

AFTERMATH OF CONVENTION

Tired Lot of Delegates Discuss the Late Republican Convention.

DOUGLAS DELEGATION MAKES FRIENDS

Kept Every Pledge It Made and Made a Clean Fight—E. Rosewater Stronger Over the State in Defeat Than Even Before

(From a Staff Correspondent.) LINCOLN, Aug. 23.—(Special.)—A large number of the delegates to the republican state convention were unable to get out of Lincoln until this afternoon and it was a sorry looking, bedraggled bunch, as nearly all of them failed to get any sleep during the last two nights.

Side talks with the delegates disclosed various opinions of the officials as to the outcome and various explanations of how it happened. Everyone agreed, however, that the Douglas delegation was the best and cleanest set of men the big town ever sent to a state convention. One delegate who had worked along with the Douglas delegation expressed the sentiment of hundreds when he said: "Douglas county kept every pledge it made. Not once did it fail to do just what the steering committee had agreed that it should do. The delegation was composed of a bunch of the best workers that ever came to the state convention and it was a pleasure to work with them. They inspired the respect of their opponents for the able and clean fight that was made for their candidates. H. H. Baldridge, Robert Cowell and Victor Rosewater made more friends for Omaha and for themselves yesterday than any three men in the state convention. These men, with the Douglas delegation, have won the confidence of the state and Douglas county stands closer to the state today than it ever stood before."

Secretary of State Galusha is taking his defeat philosophically, having little to say. Inasmuch, however, as Galusha's delegation broke to Brown with six votes at the critical time, they believe the Webster county man was badly used by the victors in the convention. It was Douglas county that put the ruling in effect, as it was Douglas county that carried Mr. Brian through for treasurer over the opposition of Kyd and Good, each of whom relied on the Brown boosters to make good on their promise to land them a delegation of Boone county men.

Mr. Brian, requested, greetings be sent to Omaha and whatever Omaha wants Boone county will help find it. The most talked of incident of the convention was the speech by Mr. Rosewater. The fake reform sheets here had tried to make the people believe everything evil of the Douglas county candidate, but on days all over Lincoln nothing but expressions of commendation are heard for him. On the other hand the failure of Mr. Brown to even mention the Douglas county candidate, is commented on. Judge Brown boosters said: "Mr. Rosewater's speech was a gem. It was one of the greatest speeches I ever heard in any convention. Never before have the hearts of the people of Nebraska beat so kindly for him. He is without doubt the best qualified man in Nebraska."

Bright Outlook for Fair. Present indications are that this year's agricultural exposition will be an interesting exhibition. For the draft horses, four barns with 150 stalls each are provided, while there are 135 stalls for speed horses. Five hundred and fifteen applications for cattle stalls have been received, with only 450 stalls available at the present time. The swine pens were all assigned in March and 250 applications received since that time. Twenty-six counties at least will be represented with collective exhibits in the agricultural hall as against twenty-one last year. This year's exhibit of farm machinery and vehicles will surpass any previous year. An annex for the machinery department has been provided. In the speed department there will be 101 harness horses entered, last season's number being fifty-three.

Secretary Mellor said the interest in this year's fair has been in keeping with the general prosperity of the state and is a good index of general conditions.
