EDWARD ROSEWATER'S WILL

Document Filed for Probate Divides Property Mostly in Family.

WIFE AND SONS ARE MADE EXECUTORS

The will of Edward Rosewater was filed for probate in the office of the county clerk of Douglas county yesterday afternoon. It bears date of February 14, 1906, and is witnessed by Thomas J. Fitzmorris and Vaclov Buresch.

In the petition for the probating of the will it is estimated that the value of the real estate is $25,000 and of the life insurance and personal property $50,000.

The will directs that the life insurance carried by the testator shall be used in defraying his personal obligations. If the amount be found insufficient then the balance is to be paid by his sons, Victor and Charles Rosewater, out of the bequests made to them. The principal bequests of the will are of the stock of The Bee Building and The Bee Publishing companies. These stocks are disposed of as follows:

In addition to the stock in the building and paper left to his granddaughter, Nellie R. Elgutter, Mr. Rosewater also made the beneficiary of a life insurance policy of the value of $10,000. To his brother, Andrew Rosewater, he leaves the sum of $10,000. Frank Rosewater is made the direct beneficiary of a life insurance policy.

N. P. Fell, who made a bequest under the will, is a son-in-law of Mr. Rosewater and was also business manager of The Bee for many years. The bequests of a public nature are provided for in the following paragraphs from the will: "I give and bequeath to the Wise Memorial Hospital association of Omaha five (5) shares of stock of The Bee Building company of the par value of twenty-five hundred dollars ($2,500), the income whereof is to be expended for the free treatment of indigent students, regardless of creed or nationality. "I give and bequeath to the school district of Omaha, to be held in trust, twenty (20) shares of the stock in The Bee Building company of the par value of ten thousand dollars ($10,000), the income whereof is to be expended by the Board of Education for the establishment of a scholarship of technology, to be awarded to sons of Omaha mechanics who desire to acquire education in mechanical engineering or applied science. The selection of said scholarship to be made by the Board of Education among competitors who have taken the course of instruction in the Omaha High school and whose parents are unable to defray the expenses incident to attendance on a school of technology or polytechnic school. "I give and bequeath to the Omaha Newsboys' home the sum of one thousand dollars ($1,000), to be held in trust and expended by the board of directors in conjunction with my executors. The residue of the estate is left to his wife without reservation or condition. His wife and sons are appointed executors.

PAXTON FIGHT IS RENEWED

Suit to compel the distribution of earnings supposed to amount to $80,000 was begun in district court Wednesday by Rome Miller and Elizabeth Whalen against the Kitchen Bros. Hotel company, Rome B. Kitchen, Ralph Kitchen, George E. Fritchett, J. J. Points and Josephine C. Kitchen. The defendants are members of the board of directors of the hotel company and Mr. Miller says they have not declared a dividend for three years, although the business has been very profitable. He also says he and other stockholders are unable to get at the books to find out the exact condition of affairs. He asks the court to grant an injunction restraining the directors from restraining the dividend profits in their possession or control.

The petition states James B. Kitchen owns 275 of the 500 shares in the company and hence has control. The other directors it is alleged hold their shares from Mr. Kitchen and are under his control. March 1, 1906, it is alleged, there remained undivided $84,077.42 in profits and this amount is estimated to have increased to $80,000. It is claimed there is no good reason for not making the distribution. The suit is one of several in which the stockholders of the company have been involved recently growing out of a fight for the control of the company. The company owns and operates the Paxton hotel at Fourteenth and Farnam streets.

Mack stated that he was temporarily embarrassed and insisted on being accommodated

School Children Face Dangers

How They Can Be Protected From Serious Harm.

The children are in school again and parents will watch their progress with anxiety, for many dangers lie in the path of the boy and girl. To thousands of them the confinement of the schoolroom and the duties imposed by their studies are a very serious strain. Many become broken in health and are physically weakened for life.

Give your boys and girls good, pure, strengthening food and you go far toward removing all dangers. Malt-Vita, the perfect whole-wheat food, is rich in every nutritive element demanded by the body of the child, being a pure grain product—simply the whole of the best white wheat and a little salt, mixed with pure barley malt extract—Malt-Vita supplies the body with all those food elements which make bone, blood, muscle and brain and bring perfect health and strength.

The malt extract is added after the wheat has been thoroughly cooked and steamed and converted the starch of the wheat into maltose, or malt sugar, which is highly nutritious and easily assimilated even by very weak stomachs. Physicians recommend maltose for its strength-giving qualities and Malt-Vita is rich in it. After being mixed with the malt extract, the wheat, rolled into little wafer flakes, goes to the ovens, where it is baked crisp and brown, delicious beyond description. Try Malt-Vita with milk or cream or fruit, and let the children eat all they want. No cooking. All grocers, now in stock.

free of charge. Upon the refusal of Mr. Gross to do business on such a basis, Mack assaulted him, raising a new shirt for Gross, who called Officer Dillon to his assistance. Mack obtained his lodging free of charge without any further trouble at the city hall and in police court was given ten days more free lodging.

TWO SUITS FOR DIVORCE ON

Woman Has Pair of Petitions Before the Court at Same Time.

