SALESMEN WANTED

DON'T MAKE A MISTAKE!

Tomorrow many young people will enter school, in all probability, for the last time, and it is tremendously important that they make no mistake.

Why not learn Business and Shorthand from a Business Man, instead of from teachers who have never been in business a day in their lives, or done a month's work in an office.

Compare this experience with that of other teachers in your community and ascertain what is fitted to instruct you. This school is backed by the most experienced and expert teachers of the west, and students who attend during the coming winter will have the advantage of the highest grade of instruction ever offered in this city.

For a brief period we are offering reduced tuition, believing that it will be greatly to our advantage to secure advertising by demonstrating our ability to teach business and shorthand by the most original and up-to-date methods known to educators.
