It was proposed to issue the decree tomorrow, but persons close to the president strongly opposed the measure, and the matter was deferred and may be relin-

So far as actual conflict went Sunday proved to be a day of inactivity, but preparations proceeded without abatement. A fund of $2,000,000 has been set aside by the treasury for defense, and drafts on it are beavy and constant.

The situation is so increasingly serious that it is tacitly admitted in all government circles that the enlargement of the army will not stop at any given number, but will continue indefinitely.

While the number of men at present leaving their regular occupations to enlist for war is small, employers are beginning to find that they will soon be confronted with considerable scarcity o. sbor. Many laborers are gathering in front of the bulletin boards on which are displayed the call for volunteers issued by President Palma Saturday night. On one phase of the controvery the liberals seem so united as to suggest an understanding among them for taking advantage of the present situation to press upon the government a proposition that it ight, in some manner to treat with them or at least admit them to a conference of some sort. While no liberals are in arms dnst the government they admit counenancing the insurrection, though they always deny knowledge of any conspiracy.

Interviews, statements and hints giver out by the liberals all point to the probon the basis of the admission of leaders to their party to the councils of the government and some guarantee that in the fu ture elections will be conducted with abfairness. "So far as endorsing me is concerned that is not important to anybody except myself, and I shall try to accept with equanimity whatever may be the action of the convention. It is true I opposed the president's policy as embodied in the Hepburn Bill, but not, as it is commonly stated in the newspapers, because I was opposed to governmental regulation and supervision of railroads, for the record will show that I have done as much in will show that I have done as much in preparities. "My contention was that, under existing law, which I helped enact, having been a member of the sub-committee that framed it, especially if amended as it should be every serious wrong of every kind practiced by the railroads can be remedied and that all evil practices can be broken up.

"Everything I said in that respect has been already fully justified and vindicated by the many successes the attorney gen-eral has met with in the numerous prosecutions he has instituted in the last nin months, until which time-long after the debate commenced, no one seemed to realise, not even the government's own officials—the excellence of the laws we already had.

Old Laws Applicable. "Existing laws have been found, accordproceedings, to apply to every kind of rebate or discrimination between individuals or localities, no matter under what name. form or guise practiced that anybody has yet complained about.

"But, however this may be, as to myself shall not make any requests of the convention nor any complaints as to its action whatever that may be; but I cannot for cear suggesting in this connection that if the convention should try to conform to the rule prescribed by Mr. Burton of endorsing 'less cordially' than the president those who may have differed from the president as to some matter-no matter how honestly-it would have some hard problems to solve."

Cites Some Examples "For instance, if Senator Dick-is to be ndorsed 'less cordially' than the presiden because he did not agree with the president about the Philippine tariff bill, what is the convention to do as to General Keifer and the six other distinguished Ohio re publican members of congress who joined with that sturdy old veteran in opposing and voting against the president as to that resents the district in which the convention will be held? Are they also to be 'partially rebuked' by endorsing them 'less cordially' than the president and their col-

Does he not now and then kick over the traces' and differ from the president and from his party? Is he to be endorsed 'leas oordially' than the president because he has opposed the president's policy of inspeak, the apple of the president's eye-the biggest of his big sticks and are no the people with the president as to his naval policy by an overwhelming majority? "Take another case. The president and Secretary Taft made known to congress a the last session that unless we restricted them to America they would go abroad to purchase supplies and materials to be used in the construction of the Panama canal when they could buy them cheaper abroad thus saving money on the purchase, and as they were to be used in Panama and not brought into the United States, saving the

"I think I may safely say that with great majority of the American people this proposition was not popular. Certainly, to republicans generally it seemed inconsistent with all we have been contending for with respect to a protective tariff.

GRAND ISLAND TO CELEBRATE Eight of Original Settlers Still Reside

GRAND ISLAND, Aug. 28.—(Special.)—A movement has been started here for an elaborate celebration of the fiftieth anniversary of the settlement of Hall county and this section of the state in July of next year and, in connection therewith, to same year. Stakes for the original settle were put out on July 5, the location being established on the day previous, the nation's birthday. Eight of the original settlers still remain residents here. The majority of them have joined the slient majority and a few are residents of other parts. The eight are: Mr. and Mrs. Henry Joehnck, sr.; Mrs. John Thomssen, Free Hedde, the founder of the Independent; William Stolley, well known over the state as a great horticulturist; Christian Menck William A. Hagge and Cay Ewoldt. The greater portion of the original twenty-five remained here constantly, even when the government, at the outbreak of the civil war, warned the frontier settlers to abandon their claims for the time being, it being necessary to move the few scattering troops back east.

