

ICE MAN REFUSES TO ANSWER

Believer Denounces Newspaper Publicity, But Discreetly Keeps Mouth Shut.

GIVES NO INFORMATION ABOUT BUSINESS

County Attorney Professor Fear of Failure to Establish Basis of Prosecuting Dealers for Combine on Prices.

More refusals to answer questions relating to the details of the ice business met by County Attorney Slabaugh in his investigation of the alleged trust when L. J. Healey, a collector for the Omaha Cold Storage company and in charge of the district water branch of the business, was asked to testify Thursday morning.

Mr. Healey willingly answered general questions as to whether or not there is a trust, his answers being in the negative. He also denounced newspaper stories as without foundation, "like other stories which print." But when Judge Slabaugh asked him what it costs to make distilled ice, he refused to answer. The same refusal met a question as to what it cost to prepare ordinary ice for market.

"Prices are high," declared Mr. Healey, "because of the scarcity of the product." He denied that all companies sold at the same price, and when asked to name some of the companies that sold below 20 cents to the domestic trade he said one of the drivers told him the Ryan company sold it for 40 cents.

He was asked why one company could sell at a higher price than others, and in reply said it was because the customers knew his company could take care of them. The schedule of prices his company followed is as follows: Domestic trade, 25 cents a hundred; allowance $4 a ton; butcher shops and meat markets, 25; grocers, 25.

"It is not true that profit could be made this year at 25 cents and 40 cents a hundred," he was asked.

"That is true of local ice."

BOHEMIANS HONOR PATRIOT

Omaha Citizens Will Celebrate Anniversary of Great Reformers' Death.

The Bohemians of Omaha will celebrate the fiftieth anniversary of the death of their great journalist and statesman, Karel Havlicek Borovsky, Sunday at Bohemian Turner's hall on South Thirteenth street. Nearly all the Bohemian lodges of Omaha will participate in this celebration, numbering thirteen.

Karel Havlicek Borovsky was born in 1831 in a village named Borova, in Bohemia. His father was a country merchant. After his philosophical studies he began to study theology in the Prague Catholic seminary, where he spent a year. His liberalism not permitting him to continue. In 1856 he was appointed editor of the Pranske Noviny (Prague News), which in April, 1859, was stopped by the government for his liberal writing against the oppressive actions of the government. In May of the same year he began to publish another paper, named Slovan, which he allowed to stop in August of the same year, being warned by the government. He knew journalism would help his countrymen in both political as well as the material ways, and to do this work the best he could even resigned from the Parliament, of which he was a member, in December, 1861, he was at night arrested by the gendarmes and driven to Eirken in Tyrol. And even there in banishment he did not stop, but continued writing his best poems and political articles.

Most of his political compositions were confiscated by the government.

He remained in Brno until 1865, being visited in his banishment by his wife, but when he returned in the spring of 1865 he found his wife had died a short time previous. A year after his return, in 1866, he died, his last word being "Julia," the name of his wife.

The Bohemians in this country will erect a statue to Havlicek in Chicago, and the proceeds of the celebration in Omaha will go toward the erection of this statue. The celebration of this fiftieth anniversary are held all over this country in Bohemian settlements, as well as in the old country. The people now in the critical days in Russia, as well as in Austria, are beginning to appreciate the work which their great man, journalists and statesman, had done. The program in Turner's hall in Omaha will consist of orations, singing and music, and promises to be an excellent one.

LAUGHLAND SERIOUSLY SICK

Ex-Fundmaster at Death's Door, Says J. C. Lindsey, in Explanation of Record.

In regard to the statement which appeared in the Bee that former fundmaster Laughland is holding up certain public records, James C. Lindsey, whose name was mentioned in connection therewith, said:

"On June 8 Mr. Laughland became seriously sick and has been since in a half unconscious state. He asked me to go down to the pound and hand it over to his successor, and on the 22d when his representative applied for same he was given possession, even though his bond had not been signed, as the mayor was out of the city. Mr. Laughland asked me to have all his private papers sent to his home, which was done, though he has been too sick to see them yet. The record of which so much has been said is a book which, to my own knowledge, has been in Mr. Laughland's possession for the last fourteen years and was used to keep note of how much money was paid to his assistant who ac-

GOVERNOR ON DONOHUE CASE

Mickey is Coquetting on What to Do with Omaha Detective.

