

BAUMS BUY BIG IRON PLANT

Secure Paddock-Hawley Concern and Join with Local Foundry.

OMAHA WILL BE GENERAL HEADQUARTERS

Consolidation Will Embrace Most of the Leading Iron Houses of the Mississippi Valley, Helping This City.

By the purchase of the Paddock-Hawley iron company of St. Louis, D. A. Baum and J. E. Baum of Omaha are to make this city the headquarters and distributing center of one of the biggest lines of hardware and iron jobbing houses in the country.

Articles of incorporation of the new Paddock-Hawley company were filed Friday at the court house, authorizing a capital stock of $100,000, the incorporators being D. A. Baum, J. E. Baum and Fred Hawley. It now transpires that this was the result of the purchase by the Baums of the old Paddock-Hawley company, one of the oldest and largest iron companies of the west.

EDITORS' NIGHT AT THE DEN

Last Monday in July Dedicated by Samson to Newspaper Men.

Samson, King Ak-Sar-Bee's scribe, has sent invitations to every editor in the state to be present at the den on Monday evening, July 30, which will be "editors' night."

The invitations read: Ak-Sar-Bee the Great, King of Quivers, Duke of the Seven Cities of Chioia, Feudal Lord of Omaha, Most Mighty Grand Master of the Coffin Belt, Putnam Potentate of Posters, Bonds Greasing to His Loyalty Subjects.

By the way of our latest title, which we have recently assumed, we do hereby proclaim and declare that the eve of Monday, the 31st day of the seventh month, in the twelfth year of our reign, shall be and hereby is designated and set aside as editors' night, wherein all our high and mysterious ceremonies and all our royal revels shall be enacted, only for the delectation and entertainment of the noble tribe of quilldrivers within our realm.

Therefore, through our most high chancellor, Samson, we do hereby appoint you, our royal castle, known as the "Den," at 5 o'clock, on the night in question, when the torches shall be lighted and the royal mummets summoned and the wassail bowl be wreathed in your honor alone.

We were minded that our purpose should be immortalized in verse to the doing of which we commit our royal poet, to the luckless night now reposes in our deepest dungeon and shall be known henceforth as our court fool, having invoked our royal wrath by this unworthy rendering of our wishes.

The night belongs to you. You have the coin and the bunch. The others may skidoo. Given under our hand and seal this 17th day of the seventh month, in the twelfth year of our reign, one thousand nine hundred and six.

SUMMER AMUSEMENTS.

At Krug Park.

The Slayton Jubilee singers have been here for nearly a generation. For twenty-nine years they have been singing their plantation melodies and camp meeting hymns and they have toured the world several times, their first visit in every foreign country sailing for return tours. They have been heard in every section of the United States and there is no reader of this paper so young who has not heard of these world-famous colored singers.

Great crowds during the week saw Mr. Sanford Dodge and his company in all fresco performances of "Ingram." Mr. Dodge carries a company of fifteen people and plays only classic and modern operas. He is engaged to play here for only one week, but so phenomenal has been their success it has been induced to remain for the summer, with change of play each week.

Don Casper de Bazaan, at a matinee today and performances will be given all this week. Reserved seats and box seats are on sale at Sherman & McConnell Drug Co's.

The band concert program at Krug park today includes a movement religious, entitled "Babylon," by Adams; a grand selection from Weber's "Freischuetz," a march, "National Emblem" (Bagley); overture, "Die ihr fahrt um's Glück" (Suppe); intermezzo, "Goldener" (Abbott); "Cecilia's Last Love" (Brahms), on themes from an old Hungarian song; selections from "It Happened in Nordan" and "The Tenderfoot" in the "My Old Kentucky Home," cornet solo by Mr. Christian Rodenkirchen, premier virtuoso; also compositions by Adams and Harris, and one of Strauss' waltzes.

Chavaler Enrico Gargiulo's concert band comes to Krug park for the week beginning July 29.

At Lake Manawa. Lake Manawa's extensive popularity is very evident from the large attendance during the last week, the torrid rays of old Sol driving thousands of pleasure seekers to the cool resort daily.

The big roller coaster continues to do a capacity business, this aerial attraction appealing to all. The row boats and launches will be in readiness for Sunday's crowd.

The Japanese ball game still does a big business, this oriental novelty making a decided hit with all. The electric slides, penny arcade, bowling alleys, shooting gallery, merry-go-round, plate game, baby rack and all other amusements are receiving a big patronage.

At the Bijou. The new Bijou has met with great success in the first two weeks of its career as an Omaha play house.

When the new Brandeis building is formally thrown open it will be in a blaze of light that will eclipse any similar showing in this section of the country at least.

Six thousand electric lights on the second floor alone will be used for decorative purposes. This is entirely apart from the general store lighting.

At the Auditorium. Monday morning at 7:30 o'clock the famous Royal Hawaiian band and orchestra, accompanied by glee clubs and several soloists, both men and women, all native Hawaiians, will arrive from Denver and will be the drawing card at the Auditorium this week.

GOVERNOR AFTER DONOHUE

Minkay Says He Will Lecture Detective on Alleged Double Charing.

STATE AND PRIVATE INDIVIDUAL PAY

Omaha Officer Said to Have Collected at Both Ends of the Line for Expense Incurred on Trip.

Upon the receipt of information which tends to show that Detective J. T. Donohue of the local police department received $43.35 twice as expenses for bringing J. J. Herz, prisoner, back from Kansas City July 1, it was announced from the governor's office at Lincoln yesterday afternoon that the governor has ordered an investigation of Donohue's case and would have the Omaha detective before him in a day or so.

Herz was located in Kansas City and Detective Donohue sent for the prisoner, Harding, giving the officer for Rosenberg $50 expense money and taking a receipt. When the detective returned he found his expenses had been $43.35, so he refunded to Harding $6.65.

In a few days friends of Herz at Minneapolis sent a local saloonman $125 to straighten out the young man's trouble. All parties concerned called on the county attorney and suggested the dismissal of the case. County Attorney Slabaugh said he did not want to be a party to the dismissal, but if the complainant would prosecute and the state would not be held for the costs he would dismiss the case in the police court. The case was dismissed.

Deputy County Attorney Stowell said yesterday afternoon that Detective Donohue agreed that in view of having received $43.35 expense money he would not make a bill against the state. The records, however, show that Donohue did make a bill and received the $43.35 from the state, the state treasurer making the payment on July 14.

Depositions on Record. In a sworn deposition made in the county attorney's office last Thursday afternoon Dave Harding swore that on or about June 27 he gave the detective the $50 referred to and on return of the detective from Kansas City received the $43.35. Harding further swore that when he received the $43.35 he returned the full receipt received for the $50. The deposition also stated that up to that time (Thursday) Donohue had not given to him (Harding) any more of the $50 than the $43.35.

Thursday Sam Rosenberg also gave a sworn deposition to the county attorney. He stated that he had given $50 to Donohue for the checks cashed and $80 was to reimburse Harding for the loan made at the time the detective went to Kansas City.

Detective Donohue was seen yesterday afternoon and asked for a statement. In a general way he denied receiving any money wrongfully. He said he held receipts for everything. He said he held the receipt given Harding for the $50, which corroborated Harding's statement that he returned the $50 receipt when the $43.35 was paid.

Sam Rosenberg refused to discuss the matter in any way.
