

BEFORE THE PEOPLE'S BAR

Jolly Tar from Distant Seaport of Havana Illinois, Drifts Ashore. MAKES VAIN ATTEMPT TO RUN A SHIP With Cargo of Liquid Fire He Boards Missouri Vessel and Tries to Seize the Helm.

Omaha's waterways have not figured much in days gone by before the people's bar. Most of the victims before that famous temple of justice have been dry land habits. Monday morning, however, there came one who laid claim to being a jolly tar of the first water. His name was George Ball and his residence was registered by the desk sergeant at police headquarters as Havana, Ill. Ball was arrested Saturday evening on the good steamer Susan by Patrolman Jackson on the charge of being drunk and disorderly. Acting Desk Sergeant Sandstrom left this report on Ball:

George Ball took on a cargo of liquid goods that makes additional trouble for the purpose of taking command. There was some dispute about the transfer of authority and after some words with Officer Jackson, who comprised the marine guard, Ball was knocked into the lee-scupper and charged with drunkenness and disorderly conduct.

When arraigned in police court Monday morning Ball maintained he had been given command of the Susan by Mayor Dahlman and Poundmaster Millard. Failing to show his credentials the police magistrate fined the man $5 and costs without further ado.

Daniel McCarthy, an old offender, tried to work the deaf and dumb racket on Detective Sam Drummy on Sunday. Mr. Drummy cured McCarthy of his affliction and sent him to jail on the charge of drunkenness and begging on the streets. Thirty days in the county jail. McCarthy tried to tell the police judge he had looked for work and failed. The police judge said he knew there was plenty of work for willing hands and refused to be worked on such a stall as that.

F. W. Young, colored, was fined $5 and costs before the people's bar Monday morning when arraigned on the charge of having been drunk and disorderly at the saloon of John Achats, 411 North Seventh street, Sunday evening. Young entered the Achats dispensary with a document he thought was a deed. Young said he had paid a stranger $5 for the paper, which, he believed, gave him possession of the place. Mr. Achats took sundry objections to Young's actions and called for the police. When the police arrived Young had Achats outside and scared as a lost cow.

R. A. Dewitt of South Omaha had a fight Sunday in Omaha with a stranger whose name he failed to learn. He was fined $5 and costs. The fight occurred at Eighth and Vinton streets and attracted the attention of Sergeant Vanous and Patrolmen Lickert and Shields to the scene. Dewitt got the worst of the conflict. He told the police judge he would not fight with strangers hereafter. The police judge told Dewitt to leave his gloves at home henceforth. Dewitt said he would.

James Keefe went to sleep on a walk Sunday. He was arrested on the charge of drunkenness and sleeping on a walk. The police judge fined Keefe $5 and costs. Keefe said he was unable to leave Omaha Sunday as intended. Tom Lee, city prosecutor, gave Keefe a list of the various avenues of escape from the city.

George Lannigan of Waterloo, Ia., told the police judge he came to Omaha without the knowledge of his folks. Lannigan is 25 years of age. He said he came here for a little celebration. One and costs for the Iowa.

Charles Myers and wife of Seventh and Leavenworth streets were each sentenced thirty days by the police judge Monday morning. Mrs. Mary Baker of 713 Leavenworth street complained of the actions of the Myers Sunday. It was reported that the Myers were tipping houses over and tearing up the tracks Sunday while in their cups.

Joseph Klusa of 1818 Pierce street was arraigned on the charge of wife abandonment. It was reported Klusa had spent the earnings of his daughter, Annie, for drink. Annie has been selling papers on the street to support her mother. Klusa will have a trial Tuesday morning.

J. J. Sinder, driver for the Doty stables, was fined $5 and costs for reckless driving. Sinder ran over J. L. Penn at Sixth and Capitol avenue Saturday morning.

Lawrence Garrett was sentenced thirty days for stealing tools from various parts of the city. He pleaded guilty.

MICKEY GETTING STRENUOUS Governor Dates Letter to Sheriff McDonald Fourteen Years Ahead of Time.

Sheriff McDonald has received a document signed by Governor John H. Mickey which is puzzling him somewhat. It is a commission as a delegate from this state to the National Prison association convention, which, according to the document, meets in Albany, N. Y., September 12 to 20, 1906. Just why the appointment should be made fourteen years in advance is what stumps the office force. One of the wise ones suggested that perhaps the clerk who filled in the blanks had been up late the night before and had made a mistake in the year, intending to write 1906.

MILITIA HOME FROM RILEY National Guards Return from Big Army School of Instruction.

LOTS OF HARD WORK AND SOME FUN Boys Are Delighted with Treatment Accorded them by the Regular Officers and Their Own.

Companies G and I, Second regiment, and L, First regiment, Nebraska National Guard, arrived home from Fort Riley at 10 o'clock Monday morning, after their eight days' outing. The Nebraska brigade left Fort Riley at 8 o'clock Sunday night and came in a solid train to Lincoln, from which point the several regiments and companies dispersed to their respective homes. The Omaha boys report a very pleasant time, though they had lots of hard work. They participated in all the maneuvers and sham battles and are delighted with their treatment by the regular army officers and by their own officers. The routine of work consisted of daily drills, company, regimental, brigade and skirmish, and while somewhat strenuous, was enjoyable.

There was very little sickness among the Nebraska boys. A few of them had slight attacks of fever and more or less stomach trouble from the change of diet and water, but generally the health of the command, particularly the Omaha boys, was good. It was a little rough to diet on bacon and army rations, but they soon got accustomed to it, rather liked the change in the end, and would not have objected to staying another week. The Arkansas militia relieved the Nebraska troops in the camp and will remain there ten days.

Company L of the First Nebraska, "Thursdon Rifles," met a number of old regulars that they soldiers with in the Philippines seven years ago, and the "Bugard Mess" enjoyed a jolly good time with their old friends. The Nebraskans were constantly visited by the regular troops and got along with them nicely. The boys were given frequent liberty to go to Junction City and to Fort Riley, and withal the outing is one that they will all pleasantly remember, and hope to go back there again next year.

CARLAND CLEANS UP DOCKET South Dakota Judge Completes Business Before Federal Court and Leaves.

Having cleaned up the equity docket and there being no further pressing business before the United States court, Judge Carland left Monday afternoon for his home at Sioux Falls.

The next term of the federal courts will be held in October at Lincoln. It is probable a grand jury will be called for the Lincoln term, as well as a petit jury, to care for cases originating in the South Platte country.
