Secretary of State Delivers Important Address at Buenos Ayrea.

AMERICANS JUSTIFIED IN THEIR FAITH

Progress of South American Republic. is Proof of Ability of the People to Govern Themselves.

BUENOS AYRES, Aug. 15 .- At the official banquet given at the government house last evening by President Alcorta in honor of Secretary Root, to which the diplomatic corps and high officials of the state only were invited, the secretary made what was considered the most important speech he has delivered while on his tour. The scene was most brilliant.

Rising to tender the secretary an official welcome and proposing the health of Mr. Root the president traced the similarity in the constitutions, progress and success in overcoming obstacles of North and South America and dwelt especially on the mutual advantage of closer friendship between the races.

Reply of Secretary.

replying Mr. Root said: It hank you sir, for your kind welcome and for your words of appreciation. I thank you for myself. I thank you for that true and hoble gentleman who holds in the United States of America the same exalted office which you hold here. I thank you for the millions or citizens in the United States.

We inherit the right to be interested in the Argentine republic and to be proug in the Argentine republic and to be proud of the Argentine people. From the time when Benjamin Rush was nguing, trom gauntlet for a weak republic, we w then in deres independence and rights, and from that day to this the interest and friendship of the people of the United States for the Argentine republic have never changed. We rejoice

So how can the people of the United States help feeling interest for Argentina, I deemed it a light to come the people of the United States help feeling interest for Argentina. I deemed it a people who inhabit it. So how can the people of the United States help feeling interest for Argentina. I deemed it a duty to come in response to your kind invitation to say this and to say that there is not a cloud in the sky of good understanding. There are no political questions at issue between Argentina and the United States. There is not thought of grievance of one against the other. There are no old grudges or scores to settle. We can rejoice in each others prosperity. We can assist each others prosperity. We can be proud of each others successes without innorance or drawback and for the development of this sentiment, in both countries, nothing is needed, but more knowledge. That we shall know each other better and that not only the most educated and thoughtful readers of our countries shall become familiar with the history of the other, but that the entire body of the people shall know what are the relations and what are the feelings of the other country. I should be glad that the people of the Argentine republic, not merely you, Mr. President, not merely-my friend the minister of foreign relations, not merely the gentlemen connected with the government, but the people of Argentina might know the feeling with which the people of the United States are their friends as I know the people of the United States.

Tradition of Nation.

I have come to South America with no more specific object than I have stated. Dur traditional policy in the United States of America is to make no alinative and the states of America is to make no alinative as inculcated by Washington. It has been adhered to by his successors ever since; but, Mr. President, the alliance that comes from unwritten and unsealed instruments, as that from the convention signed and ratified with all formalities, is of vital importance. We make no promises, but we make an alliance with all our sisters in sentiment and feeling in the pursuit of liberty and fustice, in mutual helpfulness, and in that spirit I beg to return to you, sir, and to your government and the people of this splendid and wonand the people of this splendid and won-lerful country my sincere thanks for the RIGHTING INDIANS' WRONGS Commissioner Leupp Says He is Giving Attention to the Winnebagoes.

(From a Staff Correspondent.) WASHINGTON, Aug. 16.-(Special Telelast night from a trip as far west as San Francisco, where he superintended the opening of bids for the Indian service west of the Rockies.

Commissioner Leupp was questioned relative to criticisms which were recently made regarding his methods of dealing with alleged frauds and abuses against the Winnebago Indians. He said in reply:

"We are not advertising what we are attempting to do to right the wrongs which have been perpetrated against the Winnebagoes in the past.

"It is sufficient to know that the frauds complained of cannot, under my administration, occur in the future. I am not saving anything as to what I am endeavoring to accomplish to right past wrongs, but you may say, if you choose, that they will be ample, and I hope far-reaching enough to warn wrongdoers of the future. I have not taken Father Schell into my confidence as to the methods being pursued to protect the Winnebagoes, and that is possibly the reason of the outburst of disapproval to which you refer. I did not send a special agent into this reservation to announce with a brass band his instructions, but if he follows up the suggestions made to him I feel perfectly confident that many of the abuses which it is alleged have been practiced upon the Winnebagoes in the past will be made impossible in the future."

The acting secretary of the interior has awarded the following contracts: To build a brick hospital at Rapid City, S. D., to Garland & Burgh, Rapid City, $5,989, to construct a school building at the Pierre Indian school, W. D. Lovell, Minneapolis, $13,906.

BROWNSVIILLE, Tex., Aug. 15.—The negro garrison near here has quieted down and an investigation is in progress to determine who were the participants in the disorders of Tuesday, when one man was shot and killed by the negro troops. Bitter feeling exists against the negro troops. Officers of the garrison are keeping all men in barracks to avoid trouble.

