MAYOR RAIDS RESTAURANT

Alleges Liquor is Being Sold in the Place After Midnight.

EMPLOYES ALL PLACED UNDER ARREST

Action Taken Because Complaint Was Made Restaurant Was Being Used to Evade Midnight Closing Order.

Mayor Macrea took a hand personally it the enforcement of the midnight closing order at an early hour this morning. About o'clock he entered the restaurant run in connection with the Manhattan saloon, where he discovered a number of people drinking at the tables. He personally placed all the employes of the place under arrest and then telephoning for the police had the prisoners taken to the city jail. H. A. Larson, proprietor of the place, gave ball for their appearance in police court Monday morning and the employes were released from custody. The action was taken by the mayor on account of complaint made to him that liquor was being sold in the restaurant attached to the Manhattan saloon after the saloon had been closed and in this way the midnight closing order was being evaded.

This is the second time Mayor Macrae has personally conducted a raid, and in both instances he landed a load for the patrol wagon.

OBJECTION TO STREET CARNIVAL Residents on First Avenue Dislike Having Street Fenced Up.

The executive committee of the Commercial club, under the auspices of which the street fair and carnival will be held this year, yesterday decided to invite all the fraternal and military organizations of the city and surrounding towns to take part in the parade, which will mark the opening of the carnival on Monday, September 3.

Some of the residents on First avenue are not over pleased at the prospect of havingthe street in front of their homes fenced off again this year, not to mention the annoyance from the noise of the street fair. and there has been some desultory talk the last few days of enjoining the carnival company from occupying the streets. There was some similar talk last year, but the matter was smoothed over and it possibly may be arranged this year without taking the matter into the courts. There has also been some talk of enjoining the park commissioners from permitting any portion of Bayliss park being fenced off. Those who are protesting contend that the park comnissioners are exceeding their authority permitting the park to be shut off from he public for a whole week.

TABOR—Last evening fire, originating from spontaneous combustion caused by several tons of oats and baled hay being placed in the barn on E. R. Ashley's place in North Tabor, destroyed the barn and contents. The loss amounts to about $400, which is covered by insurance.

NEWTON — The coroner's jury in the George Hoffmeier case returned a verdict last night that Hoffmeier had come to his death from 'poison administered by his own hand, but not with suicidal intent.' Hoffmeier's body has been taken to Knox-ville for burial and there has been no examination of the contents of the stomach. BOONE—While playing with his father's rifle, which had been left standing in a corner of the kitchen, little George Mc-Bride shot and perhaps fatally wounded Johnnie Becket, a 9-year-old son of a neighbor. The builet entered the boy's body a little above the right hip and passed clear through the abdomen, coming out near the cetner of the body in front. NEWTON—Louise M. Lister, daughter of Will Begin New Departure. Prof. George L. McKay of the State College of Agricuture will shortly begin a new departure in college extension work. He has appointed Mr. Guthrie, a graduate of the school, to the work. He will begin this summer and will work continuously among the farmers of the state, going from one farm to another. He will test the milk cows to ascertain how profitable they are. The feed given the cows will be measured and valued and the value of the milk secured from the cows taken and the farmer informed of the profit.

are to be appointed by the colonel.

NEWTON-Louise M. Lister, daughter of a German count, has caused a sensation here by filing a suit for divorce against her husband, Arthur Lister, part owner of the Lister opera house here and advance agent of the Chase-Lister Theatrical company, which is known in nearly every town in Iowa. She states that her husband treated her in a cruel and inhuman manner, frequently kicking her and pulling her hair. Mrs. Lister is prominent in social circles here. She was formerly a teacher in the Burlington schools. It is said her father was a German count who was driven from his country for political Pair Race Officials. rman count who was Secretary John C. Quiet Hegira of Women Over Thirty-Five from Philadelphia Y. W. C. A.

to find other quarters. Twelve whole months were allowed for quiet and dignified solution of this delicate problem. Many former residents of the big building, who came under the ban of years, have already gone; still others have taken full advantage of the time limit, and now the hegira is on in earnest. There were never any direct personal notices. The order was simply hung up in a general impersonal way, as much as to say, "This doesn't mean you, but if you are over 35-"

During the year a few of the more conspicuously elder occupants have folded their tents, like the Arab, and as silently stolen away. They didn't admit that they couldn't put up with the meals any longer, or that the wall paper in their room was just too dreadful to be looked at another minute, or that the matron was such t hateful old thing they couldn't endure her, or that the rules and regulations of the institution were too binding.

And there is something in that, too. a girl wants to have a beau at the Young Women's Christian association building, it is said that she has to submit his photograph and pedigree to the board of di rectors. If he passes inspection he may call once every month between the hours of 8 and 9:45, occupying one whole chair to himself in a brilliantly lighted parlor. If in these congenial surroundings the young man were to fall into a stupor and stay until 9:46, it was the duty of the matron to call time on him.

Spiteful associationers have charged that these rules are responsible for the large number of girls who have stayed on and on there until they were past the dead line. Many a lover who is willing to go through fire for a girl shrinks at Ice water. But there are about a dozen suspects left in the building who have as yet made no signs of departure. They have not been with the association thirty-five years and consequently there is no way of proving that they are past the age limit.-New York Herald.

DENVER, Aug. 11.-Judge John I. Mullins, sitting in the criminal division of the district court today, made an order setting aside the writ of habaes corpus issued yesterday by District Judge Peter L. Palmer in the case of the four men sentenced to jail by County Judge Ben B. Lindsey for contempt of court in refusing to testify in the franchise election contest, and ordered Sheriff Nesbit to bring them into the criminal court. Judge Mullins assumes jurisdiction of the case under the practice of the district court, which provides that write of habeas corpus issued by civil judges must be made returnable in the criminal division. Judge Palmer had made the writ returnable before him September II and released the prisoners on bonds.

The four men are: Henry L. Doherty, president of the Denver Gas and Electric company; George N. Ordway, president of the elections' committee; Fred A. Williams and John Cook, ir.
