disqualified Nelson for doing the same thing he did not feel like doing it. Besides, the people were there to see the fight and did not want to disappoint them.

Siler was loudly cheered as he left the ring, as was Gans, who was carried to his dressing roun. Nelson and his seconds were hissed as they departed. Billy Nolan, Nelson's manager, made a disconnected statement in which he said that Gans had promised not to claim the decision on a foul and yet he jumped at the very first opportunity to make such a claim. All Nelson would say was that Gans was tired and

His work was the more wonderful when it is known that in the thirty-third round he broke his right hand. Never after that did he strike a blow with it, with the exception of a few short-arm joits while clinching. He it all over Nelson. Gans' generalship was shown when he broke his hand. In the thirty-third round he landed a hard righthand punch on the side of Nelson's face. A bone in the hand snapped and Gans stepped back with an expression of pain. He limped around as if he had stepped on his foot or turned on it, and no one realized that he had badly injured his right hand, although it was suspected that it might have been injured.

Gans stated after the fight that Nelson intentionally fouled. He said he knew he could fluish Nelson as he was comparatively strong and Nelson was growing weaker all die all his work with his left hand and put

He followed it with a right to the face and Nelson in a mix shot his right twice to the face and Nelson in a mix shot his right twice to the face and outboxed his man at every point. Gans jarred Nelson with two rights to the daw and followed them with a left to the face. After breaking from a clincu Nelson-walloped his right hard to the jaw and followed it with a left to the same place. Gans then peppered Nelson's face with two hammer rights and lefts to the face and slaw, and kept this up until the gong rang. Gans went to his come r with a big lead. Blood flowed from Nelson cars as he went to his seat.

Round 2-Both were up quickly, with Nelson the aggressor. Gans uppercut twice with right and left, which laired Nelson on the Jaw. He followed it with a straight right to the jaw. Nelson seemed impervious to punishment and came in at all times. Gans measured his short arm rights to the battler's face. They went to close quarters and Gans appercut Nelson twice on the Jaw. He chopped Nelson on the law again with stiff rights. Nelson fought him to a clinch and landed a terrible right to the face and followed it with a short arm joit to the face and followed right punches to the face and followed it with a short arm joit to the ear. As the gong rang Gans worked a hard left to the jaw. Gans had a good lead and outboxed and outseneraled his man.

Round 8-Nelson tried to get in close and Gans whipped his right to the ear. At close quarters Gans uppercut twice with right to the chin, and as they fought at close range Gans swung right and left to the head. Nelson got in a right over the eye. Gans hooked a wicked right to the stomach and Nelson shot a straight left to the face, Several of Nelson's swings went wild. They went to a furious mix in the center of the ring in which Gans draw blood from Nelson's nose with a straight left. Nelson got in a right to the face as the beil tolled. Nelson was being outpointed, but the never gave ground and seemed to thrive on Gans punishment. It was Gans' round.

Round 4-Betting now 2 to 1 on Gans. Nelson missed Gans shout the ring, but his blows invarfably fell short. In a clinch Gans worked his right and left to the face. Nelson went after Gans' body and bored in with his head, the black man backing steadily away, but at the same time peppering his man with right and left stabs to the face. Nelson caught Gans a ferring loose, drove Gans and left stabs to the face. Nelson caught Gans a ferring loose, drove Gans and late which he duplicated a moment later. Gans then put a right to the stomach and the bell rang. Nelson brought the great crowd to its feet as he went to his corner with a faint smile in his face. Nelson had a shade the better of it.

Fight in Close Quarters.

Crowd is Orderly.

Although Goldfield is a mining camp, it is seidom that a mpre orderly crowd ever attended such a contest. There was no disturbance of any kind and no rough language used.

Gans was undoubtedly the favorite with the people. His sentiemanly behavior won the admiration of the Goldfield people and they showed it. Gans is a hero in Goldfield tonight.

The attendance was about 5,000, although estimates were made as high as 8,500. The Goldfield Athletic club arrangements were perfect. There was not a high as 2,500. Goldfield Athletic club arrangements were perfect. There was not a hitch of any kind and the fight could be seen from any portion of the arena. About 20 women were present.

