QUOTES FROM REAL REPORT

NOT FOOLED BY BOGUS SET OF FIGURES

After His Speech to State Board of Equalization Railroad Assessment Went Up Nineteen Million Dollars.

Edward Rosewater's wonderful grasp of statistics and his wonderful knowledge of things he was interested in was aptly illustrated at a meeting of the State Board of Assessment in 1904, when he made his annual appearance before the board in behalf of the people's interest, and in his efforts to secure a just and higher assessment of railroad property. The incident was recalled Sunday during a conversation among a number of out-of-town visitors. Mr. Rosewater had prepared his argument, based on the reports made by the various railroad companies. At the board meeting were fifteen or twenty railroad tax agents from all parts of the country. As soon as Mr. Rosewater had opened his mouth to keep Mr. Rosewater from the main issue.

THOUGHT THEY HAD HIM

"Mr. Rosewater, you are misquoting the figures," interrupted Mr. Sargent of You cannot find any such figures in our report. There is our report to this board before you. Look at it and see for yourself."

That was the year the railroad assessment was increased $19,000,000.

NARROW ESCAPE FOR WOMAN

Two Live Wires Touch and in Falling One Strikes a Pedestrian, Causing Scare.

An unidentified woman was struck by a live wire in front of the Merchants' hotel about 10:30 a. m. Monday, but was not seriously injured.

Some workmen were erecting a sign advertising the Pure Food show and some of the wires supporting the sign broke and in falling came into contact with a trolley wire in the street. The broken wire, charged with electricity, swung over to the pavement, striking the woman, who was passing. The sign was burned up.

After viewing the trouble, City Electrician Michaelson expressed the opinion that signs of that character should not be tolerated in a metropolitan city, such signs being dangerous in more ways than one.

Trousers, but No Money.

Joseph Janckie, who resides at 1902 Center street, has reported to the police department that on the night of September 1 a sneak thief entered his house through the kitchen while he was asleep upstairs and stole his trousers containing about $10 in money. Upon investigation he found his trousers in the back yard, but the thief had gone where it would probably do more good.

NO BUSINESS ON LABOR DAY

Hearing of Irrigation Canal Injunction Case Postponed by Judge Mungler.

The hearing on the application for an injunction in the case of the Tri-State Land company against Baker and sixty-four other farmers of Scott's Bluff and Cheyenne counties, which was set, by Judge Vandewater, for September 3, before Judge Mungler of the United States circuit court, has been again postponed, as September 3 was Labor day. Judge Mungler ruled Monday morning that the plaintiffs would be given until September 10 to make a showing, the defendants to make a counter showing September 14, and the final hearing to be held September 17.

The case is one wherein the Tri-State Land company is seeking to enlarge a certain irrigation canal in the counties of Scott's Bluff and Cheyenne, and in order to do so it will be necessary to shut off the water from the laterals supplying the farms of the defendants, until the enlargement is completed. The defendants, sixty-four in number, object to closing the canal and claim that they have perpetual water rights and that to close the canal at this time will destroy their growing crops. The purpose of the suit is to enjoin the defendants from interfering with the proposed enlargement of the canal, and to bar them from going into the state courts to enjoin the proposed enlargement of the canal. MANY OBSERVE LABOR DAY

City, County and Federal Officials Lay Off and some Pleinies Are Held.

Labor day was generally observed at the city hall. Those who attended their offices in the morning threw care away at noon. The elevators were as silent as the tomb all day. The gathering of the public school teachers in the Council chamber caused nearly as much bustle and rattle as the "home folks" running down to the wharf to meet Mr. Bryan. During the morning hours Clerk Barker, in the health commissioner's office, figured up the total deaths and births for August, while City Attorney Burnam opened up a package of new books.

MAN CUTS OFF HIS WIFE'S LIP

Negro Uses Razor on Woman from Whom He Had Been Divorced.

A brutal crime was committed by a negro named Cad Beatty Sunday night in South Omaha. After knocking his wife senseless with a hatchet he deliberately cut her upper lip clean off with a razor.

Mrs. Lottie Beatty, the wife, runs a colored lodging house at 2815 M street, being assisted by her two brothers. The people came here lately from St. Joseph. She has been divorced from her husband for several months. Sunday night he went to the house of his former wife and politely asked her to step out. She wished to speak to her. She complied, but no sooner had the door closed behind her than the man lay at her with the hatchet. She fell to the walk and with a razor he is said to have stolen from one of his wife's brothers, he cut off her upper lip from corner to corner of her mouth. He then made his escape before the woman recovered consciousness and reported the matter. It is thought he might have gone back to St. Joseph. The police of various parts have been notified to pick him up.

Dr. A. H. Koenig sewed the lip up on an hour afterward, but he fears the operation will not prove successful for the lip fell in the dirt when it was cut off.