AWAITS STATEMENT FROM THE OFFICIAL

Chief Executive Writes to Deputy County Attorney Shotwell of His Demand for Return of the Money.

Thursday morning Deputy County Attorney Shotwell received a letter from Governor Mickey relative to the Detective Donohue case. Part of the letter reads: "I have demanded that Donohue immediately return the $43.85 he wrongfully received from the state treasury. As soon as I receive a statement from Donohue I shall determine what course I shall take in the matter."

Upon request of the governor Mr. Shotwell sent to Lincoln depositions and papers relative to Detective Donohue's actions as agent for the state in bringing J. J. Herz, prisoner, from Kansas City July 1.

June 27 Donohue received from Dave Harding, saloon keeper, $43.85 expense for Sam Rosenberg, complainant against Herz. The case against Herz was dismissed in the police court by the county attorney with the understanding that the state would not be held for the expense money. Donohue, however, billed against the state for the $43.85, receiving the money through an Omaha bank July 14, thus receiving the $43.85 twice for the same services. When the matter was first brought to Mr. Donohue's attention, last Saturday afternoon, he maintained he returned the $43.85 soon after his return from Kansas City. Sunday morning he insisted he paid the money to Fred Kirchner, Harding's bartender, Friday evening of last week between 4:30 and 6 p. m. Kirchner now emphatically insists that he received the money after 4:30 p. m. last Saturday from Donohue, which was after the time a reporter for The Bee called on Donohue for a statement of the case. Saturday afternoon at 4 o'clock Dave Harding could not say whether he had received the $43.85 back from Donohue or not.

Deputy County Attorney Shotwell issued a sworn deposition last Friday afternoon from Harding, stating that Harding up to that time had not received the $43.85 back from Donohue. The receipt given by Kirchner to Donohue for the $43.85 bears no date. Donohue maintained he was only careless in not returning the money to Harding sooner than he did.

Last Monday morning Harding confirmed Kirchner's statement that the $43.85 had been returned by Donohue on the Saturday previous.

Never Sent a Man to the Hospital.

During the Spanish-American war I commanded Company G, Ninth Illinois Infantry. During our stay in Cuba nearly every man in the company had diarrhoea or stomach trouble. We never sent a man to the hospital, but gave him a dose of two of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy and next day he was all right. We always had a dozen bottles of more of it in our medicine chest.—Orra Havill. This remedy can always be depended upon for colic and diarrhoea and should be kept on hand in every home.

ROYAL HAWAIIAN BAND WINS

Popular Favor is Going Out to the Auditorium.

There is something seductive about the Royal Hawaiian Glee club singing with the Hawaiian band at the Auditorium. The native songs, with their accompaniment, fill the senses of the hearer and make him think he is swinging in a hammock with a gentle breeze of the Pacific fanning his brow. The band was liberally patronized last evening. The program was an interesting one. At the conclusion of the ten numbers the floor was cleared and a dance program was given.

After the first number, which was Sousa's "Till to the Spirit of Liberty," the band responded to an encore with a medley of American national airs which stirred the audience to a high pitch of enthusiasm. Mrs. Anna Ellis and John S. Ellis were again vociferously received.

Another concert date will be given Saturday evening.

MAN KILLED WHILE AT WORK

Walter B. Brennan Accidentally Strikes Self with Crow Bar, Breaking Neck.

