OMAHA NATIONAL JUMPS TO THE LEAD

Statement Just Made Discloses Records of Prosperity Never Before Equalled in the History of Omaha.

Deposits in Omaha National Banks, September 4, 1906, $23,246,000.00 August 28, 1906, 27,354,018.96 Increase, $4,108,018.96
Deposits in Omaha national banks have reached a new high level, being for the statement just issued, $1,386,465.07 larger than for the statement of June 15, 1906, which showed the largest deposits in the history of the city up to that time. Deposits are now $1,992,073.30 more than at the time of the corresponding statement of 1905, which showed the heaviest deposits for that year.

Another record has also been reached for deposits of single banks. The Omaha National bank, on September 4, had deposits in any bank of the state at one time. The record to this date is said to have been held by the First National, with $1,004,645.58 on August 25 of last year.

Summer Big Season.
The summer also has been the period of largest earnings for stockholders, as the combined surplus and undivided profits of the banks have never been so large, and never showed such a percentage of increase between two calls. The combined surplus and undivided profits of the banks are $1,396,914.52, which is $37,522.52 greater than shown by the corresponding statement of last year.

By reason of the heavy deposits, loans and discounts more than $4,000,000 larger than last year are made possible. All these enormous figures are pointed to by the bankers as an index of the prosperity of Nebraska and other territory tributary to Omaha in a financial way. Deposits are perhaps larger now than they will be at any other time this year, for the country banks have been sending their money to Omaha all summer, and the flood of the tide has been reached. Soon they will begin to draw out their surplus for use in moving the stock and the millions of bushels of grain of the country.

Table showing comparison of call of September 4 with corresponding call of 1905, August 25.

Young Woman Robbed and Deserted by Man She Was to Wed.

ANOTHER CASE WHERE LOVE IS BLIND

Wretch Wins Heart, Then Gets Money and Starts with Woman, Ostensibly to Marry in Omaha.
A glaring case of misplaced confidence was brought to the attention of the officers at Union station Friday morning when Miss Belle McGinney of Buffalo, N. Y., arrived, minus her future husband and her money and asked the officers for aid in finding both.
Her story was that a fine looking chap giving his name as Harry Stalle and claiming to be a rich man from San Francisco, made love to her in Buffalo and won her heart and the promise of her hand. Stalle was in a hurry to get to San Francisco, so he showed Miss McGinney where they could make time by marrying at Omaha, which was just half way across the continent. Stalle was two months in wooing Miss McGinney, but he finally gained her consent and they started west.
Mr. Stalle told the fair one what a tough place Chicago was and how thick the thieves were and thus induced her to let him carry her money, amounting to over $300, while she kept $25, which she did not turn over to him. In Chicago she went shopping for a hat and went to meet Stalle at the depot. He was there and got her a ticket to San Francisco. He excused himself to arrange for her baggage and said he would ride in the smoker while he finished his cigar. That was the last Miss McGinney ever saw of Stalle. After an hour or so she missed him and searched the train, but the bird had flown. She concluded to come on to Omaha, as he might have missed his train and would surely follow on a later train.
Thus the heart-stick maiden waited at Union station Friday morning until the next Milwaukee train arrived from Chicago, but no Stalle was aboard. She applied to the Milwaukee officials, who redeemed her ticket from Omaha to San Francisco, and this gave her sufficient funds with which to return to Buffalo, a poorer but wiser woman.

CHECK ARTIST FALLS DOWN

Crook from Lincoln Lands in Jail When He Tries His Trick.

W. K. Kinsey of Lincoln found that an attempt to pass a personal check when he had no funds in the bank is rather bad business when tried on the merchants of Omaha. Thursday he gave a check to a local merchant for $15. The merchant was suspicious and ascertained that Kinsey did not have an account with the bank upon which the check was drawn. Kinsey was given into the care of the police and in police court Friday morning was sentenced to ten days in the county jail to think up a new plan of earning a livelihood.

THE RENEWAL OF STRAINS.

Vacation is over. Again the school bells ring at morning and at noon; again with tens of thousands the hardest kind of work has begun, the renewal of which is a mental and physical strain to all except the most rugged. The little girl that a few days ago had roses in her cheeks, and the little boy whose lips were then so red and young would have insisted that they had been "kissed by strawberries." They have already lost something of the appearance of health. Now is a time when many children should be given a tonic, which may avert much serious trouble, and we know of no other so highly to be recommended as Hood's Sarsaparilla, which strengthens the nerves, perfects digestion and assimilation and adds mental development by building up the whole system.

Ladies of the Macabees.

Uniform, Hive No. 35. You are requested to attend the funeral of our late member, Lady Anna Miller, which will take place at 11 o'clock Saturday morning from her home, 3556 U street, South Omaha. MARGARET ROWE, R. K.

Change in Time Card.
On and after Sunday, August 26th, the local train between Omaha and Falls City via the Missouri Pacific, will run daily now instead of daily except Sunday. Leaves Webster St. depot at 3:30 P. M.

SQUARE MEAL FOR NOTHING

Oldest Inhabitant Takes a Stroll Through Park Food Show and Gets Loaded.

The Oldest Inhabitant was feeling lonely last night, his old chum the Careful Observer being out of the city on a chicken hunt, so he strolled over to the Auditorium to pass the evening at the food show. The first man he saw was Mr. Dean, who has charge of the show for the local grocers' organization, and who insisted on introducing him to some of the fair dames and dandies who preside over the destinies of the various booths. At Hartman's booth he had a pickle, at the Kamo Inn he drank a cup of coffee, at the Minnesota macaroni booth he swallowed a long string of something like a pipe stem, only soft, and at the Advo booth he sampled everything. He smacked his lips on some red jelly stuff at the Oldest Inhabitant.

DEFUNCT BANK NOTES BOB UP

Worthless Paper is Passed on Persons in Omaha and Council Bluffs.

Captain John Webb of the United States secret service recently recovered several old state bank notes that have been passed upon unsuspecting parties in Omaha and at Council Bluffs. The bank notes are of the vintage of the old Georgia state bank, and the New Brunswick notes. The Georgia bank notes are the issue of the Merchants and Planters' bank of thirty or more years ago. They are of the $5 and $10 denominations. The notes in each instance have been split and the front and back are the same. The maker of the split note has ingeniously interwoven silk threads between the layers, making the deception difficult to detect. While the notes are not actual counterfeit, they are bad money, from the fact of being the issue of defunct state banks. The New Brunswick bank notes is so well known as to need no description. Many of them were put in circulation here several years ago. The denomination of those now in circulation are usually $5 or $10.

THIRTY THOUSAND FOR FALL

Amount of Damages Thomas McCollum Wants from South Omaha for Accident.

For injuries he received by falling on an icy sidewalk in front of 230 N street, Thomas McCollum has begun suit in district court against the city of South Omaha for $30,000. The accident happened February 15 and he says in his petition that the city authorities had negligently permitted the snow and ice to accumulate on the walk for a month previous to that time. He says he fractured his spine, strained and bruised his back, injured his head and suffered paralysis of his whole body. He declares his general health has been injured. The case comes before the district court on an appeal from the South Omaha council, which rejected his claim.
