We Are

maha Heavy Shippers Feel that They Are Hard Hit by New Rales.

RAILROADS SAY NEW LAW IS TO BLAME Change is General and Not Solely Applied to Omaha and Will Be in Effect TIII Changed by Appenl.

The special committee appointed by the heavy shippers of Omaha, is very active in getting together evidence for the case which they say will be brought against he Western Car Service association, which composed of all the roads doing business in Omaha. The car lot shippers have decided to pay no more unjust demurrage tharges, and several cases are now pend-ing where the tailfonds have sold the care peause the firms refused to pay the heavy demurrage charges which the shippers plarge were clearly the fault of the railread companies. The shippers say they had companies. The shippers say they had get no saturation, for the car service puople do not perform the service, and tasy are sent from the railroad company to the car service association and back again, all the while the car running up comprehence bills. conurrage bills

Faw actual changes have been made in e reading of the rules of the Western Bervice association. The first rule is sled and reads: "All car load freight, a i freight taking car load rates, and all feeight cars, whether full car loads or not. taking track delivery, will be subject to ear service rules." Another phange is the abelishing of the special rules, which gave cout man five days to unload, and also the rules giving the shippers a day to hold a car when it is to be reconsigned.

On the Railroad's Side.

As presenting the railroad's side of the controversy H. H. Churchill, general agent of the Chicago Great Western railroad, said:

"The railroads are simply protecting their own interests and trying to minimize the abuse of their equipment, and at the same time to do it lawfully. The new law provides that all rates and charges must be reasonable, and as these charges are made in accordance with the law the shippers will have recourse in the courts if they think the rules are not fair. The railroads have established these charges and the burden of proof is on the shippers or those making complaints. The charges established by the roads are going to remain in effect and stay in force without any discrimination until changed by the proper authorities. Not Snap Judgment.

These rules are no snap judgment, put in effect in Omaha alone, but are now in effect all over the country. The Great Western has incorporated them in its new tariffs, as is required by the new law. The coal men are the principal complainants because the special ruling in their favor is giving them five days in which to unload their cars has been removed by the new law. This law says all ship pers must bestreated alike, and the roads felt that they discriminated in favor of the coal man when he was given five days other shippers but two days. If in obeying the letter of the law we have imposed an unjust burden they have their ourse at law,

The average freight car of every leacription is worth over 14 a day to carriers and in busy times a great deal more. It is not probable we would be looking for a chance to get a dollar a day for a car which is worth $4 a day

This is due to the great increase for the month of expenses and taxes. For the twelve months ending June 30 the gross receipts of the Union Pacific have been⁵ $57,531,542.60, an increase over the same period last year of $7.966,-599.94. The receipts over expenses and taxes for the twelve months were $30,317,-769.44, an increase of $2,855,535.21 over the same period last year.

TARIFF ON GRAIN IN DOUBT New Rate from South Dakots May Be Held Up for Thirty Days.

Whether or not the Northwestern and Milwaukee filed their new tariffs on South Dakota grain to Omaha with the Interstate Commerce commission before the new law went into effect, is a question that now concerns the members of the Omaha Grain exchange. The exchange has as yet received no information that the tariffs have been filed, though it has been informed by the officials of the roads concerned that they have been prepared.

If the tariffs were filed with the commis sion prior to August 25, the new rates may go into effect on any date set by the traffic officials in the tariff sheets, but if they have not been filed, they cannot to into effect, according to the law, unti, thirty days have expired after publicat on. It is probable, says an Omaha man versed in railroad matters, that the commission will reduce this required period to ten days, since the large shipping associations of the country have requested it. The commission has already promised to consider the change, and a decision in the matter is expected in a day or two.

The fear of members of the Grain exchange is that some complication or other, arising out of the workings of the new law will prevent them from getting rates on South Dakota grain within a reasonable period.

MILLINERS' EXCURSION RATES

One and One-Fifth Pare to Des Moines Sept. 1 to 19, During Opening of Lederer, Strauss & Co., Inc. Wholesale Milliners.

The third fall and winter opening of Lederer, Strauss & Co., Inc., wholesale milliners, Des Moines, Ia., will take place September 1 to 19, during which time a rate of one and one-fifth fare has been granted to retail milliners or their trimmers, from all Nebraska points. The dates for buying tickets coming to Des Moines are September 1 to 9. Be sure to take a certificate for the amount of fare paid. You can then return at one-fifth the regular rate of fare any time up until September 19. There is a wide style importance attached to the display of Lederer, Strauss & Co. Inc., from the fact that the establishment takes rank as one of the four largest wholesale millinery hauses in the United States. For thirty-eight years it has been the trading place of milliners throughout the entire west.

JONES ELUDES THE LANDLORD Putative Book Agent Runs Bill a Merchants and Then Disappears.

W. D. Jones, who registered at the Merchants hotel Saturday from Denver, left Tuesday without the formality of paying his keep, as is in such cases made and required, and the hotel people are somewhat anxious to learn his address. He didn't have any baggage, but he did have a book agent's outfit that he procured from W. A. Hixenbaugh & Co. of the Ward block, and informed the Merchants hotel Floor of Room at Telephone Building Gives people that he was employed by that firm. The Hixenbaugh company agrees to the proposition that he secured an agent's outreturns yet and it is equally anxious to secure the return of the outfit. The polles authorities have been asked to assist in locating Mr. Jones, but thus far without avail.

circulated, so the law was complied with strictly. The tariffs consist of several different sized books, fustened together in a portfolio and ready to be hung by a chain for the convenience of passengers. Of course, most passengers will consider it far convenient to ask the ticket agent what the fare is to Shaneapolis than to try to look it up themselves through the awful bundle of figures, but the railroads have complied with the law.

MOTHER PRAISES CUTICURA REMEDIES

"Our baby had that dreadful com-plaint, Infantile Eczems, which afflicted him for several months, commencing at him for several months, commencing at the top of his head, and at last covering his whole body. His sufferings were untold and constant misery, in fact, there was nothing we would not have done to have gives him relief. The family doctor seemed to be wholly incapable of coping with the case, and after various experiments of his, which resulted in no benefit to the child, we sent to Maxco, III. to s druggist and got a full set of the Cuticura Remedies and applied as per directions, and he began to improve immediately, and in about three or four days began to show a brighter spirit and really laughed, for the first time is a year. Announcements of the Theaters. For three nights and Saturday mantinee, commencing tonight "The Confessions of a Wife," will be the attraction at the Krug theater. This fairly bristles with well painted canvas effects and the best work of the stage carpenter and electricians. In the main the local of this sensational play is in the country, far from the glamor and strife of the city. Yet the action of the drama carries the characters

A special holiday matinee is announced at the Orpheum on Labor day, Monday next and reserved seats for this extra performance are now on sale. One new departure that is going to meet with general approval at the Ohpheum is the reservation of all the seats on the first floor at all matinees. Thursday, Saturday and Sunday will be the regular matinee days at the Orpheum this season. The advance sale for next Sunday afternoon and evening as well as for Monday is very large.

to New York and out to the far west.

The first of the shoppers' matinees will be given at the Burwood theater this afternoon. Last season these affairs proved very popular with the women, espically those who come into the city from outside towns. It gives them a delightful place to spend an hour or two in most enjoyable rest after they have made the rounds of the stores. The theater is one of the most comfortable in the country, and caters especially to the women, who will find there every convenience. The company is even better this season than it was last, and the very best of plays will be offered. This weak the bill is "The Chairity Ball," and it is delighting large audiences at each performance.