Walter B. Brennan, of Thirtieth and Walnut streets, was instantly killed in the carpenter shop of Swift and Company, South Omaha, Thursday morning at 11 o'clock by having his neck broken. With companions he was engaged in taking some car wheels from a box car and was using a steel crowbar with which to handle the wheels. As he was prying on a wheel with the bar he hand slipped and the bar flew up and hit under the chin, killing him instantly. He leaves a wife and two children. Dr. Schmidt was called, but was too late to be of any service, as the man probably was killed instantly. The body was taken to Brewer's undertaking rooms and an inquest probably will be held Friday.

Man Caught Between Cars

Louis Mantell, an employe with the Nebraska-Louis Grain company at Gibson, was injured Thursday afternoon by being caught between two cars at Third and Pierce streets. Mantell was alighting on a boxcar, which came together on the man, one of the cars being without a driver. The man's left leg was crushed. He was removed to his room at the Pacific hotel in the police ambulance. Police Surgeon Harris attended him.

WOMAN IN CLUB AND CHARITY

The biennial number of the Federation Bulletin includes the following statement from Miss Jane Addams regarding the resolutions issued just previous to the St. Paul biennial, asking club women to endorse the disfranchisement of working women, which occasioned so much comment and for a time threatened to precipitate the question of woman suffrage at the St. Paul meeting:

"As chairman of the advisory industrial committee, I venture to issue a word of explanation in regard to the circular sent out by our committee in April. The members of the committee signed the circular because we believed that the ballot would afford the best protection against disfranchising women and expedite that protective legislation which they so sadly need and in which America is so deficient. The circular was sent in our advisory capacity, and with no reference to the general policy of the General Federation of Women's Clubs, nor to the convictions held by its officers. No plan was made to bring the matter up for action nor in any sense to make it an issue at the St. Paul meeting."

The Women's Journal of Boston quotes Mrs. Florence Kelly, also of the advisory industrial committee, in a private interview as follows: "Jane Addams and the other members of our advisory industrial committee do not expect or wish that the biennial this year should vote on our resolution in behalf of equal suffrage for the sake of working women. We offered it in order to promote the consideration and discussion of the question, and we hope it will serve the purpose of stimulating organizations and local clubs all through the next two years."

Club women of the south, especially the chapters of the United Daughters of the Confederacy, are waging an energetic campaign in the interest of education. In many of the southern states the poll tax is applied partially, or entirely, on the school fund. The penalty of failure to pay this tax is disfranchisement. State expenditures and local clubs all through the next two years.

The building fund of the local Young Women's Christian association continues to receive small though encouraging contributions. Wednesday a charitable organization handed the building secretary $10 for the fund. She declined to give her name, but said she lived about fifty miles from the city, and came here often enough to be instrumental in making the most of the school funds, especially in Louisiana.

The work of the Denver Women's club received substantial recognition recently by having its building exempted from taxes on the ground that it is a charitable organization and engaged in humanitarian work. The money formerly used for paying county and city taxes will now be applied on the mortgage on the building.

August 6 to 11 are the dates announced for the International Women Suffrage conference, which will be held at Copenhagen, Denmark. The Hotel Kongen of Copenhagen, Copenhagen, will be headquarters for a number of prominent American woman suffragists will be in attendance, among them Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt, Miss Shaw and Miss Lucy Anthony.

AK-SAR-BEN DAISY, A NEW ONE

Flower Grown by Frank Dewey and Named After His Royal 'Ighness.'

Frank Dewey, deputy county clerk, has discovered a new flower which he proposes naming the Ak-Sar-Ben daisy. He grew the flowers from seed sent him by Congressman Kennedy, but so far no one has found who can name it. In form it is like a large daisy. The petals are red and yellow and in the young flower the center is green. As this combination forms the official colors of King Samsou Ak-Sar-Ben, those who have seen it have commented on its beauty.

Card of Thanks.

We, the undersigned, hereby wish to express to our neighbors and friends the most heartfelt thanks for their beautiful floral offerings and their deep sympathy with our grief at the irreparable loss of our dearest husband and father, Anton Bortenlanger.

Mueller Will Case.