Big Case Settled Out of Court. NIOBRARA, Neb., Aug. 28.-(Special.)-An important land case, involving about 400 acres of land bordering town, was settled out of court Saturday. The late William Lamont left a will in which his eldest boy. Frank, was remembered, and his son Scott renounced. Revolutionary Committee Announces Other Assassinations Will Follow if Polley of Government Continues.

ST. PETERSBURG, Aug. 26 .- Saturday's unsuccessful attempt on the life of Premier Stolypin with its sickening, ussless slaughter of thirty-two persons was followed tonight by another revolutionary outrage in which General Min, commander of the Seminovsky guards regiment and who, since his promotion to be a general has been attached as a personal adjutant to the suite of the emperor, was killed on the station platform at Peterhef by a young woman, who fired five shots into his body from an automatic revolver and then without resistance, submitted to arrest. The capture of the girl was effected by General Min's wife, who held her until the arrival of an officer.

This was the third successive attempt on the life of General Min, who was condemned to death by the terrorists immediately after the Moscow revolt last December, oh account of stern repression practiced by a battalion under his command and especially for the wholesale execution of persons condemned to drumhead court martial for being caught with arms in their hands.

General Min was returning from his summer residence at Peterhof and had just greeted his wife and daughter on the platform when a young woman-almost a girl approached from behind and fired two shots into his back and then three more into his body as he sank to the ground. Further shots were prevented by Madame Min, who threw berself upon the murderess and seized the hand which held the pistol. The woman did not attempt to escape, but she cautioned Madame Min not to touch a handbag which she had placed on the platform before shooting the general, explaining that it contained a bomb. Admits the Crime.

To the police the girl acknowledged that she had executed the sentence of the fighting organization of the social revolutionists, but she refused to give her name. By a remarkable mischance General Min only last week, after the conclusion of the nneuvers at Krasnoye-Selo, dismissed the body guard which had accompanied him since the first attempt was made on his life, saying that the ordinary police of Paterhof would be sufficient to go

During the Moscow revolt Min. who was then a colonel, commanded the First battation of the Seminovsky guards, which operated within the city itself. The sec and battalion of the guard, under the command of Colonel Riman, conducted repressions along the railroad to Kazan, for which acts Riman also was condemned to death. Undeterred by several attempts to execute this sentence, Riman accepted an appointment on the staff of General Skallon, governor general of Warsaw, after the bomb outrages at Warsaw, and left two days ago to assist in the suppression of

M. Moukhanoff, a member of the late Par-liament, who at the time of the explosion was waiting to see Premier Stolypin cor cerning permission to hold a congress of the constitutional democratic party, says: "I was sitting with some twenty other visitors, including several women, at a long table in the waiting room, M. Stelypin then being engaged with M. Potivanoff, a marshal of the nobility of the province of Simbirsk, and the president of the Simbirsk semstvo deputation. After waiting for some time I changed my seat and joined M. Prisitkoff, a chamberlain of the court, in a bay window overlooking the avenue leading up to the house.

"A few seconds after the arrival of the carriage bearing the assassin, which attracted my attention because visitors usually came in smaller carriages, I was suddenly hurled backward against the wall, which my head struck. I was so stunged that I did not even hear the explosion When I recovered consciousness I saw that the ceiling and one of the walls were gone and that the room was heaped with debris from the floor above. "The first words I heard came from the lips of a mother superior, who was standing am'a the ruins in a corner of the room praying before an ikon, save us, save us, at the same time crossing herself. She was one of six who escaped uninjured. The occupant of the chair I had formerly occupied was killed on the spot, 'I then went into the garden where I came face to face with M. Stolypin. He had complete mastery over himself and was perfectly calm. I urged him not to go back into thouse, saying that there might be allo. I bomb there, but he insisted on