Fight by Rounds.

Round 1—Gans led off with two light lefts for the face and kkey clinched. Nelson fell back through the ropes and fans chivalrously pulled him back to the right by Rounds.

At the close of the tound Nelson kicked at Gans and the latter promptly retaliated in kind. They had to be separated by the handlers.

Round 15—The round opened with a clinch and Nelson elbowed and butted Gans plainly. He was warned to desist by Referee Siler and the seconds yelled foul in unison. No attention was paid to the claim and the men roughed it at close quarters. Nelson forced Gans against the ropes. The men fought at such close quarters or and the men roughed it at close quarters. Nelson forced Gans against the ropes. The men fought at such close quarters, or rather wrestled, that little execution could be accomplished. Nelson, in a breakaway, was sent to the floor with a right straight in the face. Nelson looked a bit shaky as he got to his feet and immediately went to close quarters to protect himself from further long distance swats. The crowd cheered Gans lustily as he went to his corner.

Round 16—Nelson missed a left and right swing, Gans ducking, Gans tried to keep Nelson at a distance, but Nelson followed Gans about the ring. Gans whipped his right to the jaw and Nelson wrestled Gans about the ring. Gans holding on. Nelson scored with a stiff right to the face and once more they leaned against each other. Gans wrestled Nelson clear through the ropes and in falling Nelson pulled the negro after him. They were pushed back into the ring and immediately resumed their wrestling factics. In the mix Nelson drove his right twice to the face and a right to the raputh at close quarters, sending for the right twice to the face and a right to the mouth at close quarters, sending Joe to his corner with blood streaming from his mouth. Nelson had the better of the round, which was full of wrestling.

Nelson Gains Strength.

Nelson Gains Strength.

Round 17-Nelson landed right to the mouth and they went to a clinch. Siler cautioned Nelson for hitting low. Nelson swung his right to the kidneys and they wrestled about the ring, Gane working in a left uppercut to the mouth and a moment later applied a similar punch. Gans, after Nelson had twiated his arm, sent the Battler back with two hard short-arm right foths to the face and a moment later shot his right to the wind. Both men rested for some time and the round ended with honors a bit in Nelson's Lavor.

Round is Gans rushed in with a straight right to face and Nelson swung two lefts to the negro's face. Biler again warned Nelson's lefts cleverly and the latter again bent down. Nelson sent in two left swings to the face, but Gans retailated with two stinging rights to the face. The wrestling continued and Gans drove Nelson against the rones with two right smashes to the face. Nelson nearly went to the floor, Gans backing away, and at the end of the round Gans got in a good right punch to the Dane's face. The men did not hear the gong and were pulled to their seats by their seconds. It was a tame round.

face. At close quarters Nelson put two good rights over the negro's heart and then followed the usual course of wrestling. They broke away and Nelson staggered Gans with a succession of hard left swings to the jaw and several hard rights to the same place. Gans did not respond and Nelson sent the crowd into a frenzy by driving Gans to his corner with a right hook to the body that was a peach. The crowd rose to its feet at the end of the round and, yelled: "Nelson, Nelson." It was the Dane's round.

Round 24—Nelson went right after Gans, having received instructions from his corner to go in. They roughed it and at close quarters Nelson swang his left and right to the face. Nelson smiled determinedly and gave Gans no chance to rest. He swung his left hard to the jaw, but Joe retailated with two wicked right uppercuts to the Jaw. Nelson then missed two vicious left uppercuts and they worked in close. Nelson drove Gans back to the ropes and put in two lefts to the body before Gans could clinch. They both missed left swings and a rally followed. Gans landing repeatedly on Nelson's face. Nelson had a shade the best of this round.

Negro a Bit Worsted.

Round 25—No son rushed and swung his right to the ear. They fought and wrest-led at close quarters, Neison breaking away and sending left to stomach. He then drove his right to the jaw and sending left in the face. Neison rocked the negro's head with a right and a left to the jaw. He followed this with two rights and a left to the jaw. Joe more than evened up matters by hammering victously Neison's face with right and left punches. It went close and just before the bell ray lans shot his left to the face. Gans was not worsted early in the round, but had the better of the closing rally.