The hearing of the Arthur C. Mueller will case was begun before County Judge Leslie Thursday afternoon. The hearing is to determine three questions—the competency of Mr. Mueller to make a will whether or not this court has jurisdiction and whether a copy of the will can be introduced in evidence. The hearing will probably last several days. Mr. Paul Mueller, a clerk for Schmoller & Mueller, was one of the principal witnesses. He said Mr. Mueller's actions in the fall of the year 1904 led him to believe that he was not in his right mind and cited several instances on which he based his belief.

Federal Building Decoration.

The work of redecorating the interior mahogany finish of the south federal court room has been completed and the maze of scaffolding removed. The painters will once begin to do a similar job of work in the north court room, the scaffolding now being placed for that purpose. The new opera chairs for seating the auditorium of the court rooms will be placed there in the south court room next week. The old chairs have already been shipped to Norfolk to be used in furnishing the federal building there.

Henry Coombs has begun suit in district court against Edward LaPage, growing out of injuries he received November 3, 1904, in a collision with a wagon owned by LaPage and driven by George Higby, an employe. He says he was injured to his leg for eight or ten weeks. He wants $5,000.

A complaint has been filed in juvenile court against five youths living at 2367 Hinnebaugh avenue, who are charged with setting fire to buildings in the neighborhood. The complaint is filed by John D. Behrens. The boy fires the buildings, it is charged, for the pleasure of setting them burn.

PERMIT FOR BIG BUILDING

Certificate for Five-Story Spieberger Structure on Farnam Issued.

BIG SUM OF BOSTON MONEY DRAWN HERE

Old Haney Residence Being Moved for Real Estate Exchange Home—Y. M. C. A. Plastering Contract is Awarded.

The permit for the five-story brick building at 1114-16 Farnam street, which is to be occupied by M. Spieberger & Sons when it is completed about January 1, has been issued by the city building department. The estimated expenditure is $85,000, meaning just that amount coming to Omaha from the east. H. H. and A. B. Emmons of Boston have owned the lot, which is just east of the Omaha Rubber Shoe company's building, for a long time. It is the only piece of property they have in Omaha and they have decided to place a structure on it, believing the future has bright prospects in store for the city.

The deal, which was handled by Harrison & Morton, includes a ten-year lease of the Spieberger firm on the new building. The latter will be 44 feet wide and 122 feet deep. John McDonald drew the plans and Griffen & Chapin secured the general contract. As indicated by the issuance of the permit work is to begin at once.

Big Plastering Contract.

One of the largest plastering jobs ever let in the city has just been awarded to the firm of Anderson Bros., which makes a specialty of this kind of work. It is the job on the Young Men's Christian association and is said to be the biggest since the Bee building and the New York Life building were completed. The contract was awarded by Parsons & Keene, the general contractor, to Anderson Bros. for $25,000. It shows the rapid construction of the association building at Seventeenth and Harney streets.

The old Edwin Haney house at Eighteenth and Farnam streets is being removed to make way for the Real Estate Exchange building. The task of getting the unwieldy structure down to the street is a difficult one. Before the new building is started considerable grading must be done.

The city has issued permits to G. H. Vaughn for a $2,500 frame dwelling at Thirteenth and Pine; M. Dimick, $1,700 frame dwelling at Twenty-sixth and Woolworth avenue, and the Omaha Gas company, $1,000 concrete coal bins at Twentieth and Center.

Announcements of the Theaters.

The variety and excellence of the vaudeville program offered at the Bijou theater this week have drawn large audiences at each performance. As the high character of the new playhouse has become better known the attendance has increased steadily. The stock company's clever presentation of "In Old Virginia" has proved one of the features of this week's bill. Mackley, the banjolist; Pauline Courtney, with her ballads; Hugh McCormick's ventriloquist entertainment; Mr. and Mrs. Waterloo, the vocalist; Russell and Held, in a lively singing and dancing sketch, and a series of humorous motion pictures completes the bill. A matinee at popular prices will be given Saturday afternoon at 2:30.
