London and Outlook for Pavorable Bank Statement the

NEW YORK. July 20—Soon after the turn of the first hour in the stock market today the sales of stocks had mounted to a total as great as for the whole day yesterday. This rate of increase in the animation of the market was by no means sustained throughout the session, but the day's total amounted to the largest for any day of the week. Buying at times was very active and well pursued on the advances and the speculative tone showed a decisive change from the hesitation and timidity lately prevailing. There was a momentary dip at the opening in response to the decisive upset in the London market, but the placing of large orders in the leading, stocks prompily sweet prices to a higher level. There was a congestion of demand in a few stocks which have been conspicuous market leaders for some time. Such a large proportion of the dealings. In the Southern Pacific. Southern Pacific. Observers discovered some operations of importance on the long side of the market, but they were supposed to be directed against the vulnerable short interest.

The high prices at the recovery today showed an excess for a number of prominent stocks over the prices touched on the recovery which culminated early last week and this was taken to indicate an improvement in the technical condition of the market, but they were supposed to be directed against the vulnerable short interest.

Business shows improvement on last week, when buyers were somewhat unsettled, owing to the uncertainty of the London news. This has now been cleared away by cables received showing that on all good wools prices rule firm and about on the level of the May sales, closing rates. Wool Market.

BOSTON, Mass., July 20.—WOOL—The Boston Commercial Bulletin will say of the wool market tomorrow: There is a better tone to the Jocal wool market.
Business shows improvement on last week, when buyers were somewhat unsettled, owing to the uncertainty of the London news. This has now been cleared

Total receipts.....51 The disposition of the day's receipts was as follows, each buyer purchasing the number of head indicated:

needing for the week to kill, and prices in consequence were unevenly lower.

So few stockers and feeders are coming that it is rather difficult to quote the market from day to day, but it is safe to say that the few received are generally selling at steady prices.

HOGS—As noted yesterday the hog market this week has been in rather peculiar condition and it is a difficult matter to make it plain to shippers from any description that one can give. This morning it opened with a few good shipping hogs selling at steady prices. On the other hand, heavy hogs were 5c lower right from the beginning. The trade all the morning was rlow and it was late before the market was really under way. It wound up ket was really under way. It wound up with all kinds of hogs selling lower, as will be noted from the sales below.

Today's decline carries the market to the low point of the week, the heas selling of 1 576 B 75 1 460 ... 1 280 4 60 1 420 ... SHEEP-Receipts this morning were very smail, there being only three fresh cars reported in in addition to a few carried over from yesterday. The market as a whole was very slow and dull, and it took a longer time to dispose of the few loads in sight than is required to sell ten times the number on a good market.

The sheep market this week has been carried down rapidly by the big break at Chicago. As noted yesterday sheep during the first hair of the week sold at this point higher than they did at Chicago, and as that fact became noised about among buyers they naturally began lowering their bids. At the same time Chicago broke badly, which made it still worse here. The result is that the market at this point is 25660c lower on wethers and yearlings than it was one week ago and 25c lower on spring lambs.

Sellers are calling attention to the fact that buyers are making a greater distinction in quality than was the case a week or ten days ago. Hence it is that common half-fat sheep that would have sold very rapidly to the packers as short time ago would have to go to the feeders at the present time.

Quotations: Good to choice spring lambs.
