cels post, limiting working hours of railway employes, Porto Rican citizenship in the United States, reduction of tariff on Philippine products, copyright revision, navy to have biggest battleship afloat, and establishment of Appalachian and White Mountain forest reserve.

Then follows extracts from speeches, remarks and messages of President Roosevelt on various public matters, various statistics, the railway rate law in full and other legislation.

Keynote on Tariff.

The keynote of the discussion of the tariff question is sounded in the following statement:

"Protectionists are content to let the present law stand without change or amendment so long as present conditions prevail.

"A slight reduction in many of our schedules," says the campaign book, "would result in the dumping into our market of perhaps a billion dollars' worth of manufactures annually more than we now import. That would mean a resort to one of two things: We would have to close our mills or reduce wages. There is positively no other alternative.

"Protectionists do not claim that schedules are sacred and never to be altered. They do claim, however, that the so-called American system of protection as exemplified by the operation of the Dingley law for nine years is sacred and must be maintained. We do not have to theorize in the least degree. We have tried and tried thoroughly both high and low tariffs and we have experience as an example to guide us in reaching the truth.

"We need go back no further in our history than a decade to learn that a low tariff means insufficient revenue, closing our manufactories, idleness for millions of our laborers and low wages for other millions and unprofitable prices for our farmers.

"A mere handful, however, of the republican party have been asking that the duty be removed or reduced upon certain materials entering into the products of their own locality. It is believed that this demand has been made more for political than economical results."

Regarding the negro in politics, the statement is made that "the mere mention of the facts well known to every observer of the times will suffice to indicate the relative attitude of the two great political parties toward the colored citizen."

The republican party, it is stated, believes in the political equality of all men without reference to race or nationality, while the democratic party believes in restricting the privileges of citizenship to a particular class and has written its opinions into the statutes, constitutions and practices of nearly every southern state where the party is dominant.

After quoting the letter of President Roosevelt of August 18 last to Representative Watson of Indiana, analyzing the issues of the coming campaign, the book closes with a quotation from what is given as Speaker Cannon's new platform:

"Put none but home-made cake in the pantry."

MAGOON'S RISE IS RAPID

trust reason that if Cuba was taken over to put down the insurrection and rebellion they would be benefited to the extent of the absorption of the duty on raw sugars at least.

This powerful influence, coupled with the unrest and disappointment of political agitators, is bound to create a revolution in Cuba one of these days, the suppression of which will rest upon the United States, according to the terms of the Platt amendment.

Deuel May Seek Governorship.

The resignation of Judge C. H. Deuel of New York from the court of appeals of the District of Columbia gives rise to much speculation as to whether Judge Deuel has not political ambitions in the Empire state that may land him in the senate as the successor of Chauncey M. Depew. As commissioner of patents Judge Deuel distinguished himself and his elevation to the court of appeals bench was a tribute to his ability and his uprightness of character. It was supposed his promotion marked the termination of an active political career for that of the quieter paths of jurisprudence, but Judge Deuel has done the wholly unexpected thing by resigning his place on the court of appeals bench to make a place for himself in some active field of work. It is even intimated that Judge Deuel, who comes from New York City, would make a splendid compromise candidate for governor on the republican ticket in view of the dissensions between the Odell and the Higgins crowd and that his nomination would meet the hearty endorsement of President Roosevelt, who, while not taking an active interest in the New York campaign, is keenly alive to the situation. Although Deuel's friends are maintaining a discreet silence, intimation has been given that Judge Deuel would not stand aloof should his party call him to lead in the fight for governor.

HOW MANY OF US?

Fail to Select Food Nature Demands to Ward Off Ailments.

A Ky. lady, speaking about food, says: "I was accustomed to eating all kinds of ordinary food until, for some reason, indigestion and nervous prostration set in.

"After I had run down seriously my attention was called to the neccessity of some change of diet, and I discontinued my ordinary breakfast and began using Grape-Nuts with a good quantity of rich cream.

"In a few days my condition changed in a remarkable way, and I began to have a strength that I had never been possessed of before, a vigor of body and a poise of mind that amazed me. It was entirely new in my experience.

"My former attacks of indigestion had been accompanied by heat flashes, and many times my condition was distressing with blind spells of dizziness, rush of blood to the head and neuralgic pains in the chest.

"Since using Grape-Nuts alone for breakfast I have been free from these troubles, except at times when I have indulged in rich, greasy foods in quantity, then I would be warned by a pain under the left shoulder blade, and unless I heeded the warning the old trouble would come back, but when I finally got to know where these troubles originated I returned to my Grape-Nuts and cream and the pain and disturbance left very quickly.

"I am now in prime health as a result of my use of Grape-Nuts." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

INQUIRY INTO UNIVERSITY

Move on Foot to Cut Down the One Mill Tax Levy for Institution.

FRIENDS OF UNIVERSITY ASK FOR MORE

Secretary Royse of State Banking Board Recommends Some Changes in the Present Banking Laws.

(From a Staff Correspondent.)

