AFFAIRS AT SOUTH OMAHA

City Treasurer Melcher Prepares Statement of the Year's Business.

QUARTER MILLION SPENT DURING YEAR

Bonded indebtedness of the City is now $1,122,880, none of which is due until 1910 and last in 1920.

At the meeting of the city council next Monday night City Treasurer Melcher will make his first annual report, showing in detail the receipts and disbursements in the various funds in his office for the fiscal year ending July 31, together with a statement showing the outstanding bonds and warrants.

The report will show that at the end of the year there was a net cash balance of $27,142 in the hands of the treasurer, including the proceeds that have been received for sewer bonds, city hall bonds, interest and premium on them, as well as the moneys that have been derived from other similar sources.

The full report shows the receipt and disbursement of all the moneys paid into the treasury during the year, setting forth definitely what funds they were apportioned, as well as from what source they were received.

The amount received from the general fund, including the interest, for the year ending August 1, 1906, was $159,833.51. Of this, the full amount was apportioned to the different departments of the city for the regular running expenses. In addition to this there was $153,288.99 and a few scattering receipts, which were added, that makes the entire distribution of the receipts for the running of the city amount to $313,122.50.

The total moneys received by the treasurer, and not included in the general receipts, is $286,907.72.

During the last year there has been expended for district paving, grading, sewers and other kinds of improvements $184,380.20.

The amount of special district bonds outstanding is $1,122,880.

CHOLERA MORBUS

Diarrhoea, Dysentery, Flux, Cholera Infantum, etc., can be quickly cured by using standing at the end of the year is $67,500 and they are payable from special assessments. The general bonded indebtedness at the present time, as shown by the report, is $1,122,880, bearing interest at the rate of 4, 5 and 6 per cent, payable annually and semi-annually, depending upon the nature of the bonds. The first of these bonds become due in the year 1910, while the last and largest of the lot is not due and payable until 1920. While all of these bonds are not due and payable until a stated time, there is an option clause in each, giving the city the right to pay any of them after a certain period, and it is now possible to take up some of the earlier issues did the city so desire. None of these bonds has ever had an interest period go by when the interest has not been paid, with the levy as it is this year there will be no necessity for such a contingency arising with the added indebtedness of the $300,000 for the big sewer system, which is to be built soon.

Outstanding warrants July 31 amounted to $28,038.34.

Attractions for Street Fair.

The Ancient Order of United Workmen carnival committee has engaged the St. Louis Amusement company to furnish the attractions for the coming carnival to be held from September 3 to 8. This company has some excellent shows, several of which will be seen for the first time in the west. Besides the aerial acts and the high wire performers there will be other free attractions, such as a balloon ascension every evening, and a high diving dog will perform twice a day.

No effort is being spared to make this the best carnival ever given in this city. Everything will be clean and a noticeable feature will be the conspicuous absence of fake concessions.

The Degree of Honor is preparing for a parade on the date of the arrival in this city of Secretary of Agriculture James Wilson. It is felt among the packers that he might appear at any time to make an inspection of the packing houses here. This feeling does not only exist among the packers, but is evidenced by the meat inspectors in the different houses.

Every place in the different houses where dirt is liable to accumulate is kept as clean as possible and other places are thoroughly cleaned and scrubbed each evening before the men quit their work.

The inspectors are also making preparations for the coming of their chief and every man now has his spottish white uniform, which he is wearing every day while on duty in the different departments.

When the chief of the Agricultural department inspects the packing houses in South Omaha he will find all departments of every plant as clean as could be desired.

SOCIALISTS NAME A TICKET

Butcher Beats Lawyer for Nominations for the County Attorneyship.

The socialists of Douglas county met last night at 117 North Sixteenth street and endorsed candidates for the party nominations at the primaries. State senators and representatives and county officers were named in short order, each man nominated getting the unanimous vote of the twenty-five men and women present at the meeting. When it came to the selection of men to fill vacancies on the county central committee some time was consumed in a wrangle over constitutionalities, and the matter was adjusted by the passage of a motion to let the committee fill its own vacancies. No endorsements were made for overseers of highways, as the convention had no list of the party members by districts.

There was only one contest in the convention and that was for the endorsement for the county attorneyship. J. B. Randolph, a lawyer, and Thomas Bowen, a butcher, had been nominated. One man made a talk against Mr. Randolph on the ground that the party ought never to endorse a lawyer or "an exploiter of labor," and when the ballot was taken it showed thirteen votes for Mr. Bowen and three for Mr. Randolph, several present not voting at all. Parker Condit was chairman of the meeting and Peter Mehrens secretary. Immediately after this convention a congressional convention was called, which endorsed a candidate for congress from the district and named a congressional committee of five. B. H. Vall was chairman of this convention and Mr. Porter secretary.

Following were the candidates endorsed: State Senators—George Wells, J. A. Jacobson, South Omaha; C. F. Michelsen, State Representative—William Westman, William Wiemer, South Omaha; E. I. Morrow, J. N. Carter, W. C. Rogers, Waterloo; Nels Larsen, Charles Sadlek, William Gillen, T. C. Jeffries. County Attorney—Thomas Bowen. Superintendent of Public Instruction—Mrs. Maria Mellivane. County Commissioner—Charles Harms. Congressman from Second District—Peter Mehrens. Congressional Committees—Parker Condit, L. L. Mellivane, A. I. Morrow, George Wells, T. C. Jeffries.
