank barbaitsm in respect to Omaha's water supopic Sunday morning. The evening sermon ply existing twenty years ago, rates to private consumers were cheaper than comnon dirt, and that they have never been ex orbitant at any time since. But it is said that the hydrant rates are eating up the town. Omaha agreed to pay the rate by solemn contract, didn't it? Omaha pays $90,000 per year, as I remember, hydrant rentals. The water company pays into the treasury of this city $75,000 a year in taxes. How stands the account in bydrants? Twenty years ago Omaha was a straggling wooden village, unpaved, unkempt, buried in dust or mud, without either drainage or sewers or adequate protection from fire Its water works consisted of wells and cisterns more or less foul, with pumps and buckets and hand engines for fire protec tion, and disease factories in the way of essponis for sewage. No healthful and luxurious and modern improvements were in the Omaha home in those days, and yet, it could not have raised $100,000 of its own money to build even an excuse for an adequate water system. But a stranger came within our gates and put down millions to build as fine a water plant as this country ever saw. He staked his money or the future Omaha. These water works have been and now are an unmixed boon and blessing to every man, woman and child within its limits. Next to the Union Pacific railroad no single agency has contributed so much to the health, prosperity and progress of Omaha as these water works have done. Why should this prosperous, powerful and progressive young city wage war upon the water company? Is it not utterly foolish, when we come to think about it? I shall never doubt that fair. friendly and open dealing would have been better for us all.