In the round, but had the better of the closing raily.

Round 26—Nelson forced, Gans to the ropes, but could not penetrate Gans marvelous defense while in dangerous positions. They wrestled again about the ring, Gans retreating. Nelson landed a hard right swing on the head, but missed two left swings for the same place. Then the fighters sparred and Gans landed a left swing over the mouth and followed it with three straight lefts to the face. Then followed the linevitable clinch, emerging from which Nelson uppercut Gans on the law with the left. Both men appeared tired at this stage of the contest. It seemed hard to predict the winner at this time.

Nelson Wastes His Strength.

Round 27—Gans sparred while Nelson wasted his strength with uscless swings. Nelson pushed Gans against the ropes and the latter, working himself free, sent his left to Nelson's mouth. Nelson missed a hard left swing and in a mix Jee put in two sight rights to the face. Nelson retwo light rights to the face. Neison re-tailinted with two straight lefts to the face, the last one sending Gans head back. Gans then cut loose. He drove his left to the stomach with terrific force, and then drove right and left to the jaw. Nelson fought back viciously and gave the negro more than he had received as the round termi-nated. It was an even round with both men tired.

nated. It was an even round with both men tired.

Round 28—Gans jabbed Nelson on the mouth with left and Nelson butted the colored man with his head. Nelson then put left and right to the jaw and shortly afterward awung his left to the stomach and right to the jaw. Then they closed in and Nelson drove Joe to the ropes with a left hook to the face. The men wrestled to the center of the ring and Gans sent two right, swings to the face. Nelson tried to wrestle Gans to the ropes and Gans, like, a rejuvenated man, drove Nelson back with wrestle Gans to the ropes and Gans, like a rejuvenated man, drove Nelson back with several fearful clouts to the jaw, the first of which sent Nelson half way across the ring. Gans kept at his man, who was groggy, and the bell was welcomed as he went to his corner.

Nelson Again Warned. Nelson Again Warned.

Round 29—Nelson rushed to close quarters, apparently as strong as ever. He followed Gans about the ring, but failed to land. Nelson's recuperative powers appeared almost superhuman. The men wrestled and roughed it in the center of the ring and exchanged right swings to the jaw. Gans then cut loose again and mercilessly peppered Nelson's face and jaw with right and left joits. Nelson merely shook his head and wrestled the black man to the ropes. Gans rested, permitting Nelson to waste his energy trying to land. Gans was against the ropes as the bell sounded. Gans round.

was against the ropes as the bell sounded. Gans round.

Round 30—They fell against each other and Siler again warned Nelson to cease fighting with his head. They then fought at close quarters, Nelson doing all the work, but not landing. Gans then put in two right uppercuts and then stalled and rested, apparently with a view of saving his strength. Gans then put in a right uppercut to Nelson's mouth and the Dane missed several vicious left and right swings for the law. As the bell rang Nelson defor the jaw. As the bell rang Nelson de-liberately hit Gans and the crowd went to its feet in a storm of protest. Some one started three cheers for the negro, which drew forth a rousing response.

Nelson Still Butting In.

Nelson Still Butting In.

Round 31—Gans cleverly blocked Nelson's attempt to land wild swings and again reated, permitting the younger man to do sil the work. Again Siler told Nelson to quit butting in and they went to close quarters, wrestling and stalling. The men wrestled for fully a minute without a blow struck. Gans sent Nelson's head back with a straight left to the face. The men were locked in a clinch as the bell rang. The fight had apparently settled down to a question of endurance.

Round 32—Gans danced away from the Dane's leads. Siler again and again spoke to Nelson about using his head on the negro's chin. Again came the clinching and wrestling. Finally Nelson swung a hard right to the jaw and quickly followed it with a left swing to the same place. Nelson's left eye was badly swellen and almost closed. Gans sent Nelson hack with two straight lefts and three rights to Nelson's sore eye. Gans caught Nelson a terrific clip on the jaw with a right hook and then sent in a dazing left to the face. Again the gong brought relief to Nelson and saved him morn almost sure octeat.

