SCRIBNER, OMAHA'S CRACK, IS OUT From New Hampshire to Montana

Come the Patrons of the Game at Field Club This Week.

Tennis has taken a firm hold in Omaha and the eight annual tournament of the Middle West was opened at the Field club Monday morning under most favorable auspices with the largest number of entries this classic has ever had and coming from all parts of the United States, While most of the forenoon and afternoon was used in cutting out some of the lesser lights by means of the first and second rounds, still some good tennis was played and was watched by a good sized gallery from the club house porches.

By far the most interesting match of the first day was that between Scribner and Dr. Blatherwick. Each had won in the first round by default and the match was in the second round. Scribner started out like a three-time winner and put the fector out fast in the first set, the score of which was 6 to 2. Scribner won the first three games of the second set when the doctor braced at the same time when Scribner seemed to tire and won the set 5-3. Scribner was all in on the third set and could not rally so the doctor with his fouble cross action won with ease. The double hand work of the doctor is most bewildering, When he changes hands to return some hard drive his opponent is led to think the ball will be a cross fire whereas it shoots straight back.

Collins Opens It.

The first match was called at just 11 o'clock and was between Kreigh Collins and A. Sherman. Considerable delay was experienced in marking off the courts, but when this was done the games were played off fast. The entries from out of the city were most encouraging to the promoters of the tournament, as many more were sent in from all over the country

The tennis com- who have come to look upon the Middle mittee had everything well in hand and the events were sent off according to schedule. All the old favorites spent the forenoon, when not engaged in playing, in renewing acquaintances, and all expressed themselves as glad of an opportunity to return again to enjoy the hospitality of the Field

Plenty of tennis week. portunity to see Kreigh Collins and Hayes and some of the other sharks in action, and the Field club wishes all such to come. Kreigh Collins has been here for two not played at the time of writing the only features noticeable to the naked eye and which has attracted the most attention to date are his London shoes. They have eir cushions on the bottom which give the rubber arms that Home Run Haggerty tells about. He is generally picked as the winner of the Middle West. Collins was slightly out of form this spring and went of Kreigh Collins in the doubles and east to practice. His First Visit to West.

This is Collins' first try in the west, as player should have, except the ability he has confined his operations heretofore get over the ground. Walter T. Hayes, the present middle west champion, is on hand to defend his title, being compelled to play with the winner of the tournament or forfeit. Hayes has been playing considerably this spring and summer, last week winning the title of champion in the Tri-State singles played at Sloux City. These boys are tennts players from the drop of the hat and the west will have to pull for some of these to put out Kreigh Collins, the Chicago crack, who is picked by the gallery as the winner.

Prize List One of the Best. The prize list for this tournament is one of the best ever hung up in the west, over $500 in real money having been spent by the tournament committee to get some prises worth playing for. This tournament has become such an established institution the Field club is not at all niggardly in hanging up some good and valuable prizes. / These will be on exhibition in Browning-King's window until Saturday morning, when they will be brought to the Field club for distribution

Saturday night. The entertainment of the visitors is one of the real features of the tournament. Last night they were taken to the Den and allowed to drink at the fountain of youth and to ride the goat and shoot the chutes. In fact, nothing was withheld from these visitors from all parts of the country and they were given the times of their young lives. They will have something to tell about besides defeats at tennis when they return to their own fireside.

Some Social Events. For Tuesday night the real sport has been prepared in the shape of a symkahna. All the players are supposed to go into these events, which will furnish all sorts of funfor the participants as well as for the visitors. Last year a ball game was played with the players all roped together and the pitcher and batsman confined by barrels. What the committee has in store for this year only the future will show. For Wednesday night a dance has been arranged, or rather it will be the regular semi-weekly dance at the Field club with special attention paid to the visitors, all of whom are invited to come. The young women will take this opportunity to be nice to the visitors and make them forget for the time the dear hearts at home. Thursday night will be given over to an automobil ride around the city, which will also include the Country club. A banquet will be given to the visitors at the Field club Friday night, at which time some well known speakers will spout a few lines. Saturday night will be given over to a jolly good time at the Field club, when the prizes will be distributed and the regular weekly dance fast tennis impossible and also made it will be held. Although over 60 years old, Mr. Beard is entered in the tournament, being put out Monday morning by Jack Hughes He will start in the consolations. Beard has some young players of excelent calibre with him who he hopes will be able to pick up some good points during the "These courts are certainly fine," enthusiasts in Omaha would like an op- said Mr. Beard, "and are kept in nice shape. Pa Rourke had several somnambulists on his nine out at Vincent street park yesterday afternoon and therefore Denver took the third game of this series by a score of 2 to 1. It was a disheartening game at times and at other times a good game of ball. McNeeley pitched the ball that wins games, but in one or two innings at least lots around town.