Mrs. Clara Topp is in the unique position of having two suits for divorce pending in the district court at the same time. The first petition asking for legal separation from Walter Topp was filed last March by one set of attorneys and the second was filed Wednesday by another lawyer. In her first petition she declares her husband was a Minnesota lumberman, treated her coldly and gave no more concern to her than he did to his hunting dogs. She said he was very fond of hunting and would leave her for weeks at a time while he went on hunting trips. She also charged many other specific acts of cruelty. In the petition filed Wednesday she makes only general charges of cruelty and non-support.

Mabel Ford demands a divorce from Hayes Ford on allegations of cruel treatment and non-support. She wants her maiden name, Salisbury, back again.

Frank W. Opoensky charges Maud L. Opoensky with abandonment in his petition for divorce. They were married in Helena, Montana, April 1905, and he says she left him in November of the same year.

Lenz Bowman asks for a divorce from William H. Bowman because she says he drinks to excess, treats her cruelly and fails to provide the necessities of life. She wants to go back to her maiden name, Lenz Young.

JEROME MEETS DEMOCRATS

New York Attorney Talks to Politicians Outside of the City.

TAKES ISSUE WITH GOVERNOR FOLK

Says "Muckraker" Has Done Some Good, but People Are Not Interested in Politics as Partisans.

ALBANY, N. Y., Sept. 5.—District Attorney Jerome of New York was the central figure in the conference of up-state democrats called to meet here today to consider the condition of the democratic party in the state of New York.

It was declared by the sponsors of the conference, leading among whom was ex-Mayor Thomas M. Osborne of Auburn, that Mr. Jerome was present merely as a speaker, not as a party to the conference, and that the meeting was not in the interest of his candidacy or that of any other man for the democratic nomination for governor.

Mr. Jerome in his address to the gathering mentioned no names. He dealt with the general purposes, general condition and possibilities of the democratic party. He declared it as his understanding that the conference was in the interest of dictating to or threatening the convention of the party soon to assemble at Buffalo.

He took direct issue with the opinion recently expressed by Governor Folk of Missouri, and others, though he named no one, saying:

Real leadership is nowhere in sight, and what passes for leadership seems to consist of demagogic denunciation of existing conditions and the advancing of vague schemes of socialism and paternalism, which are essentially revolutionary in character.

We are not "on the threshold of the greatest political awakening this nation has ever known," marking "the beginning of a new age," but we are, I believe, about to return to our senses and to earnestly address ourselves to the solution of the difficult problems confronting us by the methods which the past has shown to be entirely adequate to meet the greatest emergency.

"Muckraker" Has Done Good. The so-called "muckraker" has had a great voice, and, on the whole, has done a good work, but in mere exposure and denunciation English-speaking people can not rest.

The "muckrakers" and "trust buster" is omnivorous and much in evidence, but he offers no issue on which the political party can divide. Our elections, where national political parties are involved, have become little more than an ignominious scramble for office, in which each candidate declares how good he will be if elected to office and vice with his opponent in claiming trust-busting anti-corruption virtues, not forgetting to emphasize how warmly his heart beats for organized labor.

In the midst of all this "the plain people" go about their business, seeing no real issue of present interest in dividing the national parties, with their stand indifferent to each, ready and free to choose when an issue arises that interests them.

"The republican party," he continued, had always been conservative, opposed to change and innovation, until today half consciously it voices its character by declaring itself to be the party of the 'stand-patter'.

On the other hand, the democratic party has left the party of the liberal. Only recently," he said, "had efforts been made to drag the party from the path of progress to that of revolution.

"The leader has disappeared," said Mr. Jerome. "The boss who has succeeded him is only apparently a boss and in reality is but the hired man of the capitalist, whose sinister influence lies back on party machinery and controls it for his own selfish and corrupt ends. The people have practically no choice in the selection of candidates for office and at the polls have only a choice between men whom they often consider as unfit for the office for which they are running.

"The men responsible for the present demoralized condition of the party machinery should be driven out of office."

"From a great vote-getting organization they have it simply a delegate-getting machine."

Independence Necessary. Unless these conditions were remedied, Mr. Jerome declared, by the encouragement of independent thought and action, by conventions made open rather than subservient to a central clique, the thousands of self-respecting voters in the state who are democratic in principle, but vote the republican ticket, will continue where they are, and young men who could be brought into the ranks in numbers will remain indifferent to political affairs or join our political opponents.

"The people of the democratic party," he continued, "have been disgraced and humiliated by years of mismanagement, to give it no harsher name," would array themselves behind their party candidates if they are men of character, standing on a platform of real democracy.

"And in that platform," he said in closing, "they want no crass socialism nor revolutionary paternalism. What they want is men and not measures. They have little faith in new laws while there is not honesty and capability enough in public servants to work the law."

NEW CITY PROSECUTOR TODAY

Successor to Tom Lee to Be Elected if Council Executes Plan.

Acting Mayor Johnson has called a special meeting of the city council for this afternoon at 4 o'clock, when, the program reads, a city prosecutor will be elected to succeed the present incumbent, Tom Lee. It was rumored about the city hall yesterday afternoon that Herbert S. Daniel looked like a winner for the place. L. J. Platti, however, may surprise some people. It is suggested by his friends. The failure of the mayor to send in an appointment to the council Tuesday evening placed the election of a city prosecutor up to the council.

Tom Lee, the present city prosecutor, is a republican and helped carry the Third ward for Mr. Dahlgren at the recent city election.