Round 3-They closed in, Nelson butting with his head. Gans peppered Nelson's face to a jelly with terrific right swings. Nelson's left eye was entirely closed. Nelson punched Gans to the ropes and they fought at close range, Gans resting and saving his strength. Nelson bled profusely as the men worked to the center of the ring. Gans sent Nelson back with a left to the jaw. Both men were very weak as the gong sounded. Nelson for the first time showed great weariness. It was claimed that Gans had surned his foot in this round. It was Gans round.

Round 34-The men wrestled and stalled in the center of the ring, both seeming content to rear. This thing continued, neither landing a blow. It was wrestle, stall, wrestle and stall again. Nelson forced Gans to the ropes and received right and left swings on the head. Nelson worked in two short arm lefts to the stomach and both men wrestled. Gans nearly putting Nelson through the ropes. Nelson appeared very tired. Joe was the fresher as the round ended with a wrestling match. Nelson's Left Eye Closed.

Round &—The sun was going down. It was the same old story—wrestle, stall and rest without a blow being struck. Gans finally ripped in a straight left to the inward again they rested. Gans put in a right inpercut that lacked force and they went quickly to a clinch. Both men tottered about the ring, not landing a blow. Nelson at close quarters worked two left.

short arm blows to face and the bell closed a very slow and tiresome round.
Round 36-Both spaired and then Gans sent in a straight right to the face. The wrestling was resumed. Nelson missed a forceful uppercut intended for the law. Gans cleverly ducked a right swing and then ran into a right hook over the heart. Nelson booked a left to the stemach and at close quarters got his right lightly to the law. Nelson pushed Gans against the ropes and Gans barely got out of the way of a right uppercut.

Gans Files a Kick.

Gans Files a Kick.

Round 35—Nelson was again told to stop fighting with his head, Gans vigorously objecting to Siler against this style of scrapping. The men started wrestling and Nelson aways his left for the jaw, that missed its mark three feet. They leaned up against each other and little attempt was made to strike a blow. Then Gans whipped a powerful left to the wind and they clinched. Both men were very careful. Gans woke up the crowd by putting in several straight lefts to the face. Then came the rest.

Round 35—Nelson rushed in and Gans backed up quickly trying to keep the Dane at a distance and force frim to spar at long range. Gans complained to Siler about Nelson resting his head on his (Gans') chin and shoulders. Nelson swung a left to the jaw and after a clinch Gans put in two rights to the Dane's face. Both men were leg weary and stalled and clinched as much as they could. It was next to impossible to get the Dane to fight at long range and he realized that his only hope of winning the battle lay in close-range fighting or rather wrestling. Gans likewise seemed content to case up and rest.

More Stalling and Wrestling.

More Stalling and Wreatling.

Round 39—Gans labbed his left twice to the face before Nelson could get to close quarters. Then followed stalling and wrestling, which was broken up by Gans punching Nelson viciously over the heart with a right. Gans followed this with two straight lefts to the face and again it looked as though the deadlock would be broken. It was only a flash in the pan, however, and the men resumed the tiresome stalling. Nelson being the chief offender. Nelson, by way of variety, sent in a hard left to the jaw and Gans came back with two lefts to the jaw. Nelson's left eye was closed entirely now and he appeared to be firing rapidly.

Round 60—They started in at a lively pace, Gans landing his left to the ear. Then they stopped. In a clinch Gans drove left to jaw, Nelson coming back with a left upperson to the chin. The men did very little fighting. Gans got Nelson at arms' length and took advantage of this by sending his left twicecto the Dane's face. Gans complained again about Bat's head, and sent in Nelson's head back with a left uppercut to the jaw.

Round 41—They came up slowly and clinched. *Gans asked Billy Noian facetiously, "What time is it?" Then they resumed the clinching contest. Gans shot a straight right to mouth and Nelson retailated with two lefts to the stomach. Nelson whipped his left to face and the men ceased fighting entirely. Suddenly Nelson landed a hard left hook to the jaw and Gaus fought him away, landing two lefts to face and right on the body. Both men wrestled wearily about the ring and it was hard to tell which was the more tired as they went to the corners.

