AFFAIRS AT SOUTH OMAHA

Amateur Thief Outwits a Burglar in Anderson Grocery.
HAS HIM CORRALLLED WHEN OFFICER COMES.
Mrs. D. J. Reynolds of Omaha Has Throat Severely Cut by Broken Glass While Riding on Street Car.
While a special officer went in search of a policeman, amateur thief-catchers captured a burglar in M. Anderson's grocery store, 123 North Twenty-sixth street, late Thursday night, and the burglar, who also proved to be much of an amateur, is now safely lodged behind the bars of the city jail.

Tramps Frighten People

William Barnum and James Smith, two drunks, were arrested at the residence of Mrs. J. M. Curran, on Tuesday evening in the vicinity of Twenty-second and O streets. One of the residents of that neighborhood saw the two men prowling about his house rather late in the evening, and though they did not approach at that time, his suspicions were aroused. He went for an alarm bell. He saw them slip away into a vacant lot and lie down in a patch of tall weeds. After watching steadily for a long time and seeing that they still remained in the weeds, the man became alarmed, thinking they were lying in wait for some one or waiting until a later hour for an attack on some of the nearby houses. At 10 o'clock he notified the police and Captain Turquist responded. When the rendezvous was pointed out he waded into the weed patch and found the men peacefully sleeping in the open air. He invited them to partake of the hospitality of the city jail and yesterday morning Judge King sentenced them to a term, and the scythe. They will probably have the chance to cut down the unlucky "tall green" which furnished their shelter.

Hot Weather Hard on Babies

Chiefly as a result of the heated weather of the last week or more there has been a death rate greater than usual among the babies in South Omaha. Three were reported yesterday to the city clerk, though in one case the report of death was delayed. This was the death of Leola Curran, 3-months-old daughter of Bernard Curran. The baby died August 21 and the funeral was held Wednesday afternoon. The burial was in St. Mary's cemetery. Another death was that of little Stanley Check, whose parents live at 323 North Twenty-eighth street. The burial was August 21 in the German Catholic cemetery. A third was that of Sylvia E. Kidd, infant daughter of Elijah Kidd, at Twenty-sixth

Plays Runaway Wife

William E. Hyde of Kansas City arrived in Omaha Wednesday evening in search of a runaway wife. Mrs. Hyde is said to have deserted him several months ago for the affections of a man by the name of Fred Guth. They first slipped over the line into Kansas and later came to Omaha. Guth has been in South Omaha, going under the name of Connors, and has passed the woman as his wife. Wednesday night, while Guth was in an hour of his arrival, Hyde met Guth on N street and followed him until he could turn him over to an officer. Captain Turquist made the arrest. The arrest of Mrs. Lulu May Hyde, the second party to the case, was made yesterday morning. A state complaint was filed against them.

Labourer Overcome by Heat

Theodore Swartzchild, a laborer in one of the South Omaha packing houses, was overcome by heat Wednesday afternoon. The attack began, it is thought, while at work during the oppressive afternoon and after he had quit work and was going to his home at Thirty-third and Q streets he collapsed and fell unconscious on the street. He was assisted to the shade and promptly sent to hospital. In the course of an hour he had recovered consciousness and is now thought to be on the road to recovery, provided the weather should moderate.

Golf Tournament at Club

The members of the South Omaha Country club are to engage in the preliminary tryout for the golfing tournament Saturday and Sunday. The tournament proper will be held during the coming week. The best eighteen players, determined by the results of the try-outs, will be eligible to enter the tournament. The tryout is open to all the membership of the South Omaha Club. The contest this year will be restricted to the membership for the season that is the first year of the organization. Special entertainment features will be provided during the tournament and the women will be prominent at the grounds. The regular Friday night social dance will occur to-

