

WAR KING AND PA WINS TWO

Eastern Shuts Out Denver in Thirteenth Inning and Omaha Wins Second.

LITTLE SOUTHPAW MASTER OF THE DAY

Allows But Five Safe Ones and Makes the Hit Which Seals His Victory.

War Sanders is the biggest man in Omaha, in fact, he's the biggest man in the country.

The first game of the double-header, which Omaha won from Denver at Vinton Street park yesterday, was won by War Sanders. War Sanders pitched thirteen long innings and allowed but five safe hits, struck out seven men and passed none. Not until the sixth inning did he let a man reach first base. But, as if that was not enough, the little southpaw made the hit in the twelfth inning that gave the victory to Omaha. Basey was on second and Sanders punched one of his little hits down into the middle of the diamond.

Adams, who was in the box, reached out his hand and checked the ball, but did not stop it. Basey had a big lead when the hit was made and instead of stopping at third, kept on for home at a breakneck speed, sliding under Zalusky before the ball could be put on him. It was a daring piece of back-swinging, but it paid off so badly on Denver as to put the Grizzlies completely at his mercy. Adams himself pitched a good game.

Dodge pitched the second game for Omaha which was won, 7 to 4. He was crushed up at first, but settled down and did well.

Big Crowd is Out. The usual Sunday crowd was augmented by a large excursion from the branch lines to the north of the Union Pacific, one train bringing in eighteen coaches full of the guards, and another being almost as large. These boys from the state will surely have something to tell the neighbors who stayed at home that first game will go down in the memory of Omaha as the greatest contest ever held in Omaha. When nine innings had been played but one hour and twenty minutes had been consumed.

Omaha made seven hits off Adams and passed one man, hit Howard and struck out but four. Sanders had been under the weather for the last week and had not worked in his turn since he shut out Des Moines last Monday in an exciting game. He was hardly in condition to work yesterday, but took his turn to help out in the second game.

From the start it was to be seen that the game was to be a corker and it was one, two, three, until Perring came to in the fourth. He was the twenty-fourth man up and not a man had yet reached first base. Perring, who had not pitched since he was out of the game, did not cash in. Denver did not get a man to first until the sixth, when Donahue led off with a single and was sacrificed to second, but died there. Dolan made a hit in the seventh, but it counted for nothing. Denver made two hits in the eighth inning, but Goding brought the inning to a swift close by catching Adams napping at first.

Omaha made four singles in the tenth and still did not score. Dolan led off with a single and was doubled when Lawler hit the pitcher. McHale tripped Lawler, but Davis did not see the play and the double stood. Goding singled, as did also Sanders. Carter hit for a single to left and Goding tried to score, but a good throw by Randall nipped him at the plate. Four hits without a run.

Denver made two hits in the eleventh, but could not cash them, the inning ending by Sport McNeil being caught at second when he attempted to steal. He tried to "slain" a ball, but Davis said nay.

In the twelfth inning Basey walked and went to second when McHale's grounder. Lawler flew to right, but could not tag few out to Belden and it was up to Sanders to win his own game. He hit the ball toward the pitcher, who only stopped it a little. In the meanwhile Basey was tagging it for home and by the time Donahue had reached the ball he scored. It was home Basey had slid in, Davis said he was safe and War Sanders had scored his second shutout in less than a week.

Battling in Second Game. The second game was just the opposite of the first. The ball was hit and scored. The lot. Dodge was sent in by Long and Old Man Everest called upon Mr. Paige, who had finished the last five innings of the thirteen-inning game Saturday. Both pitchers got on the base, but the first man stayed in and after the big fellow had warmed up a little and been hit a little he settled down and did good work.

DIETZS LOSE TWO SCALPS

Cherokee Indians Down Athletics Club in Daylight and Dark.

REGULAR GAME A WARM CONTEST

Only Run Forced in During Last Half of Ninth by Base on Balls from White Pitcher.

The Cherokee Indians won two games from the Dietz Athletics yesterday at Dietz park, the second being unique in that it was played by gas light. Both games were hotly contested. In the afternoon the Indians won by the score of 1 to 0 and in the evening by the score of 4 to 1. A hot afternoon game was a hot one from start to finish. The score stood 0 to 0 until the last half of the ninth inning, when with bases full, Young walked Doctor, letting Aspinwall in for the free run. The game was clean and free from wrangling throughout.

At first base were the stars for the redskins. The Dietz boys played an errorless game. Hall, who has been out of the play for a month on account of a bad cold, pitched a month and did excellent work. Knight at short did some of the sensational stunts, getting six assists and two putouts without an error. The battery work of Young and Massman and the excellent pitching of the Indians were features of the game.

The Cherokee team is made up entirely of Indians with the exception of Kirke, the third baseman and captain. All of the Indians are college men, some of them being from the Carlisle school in the east.

Great Crowd in the Evening. Temporary seats had to be put up to accommodate the large crowd that gathered for the night game, which was about the fastest exhibition of ball that has been seen in many moons. The game was a combination between indoor baseball and the regular league game. The regulations were such that the pitcher was not allowed to pitch over the head and some of the restrictions of the league were observed. All kinds of balks and false motions of all kinds and bunting and strike are allowed. The pitcher is not allowed to pitch over the head and many of them were caught off the bat by the Dietz men getting exciting from beginning to the end and the crowd was on its feet most of the time. Dietz was batting straight on in the second, and in the same inning the red skins got a double play. The pitcher was hit by a ball and the game was suspended for a few minutes.

The diamond was reduced in size, the bases being moved in. The pitcher was hit by a ball and the game was suspended for a few minutes.