Trust to Nature

A great many Americans, both meand women, are thin, pale and puny, with poor circulation, because they have illitreated their stomachs by hasty eating or too much eating, by consuming alcoholic beverages, or by too close confinement to home, office or factory, and in consequence the stomach must be treated in a natural way before they can rectify their earlier mistakes. The muscles in many such people, in fact in every weary, thin and thin-blooded person, do their work with great difficulty. As a result fatigue comes early, is extreme and laste long. The demand for nutritive aid is ahead of the supply. To insure perfect health every tissue, bone, nerve and muscle should take from the blood certain materials and return to it certain others. It is necessary to prepare the muscie should take from the blood certain materials and return to it certain others. It is necessary to prepare the stomach for the work of taking up from the food what is necessary to make good, rich, red blood. We must go to Nature for the remedy, There were certain roots known to the Indians of this country before the advent of the whites which later came to the knowledge of the settlers and which are now growing rapidly in professional favor for the cure of obstinate stomach and liver troubles. These are found to be safe and yet certain in their cleansing and invigorating effect upon the stomach, liver and blood. These are: Golden Seal root, Queen's root, Stone root, Bloodroot, Mandrake root. Then there is Black Cherrybark. The medicinal principles residing in these antive roots when extracted with glycerine as a solvent make the most reliable and efficient stomach tonic and liver intigerator, when combined in just the right proportions, as in Dr. Pierce's Guiden Medicai Discovery. Where there is hankrupt vitality—such as nervous exhaustion, bad nutrition—and thin blood, the body acquires vigor and the nerves, blood and all the tissues feel the favogable effect of this sovereign remedy.

Aithough some physicians have been aware of the high medicinal value of the above mentioned plants, yet few have used pure giycerine as a solvent and usually the doctors' prescriptions called for the ingredients in varying amounts, with alcohol.

The "Golden Medical Discovery" is a scientific preparation compounded of the giyceric extracts of the above mentioned vegetable ingredients and contains no sicohol or harmful habit forming druss.

> After introductions had been exchanged the royal party and their following proceeded to Friedrichof in automobiles, the emperor, King Edward and Prince and Princess Frederick Charles occupying the first machine. The streets were profusely decorated with evergreens, flage and streamers. The sovereigns were heartily cheered by the crowds and school children who were lined up all along the route. Many Englishmen from surrounding watering places were also present.

After reaching Friedrichshof the royal party breakfasted and then the emperor and king spent some time together. About 11 o'clock they, with Prince and Princess Frederick Charles, went sightseeing, and after luncheon a visit, at the king's wish, was made to Homburg and the Roman camp at Saalburg. The king on this occasion wore a gray suit.

It is understood his appearance civilian clothes was at the emperor's request. At luncheon the party included the crown prince of Greece and his sister, Grand Duchess Georg Michailovich, A program of assiduous sightseeing and

STRANGE MINER IS DEAD Henry Weimer Passes Away in Wyo ming Owning Several Valuable

Mineral Claims.

MEETEETSE, Wyo., Aug. 15 .- (Special)-His grave ready, his funeral notice and obituary published in a local newspaper and a parson engaged to preach the sermon, all twenty-four hours before his death, is the experience of Henry Weimer, buried here this week. Several weeks ago Welmer was taken with a severe stroke of paralysis. since which time he has been under the care of neighborly miners, at his home in Kirwin. Believing him to be dead, the miners sent a messenger from the camp to arrange for the last rites, only to return to the camp and find his patient still living.

Weimer came to the Kirwin mining district in 1880 and at the time of his death owned some of the most promising claims in the camp. As far as known he has not received a letter since that time, and has no relatives in this country. Copies of the Auburn, Neb., Post, printed in 1890 and pasted on his cabin walls, furnish the only possible clue to guide the officials in the search for relatives. As the claims left by Weimer are among the valuable properties of the district, the relatives, if found, would some day realize a handsome sum from them.

Weimer would never talk of his past history to the miners with whom he came in contact, and absolutely nothing is known of his life prior to his coming here. He lived alone and frequently spent weeks away from the camp, prospecting in the mountains. When he was taken sick the kind hearted miners of the camp tenderly nursed him, and generously paid the heavy expense of summoning a physician fifty miles during the temporary absence of the company physician. The miners paid for a handsome casket and a squad of them accompanied the body to Meeteetse for

THE RELIABLE SPECIALISTS

CAUSES OF SUCCESS OR FAILURE

The difference between success and failure in business life is due in nine out of every ten cases to lack of physical manhood. Your growth, your strength, your ability, your intellectual or business capacity, your skill as a workman in the usual business pursuits of life, your popularity with other human beings, of either sex, is all shaken and your future career blighted if your standard of manhood is depicted. You can't be half a man physically and a whole man otherwise. A chain is no stronger than its weakest link.

Upon possessing the essential elements of manhood depends chiefly the happiness of martial life, success in the commercial world and the perpetuity of our race. Intellectual power and vigorous manhood cannot be measured in dollars and cents. It is a power and a privilege that should endure with man as long as life itself, and whenever it is impaired or suspended through isnorance, excesses, indiscretions or dissipations, nature will assert herself and the other bodity and mental functions weaken.

If you have violated nature's law you must pay the penality, unless you are again restored to what nature intended you—a strong, robust, healthy man—physically, mentally and sexually. By health is implied that beautiful and harmonious blending of the mental, physical and sexual forces which contribute so much to our happiness and success in every walk of life, and the absence of which materially accounts for our failures. It is useless to worry about the past cause after the disease or weakness becomes once established. The fact that the trouble now exists makes it necessary that there should be no apathy, no delay, no deferring matters until later on.