ICE TRUST ON ANXIOUS SEAT

Local Combine is Disconcerted Over Plans of Employees to Expose Deal.
INVESTIGATION MAY BE RESUMED.
Douglas Armour, Independent Dealer, Says He Will Sell at Twenty-Cents a Hundred in Spring.
The fact that people had read with interest the story in the Bee Thursday to the effect that Douglas Armour, a former driver for the Omaha Ice and Cold Storage company, had embarked in the business of selling ice at 40 cents per 100 pounds was decidedly evident Friday morning by the numerous calls over The Bee's telephones, "Where can we find the man who is selling 40-cent ice?" Mr. Armour is not only bucking the trust by selling ice at 40 cents now, but he says he will cut his own price in two and sell for 20 cents a 100 after May 1, 1907. "I have a contract for all the ice I will need, which runs until May 1, and during that period I will not sell for more than 40 cents, and after that date I will sell for 20 cents," said Mr. Armour. "I do not only think I can do this; I know it. I have been in the ice business for other people too long not to understand the business. I know where the people are being gouged and I am not going to be guilty of gouging them, for I can make a good living in the business without it. I have lived in Omaha for many years, am well known here and need no introduction to satisfy people of my standing."

Spy Commends Armour

Thursday when he started out his old employers, the Omaha Ice and Cold Storage company, immediately detailed a clerk from its office to follow Armour and report the amount of his business. The clerk was a young man who had recently been graduated from the high school and is preparing to go to college. He knew Armour well and spoke of him as a trustworthy man. Armour had been informed from certain sources that his former employers were trying to trump up a charge against him on which to effect his arrest as a means of combating his plucky enterprise, but he was well content as to the outcome of such an attempt. A movement is on foot among some of the independent ice men to make a wholesale disclosure of evidence pertaining to the details of the ice business calculated to afford some excellent grounds on which the county attorney may resume that considerable unbusiness to the ice trust barons, who are led in their denunciation of the persons who presume to say that such a thing as an ice trust exists in Omaha. The fact that prices are maintained at extortionate figures and that the short-weight system is practiced, and that drivers of ice trust wagons carry scales or not just as they please—these facts the trust barons argue are simply incidental and do not go to prove the existence of a very strong and effective combine. But some of the employees of the trust talk differently.

BREAKERS ALONG THE LINE

Democratic Brethren Threaten to Dump Movement for Initiative and Referendum Law.
Although the councilmen voted for the acceptance of the initiative and referendum law and Mayor Dahlman has signed the ordinance, several councilmen say they have reason to think differently of the proposition now that they have had more light shed upon it through information conveyed to them and personal investigation of their own. The ordinance in itself does not order the question of accepting the law for operation to be placed on the general election ballots, and it was arranged to have this formally gone through with at the council meeting next week by a resolution properly instructing the clerk. "No such resolution will go through the council, or I am much mistaken," said President Johnson, who voted for the ordinance. "I think that if the question is to go on the ballot at least 15 per cent of the voters should signify their desire for it."

S.S.S. A CERTAIN SAFE TREATMENT

Even if mercury and potash could cure Contagious Blood Poison, the condition in which these strong minerals leave the system would make the cure worse than the disease. But they cannot cure the vice disorder; they can only cover up the symptoms for awhile to break out with renewed violence when the treatment is left off. When the virus of Contagious Blood Poison enters the blood the entire circulation becomes poisoned, and the skin symptoms begin to appear. The mouth and throat ulcerate, hair falls out, and eyes become sore. Glands of the neck and groin swell, copper-colored spots appear on the body, and in severe cases sores and ulcers break out, and even the bones become diseased. S. S. S. is the only certain, safe cure for Contagious Blood Poison; thousands have been cured by it after failing with the mineral treatment, Hot Springs, etc. It is the only remedy that is able to get at the root of the disease and force out the poison so that no signs are ever seen again. S. S. S. is purely vegetable, being made of roots, herbs and barks, and never leaves any bad effects, but instead, tones up the stomach and digestion and builds up every part of the system while removing the poison from the blood.
