UPRISING IS TO WAIT

from the profound conviction that it would be a crime, in the midst of the present dangers, to attempt to shake the power of the sovereign.

After firmly setting forth the views of the signers of the address regarding the solution of the agrarian and other questions, and their dissent from the government program, which made co-operation between Parliament and the ministry impossible, the address says the emperor only exercised his real prerogative in submitting the issue again to the people to decide whether the views of Parliament actually coincided with the sentiment of the nation.

Financial Crisis Impending. No word of the military disorders is now permitted to be published. Discussing the financial situation the Reich today says that the quotations of Russian securities here and abroad are not a true barometer.

Peasants in the provinces the suppression of newspapers and the arrest of agitators continues unabated. In the present time there is no evidence of the expected rising of the peasantry, but news travels slow in the country.

Troops at Moscow. MORCOW, July 25.—The massing of troops in this city continues. The radiating railroad lines are carefully guarded and the whole city is under martial law.

Quiet at Odessa. ODESSA, July 25.—This city is comparatively quiet today. About seventy Jews have been arrested on suspicion of belonging to a self-defense organization.

RUSSIAN VIEW OF STRIFE

Dr. Elias Holovtchiner Predicts Triumph of People Over the Government. THINKS CZAR HIMSELF MAY BE KILLED Looks for No Such Revolution as France Had, but is Convinced the Autocracy Will Fall.

Dr. Elias Holovtchiner, 247 South Sixteenth street, a student of public affairs and particularly those of his native land, Russia, regards the impending gloom in the czar's kingdom with seriousness enough, but believes no such revolution as that of France will follow the recent dissolution of Parliament by the emperor.

Perfidy of the Government. "The Russian government did all in its power to interfere with the election of the first Parliament, packing the house with reactionaries, but then by the application of physical force the wave of radicalism could not be stopped, and the first Parliament was made of extreme leftists, with a few on the right. They have challenged from the very start the authority of the autocrat and have tried to flood the country with reforms."

Devastation Will Continue. "The peasants will keep on devastating the property of the land owners. We will hear of mutiny in the navy and army. An attempt will be made to inaugurate a general strike, but I doubt if it will be as effective as that of a year ago."

Forecast of the Weather. Fair Today in Nebraska, Warmer in Extreme East Portion—Fair Tomorrow.

Washington, July 25.—Forecast of the weather for Thursday and Friday: For Nebraska—Fair Thursday; warmer in extreme east portion; Friday, fair.

Table with 4 columns: Station, Temp, Max, Min, Rainfall. Includes stations like Omaha, Lincoln, and various regional points.

ADVICE TO THE CONFERENCE

Interparliamentary Union Would Have Property Protected in Case of War. CONTRABAND SHOULD BE WELL DEFINED Conference at London Ends After Adopting Resolution Against Large Armaments and Delegates Visit House of Lords.

LONDON, July 25.—The conference of the interparliamentary union, after a prolonged debate today, adopted the following resolution: The interparliamentary union, now assembled in London, expresses the view that the second Hague conference should be first by treaty define contraband of war as being restricted to arms, munitions of war and explosives.

Another resolution provides that each national group shall apply to its own government to grant funds to aid future conferences of the interparliamentary union. The decision as to the time and place of the next conference was left in the hands of the international council, which is expected that it will be held in Berlin in 1908.

Mr. Bryan Talks. Lord Chancellor Loreburn presided at the luncheon at the House of Lords, and Ambassador Reib, Paul Cambon, the French ambassador, Count Benckendorff, the Russian ambassador, and other members of the diplomatic corps; the speaker of the House of Commons, Mr. Lowther; Herbert Gladstone, the home secretary; the secretary for Ireland, Bryce, William J. Bryan and Prince Hilkoff were among the distinguished guests.