LINCOLN, Sept. 9.—(Special.)—An inquiry is being made into the expenditures of the State university, evidently with a view to the introduction of a bill in the next legislature to reduce the 1 mill tax that goes to the support of the university. This levy has been increasing from year to year owing to the increase in the assessed valuation of all property of the state. In 1903 the assessed value of the state, on which the 1 mill levy was based, was $188,458,879; in 1904, $194,779,244; in 1905, $304,000,000; in 1906, $313,000,000. The levy produced in 1903, $188,458; in 1904, $294,779; in 1905, $304,000; in 1906 it will produce $313,000. At the close of the biennium, in November, 1904, a total of $800,000 had been expended by the university from a total of $874,500 appropriated by the legislature for the university for all purposes, including $231,491 spent for salaries and nearly $100,000 for buildings. An appropriation of $35,000 for a building was not expended owing to the failure of the regents to secure plans and begin work in time. The friends of the university will oppose a reduction of the 1 mill levy on the ground that all of the money appropriated by the legislature is needed and that if the university is to retain its place in the educational world it must be liberally supported. It is said that during the last five years Missouri, Iowa, Minnesota and Illinois universities have been taking some of Nebraska's best talent by paying higher wages. The payroll of Wisconsin in 1904 was $328,627, of Michigan $421,442, of Nebraska, $193,937.

Changes in the Banking Law.

Secretary Royse of the State Banking board may stir up a controversy if his recommendations are placed before the legislature in the form of amendments to the present banking law. He has formulated recommendations which include one requiring bankers to pay for as many examinations each year as the board finds it necessary to make. The law now permits one examination each year for pay, the fees to go to the state treasury. At present a bank is taxed on its capital, surplus and undivided profits. Mr. Royse desires a tax on capital and surplus up to the point where the surplus equals 20 per cent of the capital. This, he believes, would be beneficial in that it would encourage the building up of a surplus. He further recommends that a bank be permitted to loan 20 per cent of its capital and surplus to any one individual, firm or corporation instead of 20 per cent of its capital.

Of traveling expenses and salaries for state bank examiners and the use of railroad passes, Mr. Royse says:

The appropriation for each examiner by the last legislature was $1,200 for the biennium, making $600 each year for expenses, which includes transportation. It must be evident to the law-making body that this sum is entirely inadequate unless the examiners accept free railroad transportation. If in the opinion of the next legislature the railroad pass is an evil and should be abolished, the present banking act should be amended and appropriation made sufficient to cover the traveling expenses of the examiners, which it is estimated would require an appropriation about double the amount heretofore appropriated.

If Senator Gilligan of Holt county is again elected to the senate he will probably go after the state banking department rough shod. He introduced a bill in the last legislature to abolish the entire examination system or at least to make examiners personally liable for the failure of banks that had been examined by them. Such a suit was actually filed in court in Holt county, where a bank was wrecked by its managers. The examiner was not held liable by the court.

Republican Campaign.

Emerson and not Hartington is the place where the first republican rally of the state campaign will be held, September 12, with Attorney General Brown and George L. Sheldon the speakers. An effort will be made to have these two speakers cover the state as thoroughly as possible. Several local speakers, including Judge A. W. Field, Judge M. B. Reese and Judge J. B. Strode, will be asked to take the stump. Most of the speakers will be Nebraskans. The publicity bureau of the state committee will endeavor to keep the press informed regarding the work of the republicans and the democrats. Congressman Pollard has planned to make a number of speeches in his district. E. C. Strode is his chairman. The officers of the state committee are formulating a list of committeemen to comprise the executive committee, but the appointment has been delayed.

POLITICS HOLDS THE STAGE

Independence League of New York Slated to Name Hearst for Governor.

MUCH INTEREST IN THE MAINE ELECTION

Strong Fight Made on Governor and Congressman Littlefield and Result Somewhat in Doubt.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 9.—On Tuesday, September 11, the convention of the Independent League of New York state will be called to order in New York City. The sessions probably will last two days. The league may or may not nominate a full state ticket, sentiment being divided as to the wisdom of placing an entire ticket in the field. Some of the delegates favor nominations for governor and lieutenant governor only. It is regarded as a certainty that William R. Hearst will be selected by the league to stand as its candidate for chief executive of the state.

The democrats of Connecticut also will meet in convention at Hartford on Tuesday to nominate candidates for the various state offices. It is expected that Charles F. Thayer of Norwich will be named for governor and John M. Ney of Hartford for lieutenant governor. On the same day the California democratic convention will meet at Sacramento.

On the eve of the Maine state election both parties feel that uncertainty exists to an unusual degree throughout the entire state, and many surprises are looked for Monday when the ballots shall have been counted. Two of Maine's most prominent republicans stand out especially in the element of uncertainty, Governor William T. Cobb and Congressman Charles E. Littlefield, both of whom are residents of Rockland, and both of whom seek a re-election. Governor Cobb has made his campaign on purely state issues, but the candidacy of Mr. Littlefield has been given wide prominence on account of the fact that he has been opposed by Samuel Gompers, the president of the American Federation of Labor, who has made many speeches in Congressman Littlefield's district in the last three weeks. Republican leaders are quoted as admitting that largely because of the operation of the so-called Sturgis liquor law the state ticket will probably not have a plurality exceeding 11,000, while for nearly a decade the republican plurality has been in excess of 35,000.

On Wednesday the prohibitionists of Maryland will meet at Laurel. Also on Wednesday the graduation exercises of the naval academy will take place at Annapolis.

The national convention of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers and the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen will meet September 10 at Milwaukee.

Although the republican state convention, which convenes at Dayton, O., Tuesday, is held for the nomination of candidates for secretary of state and other state officers, the preconvention interest centered on the equal endorsement of the president and the two senators and on the contest of Senator Dick for re-election as chairman of the state committee. Notwithstanding the fact that he was defeated in his home county, Senator Dick expresses full confidence in his own success.

However, Harry Daugherty and Congressman Burton express equal confidence in their contest against the retention of Senator Dick. The endorsement of both President Roosevelt and of the Ohio senators, notwithstanding their differences over various matters of legislation at Washington, is being sought by many delegates, while others are equally insistent that the president be endorsed and that the senators be ignored, or, at most, given a merely perfunctory resolution of commendation.
