Talk of Export Susiness at Seaboard Sceme to Have No Influence-Shorts in September Corn Continue in Nervous Mood.

OMAHA, Aug. 9, 1996.

The weather situation in the northwest seems to have been worked for all it was worth by the wheat buils, and after strong opening prices, occasioned by rains has night, the market eased off, closing nearly a cent lower for the day. The opening birought changed to weakness on receipt of the forecast, when heavy selling resulted. Occasional rallies came, but they were net with selling orders. There was talk of export business at the scaboard, but it had no effect on prices. Receipts were smaller than last week, but much larger than a year ago. Cash demand was fair.

September corn was peryous prices fall-OMAHA, Aug. 9, 1906.

CHICAGO GRAIN AND PROVISIONS

With the exception of a brief period at the opening the wheat market was weak all day. During the early part of the session the chief influence was weather conditions, absence of rain both in the northwest and southwest being responsible. Later a belief that the government report which will be published tomorrow will indicate a larger yield than a year ago caused increased selling. In addition there were other factors that helped to weaken the market. Among these were weak cables, large primary receipts, lower prices for cash wheat at Kansas City and St. Louis and an estimate of liberal local receipts tomorrow. Local longs were the principal sellors, although commission, houses sold freely. There appeared to be less support from cash houses, the principal demand coming from shorts. The market closed weak. September opened 167% higher at 73% C. Clearances of wheat and flour were equal to 325,000 bu. Primary receipts were 1,030,000 bu., compared with 68,000 tor the corresponding day one year ago. Minnespolis, Duluth and Chicago reported receipts of 500 cars, as against 700 last week and 460 a year ago.

The corn market was steady at the start the corresponding day one year ago. Minneapolis, Duluth and Chicago reported receipts of 500 cars, as against 700 last week and 450 a year ago.

The corn market was steady at the start because of fair demand by cash houses, which was influenced by small local receipts. Sentiment, however, soon became bearish and during the remainder of the day the market held rather weak. Weather favorable to the growing crop was one of the chief weakening factors, although the hreak in wheat had considerable effect. Likelihood that the government crop report would show a yield over the average also aided in forcing down the price. A partial rally occurred late in the day on covering by shorts, but the market closed easy. September opened unchanged to 160 cars, with 73 of contract grade.

Oats displayed considerable weakness after a firm start. Weather conditions were more favorable and belief became prevalent that the crop had not suffered so much damage as had previously been feared. The weakness of wheat and corn was also a deprossing influence. September opened 160 higher at 31%c. sold off to 30%c and closed at 13%31%c. Local receipts were 206 cars.

An increased hog movement caused fairly active selling of lard and ribs by nit traders and resulted in a weak market for provisions. Pork did not sell off with the balance of the list, fear of possible manipulation annarenily holding this product steady. There was a decline of 10c in the noise of live hogs. At the close September pork was unchanged at $16.55 lard was off 7450 at $2.50 cars; corn. 74 cars; oats, 256 cars; hogs.