Nelson Fouls Gans. Round 42—Gans started the round with a straight left to the face and they linched. As the men broke from a linch Nelson deliberately struck Gans and the colored man slowly sank to floor. The blow was clearly observed the floor. The blow was clearly observed by everyone in the arena and there was not a murmur of dissent from the specta-tors as the long drawn out battle was terminated. Gans was given the decision on the foul

MORNINGSIDE COMES TO OMAHA Schedule of Foot Ball Games Includes One with Bellevue.

One with Bellevue,

IOWA CITY Ia. Sept. 3.—(Special.)—

Morningside college will enter the foot ball game this fall under the coaching of John L. Griffith with one of the heaviest schedules of any lowa team and the determination to lift itself to the front rank of the lowa colleges. Ip to the present time Morningside at Sioux City, has been content to play all of its games with the minor colleges in the western part of lowa and the eastern part of the Dakotas. An unusually successful season last year, coupled with the development of some exceptionally strong minor college players, has aroused the ambition of the westerners and this year they have scheduled games with Drake university, to be played in Sioux City, and with Ames college, to be played at Ames, Is. The result of these two games will largely determine the stending of the school in its first invasion of the middle western lowa and will give it a standing in the determination of the lowa championship. The schedule just announced by Griffith is as follows:

September 22. Sheldon High school at Sioux City; September 29. Norfolk (Neb.) High school at Sioux City; October is, Ames at Ames; October 2. Dakota Wesleyan university at Mitchell; November 3. Buena Vista college at Storm Lake; November 19. Drake university at Sloux City; at Sloux City; November 19. Drake university at Sloux City; Morenber 29. Yankton college at Sioux City.

Lincoln Takes Two. Lincoln Takes Two.

LINCOLN, Neb., Sept. 3.—Lincoln look both games of a double-header from Bloux City today, profiting by the patched up lineup the visitors were obliged to present. The first victory was hardly deserved, Sloux City finding Eyler for nearly twice as many hits as the Lincolns did Jackson. The latter's wildness, however, was fatal. The second game was a pretty one and Lincoln earned the victory. Both pitchers were effective, McKay having a little the best of it. In the absence of a regular umpire. Hollys and Hustlers Break Even.

The Hollys broke even with the ideal Hustlers in a double-header at the latter's park Labor day. In the first game the Hustlers gave the Hollys their brist shutout in five years—score, 4 to 0—while in the second game the Hustlers were defeated, 5 to 1, narrowly escaping a shutout, as in the final inning the Hollys let down and the Biunites secured their two runs. Denny's three-sacker with the bases full gave the Hollys the second same. McAndrews led in hitting, securing three safeties in each game. Bunnell pitched both games for the Hollys, and in the eighteen innings allowed but six hits and struck out twenty-four. This makes twenty-three and one-third innings Bunnell has pitched in two days and in them he has allowed seven hits, struck out thirty-lour, walked but one and hit three batters. Score, first game: Batteries: Bunnell and Velechovsky; Crowe and Smith.

ARAPAHOE, Neb., Sept. 3.—(Special Telegram.)—The first game between the Arapahoe Braves and the Beaver City White Caps was a contest of croas-road playing and the history of the game does now express it. The White Caps presented several pitchers who could not throw a ball over a base as large as a tree claim. It was a contest between Leach, who succeeded Atkinson, as to who would do the worst, until Jones was put in, and did fairly well. Stolen bases were numerous and the White Caps pitcher gave eight bases on balls, besides three hit by pitchers. Bliney of Batteries: Atkinson, Leach, Jones, Shar-

Interesting Program at Lyons.

Interesting Program at Lyons.

LYONS. Neb., 1.Sept. 4.+(Special Telegram.).—Labor day in Lyons was like a Fourth of July celebration, the rain Sunday keeping the farmers from the fields and they all came to town to celebrate and enjoy themselves. Horse races and foot races of all descriptions were pulled off. Ball games were played both morning and afternoon. The Clear Lake team defeated the German team by the score of 10 to 6 in the forenoon, and the commandable of the figure of the forenoon of the pagety team from Sloux City in the afternoon by the score of 5 to 4. After the ball games Prof John Mowrer of this city made one of the best halloon ascensions and parachute drops ever made in this county and which was followed later in the evening by the concert given by the Lyons cornet band.