The clomax was reached in fourth inning. Randall, the first man up, hit for a base. Russell went out to Dolan and Randall got second, which was all right.

Then Weighandt, Bill Everett's little with the first man was all right. mine of a catcher, sent a ball moderately swift, down to short. Runkle, after holding a conference with himself, decided not to put his hands on it and let the ball go on. The thing meandered lazily like out toward center when it encountered Dr Welch. The ball looked like a crippled jack rabbit hobbling home after being shot, but at that it got the better of Welch, for instead of stooping down and picking it up, he slipped on the green grass, rolled over a time or two and jumped up just in time to see his friend, Bassey, also getting up after likewise failing down over the poor ball which by this time had stopped theif. Weighardt was turning the corne at third, and was home long before the Ball reached the plate; as a matter of fact it never did reach there. It was a home run on what ought to have been an out from

More Misery Still.

But that wasn't all of this delightful inning. Reddick came to bat and pumped out a two-bagger. By this time things were really getting good, but just to show they could be better, Welch, when Donohue lifted a high one in his hands, dropped it, letting in another run. Several golden opportunities of scoring were thrown away by Omaha. In the second inning Welch lammed out a single and went to second on Dolan's beautiful hit to left. Then Runkle got first on a fielder's choice and Joe went out. Welch was on third when Howard put a bouncer right in Reddick's hands. Welch, instead f waiting for Howard to draw the throw to first, without a ghost of a show of scoring, went galloping off for home and of course was thrown out. With a hit by Dolan and one by Runkle in the ninth inning another mess was made, but no Omaha made its lone run in the seventh inning. Runkle hit for two bases, went to third on Howard's single, which ought, by all means, to have scored him and home on McNeeley's out to first. Joe Dolan played a great-game at first, taking all of fifteen chances, and Perring though weak at the bat, put up one of his star games at third. Dolan, Welch and Runkle each got two hits. Smith of did some magnificent work at short. McNeeley held the visitors to five hits and two of these were abortions, nor did he pass a man, but struck out three, Autrey still has that chance to make good as a slugger. Edinger, the ump, has good features, but he was off badly at times on balls and strikes.

Ball Tournament at Cambridge.

CAMBRIDGE, Neb., Aug. 20.—(Special.)—
The present season has probably been the greatest year in the history of base ball. In no place in the bountry has there been more interest in this mational game than in Western Nebraska. Nearly every town having 1,000 people or more maintains a team which in the state papers is claimed to be the best in the state.

The base ball tournament to be held at Cambridge August 28 to September 1, inclusive, will bring together the best teams in the state, and it will give base ball enthusiasts an opportunity to witness ten of the most vigorously contested games ever played in this part of the state. Every team which has entered the tournament has a record for 1906 of which, it may well be proud, and it is anxious to maintain that record. Each of the participating clubs it is estimated will have from 300 to 1,000 people on the ground, loyally supporting its team and encouraging it to victory.

Aside from this, the lovers of the na-

Visitors Fill Bases in Ninth with Only One Man Out, but Sharp, Snappy Fielding Ends

CHICAGO, Aug. 20.-The locals turned the tables on New York today and gave them the shut out, 3 to 0, before the largest Monday attendance of the season. The leaders scored their runs in one inning, Chance leading off with a double, taking third on a neat sacrifice. Two clean singles followed, also a wild throw. McGinnity then purposely tried to pass Kling, but the catcher swung hard and hit a wild one victously, sending the other two runs in. The visitors looked dangerous in the ninth when they filled the bases with only one out, but Strang's short fly was well handled by Slagle and Bowerman went out on a long fly to Schulte. Score:

Racing for the Lipton Cup. CHICAGO, Aug. 30.—Cherry Circle, the twenty-one footer representing the Chicago Athletic association in the fifth annual series of yacht races for the Sir Thomas Ligion cup, repeated its victory of Saturday in the second contest of the series to-day. This gives today's winner 200 points to its credit in the percentage column and the indications are that Cherry Circle will be the winner of the cup this year. Raven, the Canadian representative, was second, being a little more than a minute behind the winner, while Bill Poster took third place, less than a minute behind Raven.

Chicago is still away ahead of New York in the percentage table, with a long string of home games yet to play.

Perring will go to Cleveland, all right. Let us hope no such dire misfortune will befall him as fell to the lot of poor Schipke.

The tennis tournament will hold the center of the local athletic stage this week and bids fair to draw some spiendid crowds to the Field club.

Johnny Gonding caught all eight games played by Omaha hast week and was right up to the scratch every minute. Very few ostchers on the big diamonds are in Gonding's class.
