Both Teams Make Numerous Errors, but Those of Omaha More Costly.

PITCHERS TOUCHED UP IN GREAT SHAPE

Omaha Secures Twenty Safe Ones and Pueblo Fifteen—Decidedly Off Day for the Shortstops of Both Teams.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 10.—In an exciting contest, in which errors figured, Pueblo took the first game from Omaha by a score of 11 to 10. Costly errors by Friske, followed by heavy hitting gave Omaha a heavy lead in the third and fourth innings, but they scored four more runs, giving them a lead of eight. Consecutive hitting by the locals in the last half of the ninth gave them three runs and in the eighth inning the Omaha team was pitched. Friske opened the inning by dropping an easy fly. Long made two costly errors and with timely hitting the locals scored six runs and tied the game. In the tenth inning, after Long had fumbled Henley's grounder, Cook went out on a fly. By this time Friske had a hunt. Bader drove a nice one over third taking in the winning run. Score:

H. CLAY PIERCE ARRESTED

Head of Waters-Pierce Oil Company Taken on Attachment at St. Louis.

OIL MAGNATE TESTIFIES IN HEARING

His Company Buys All Its Supplies from Standard Company and Divides Territory with It.

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 10.—H. Clay Pierce, chairman of the executive board of the Waters-Pierce Oil company, was arrested today at the corner of Broadway and Olive streets in an attachment issued several weeks ago to compel his attendance as a witness in a civil suit.

Mr. Pierce was taken to the sheriff's office in the court house. Arrangements are being made for Mr. Pierce to be released in order to permit his attending the hearing of the oil company's suit at the Southern hotel, at which Mr. Pierce's attorney had guaranteed his presence today.

From the sheriff's office Pierce was taken before C. B. Allen, commissioner of the Standard Oil company, who had issued the attachment. The case upon which the attachment was issued is a suit brought against the oil company by John P. Gruet, former secretary, for salary.

Pierce on the Stand. Former Judge H. S. Priest, Pierce's personal counsel, conducted the examination of the oil magnate. His first question was: "Do you own any stock in either the Republic Oil company or the Standard Oil company of Indiana?" asked the attorney. "No, and I never have."

"Do any of these companies own any stock in the Waters-Pierce Oil company?" Pierce consulted a memorandum which he took from his coat. "I understand that the shares of stock standing on its books in the name of M. M. Van Buren have been admitted in this case to belong to the Standard Oil company of New Jersey," he replied.

"Can you state the number of shares?" "I think it is 2,746."

"How many do you own?" "Twelve hundred and fifty."

Blames Agent for Trouble. Mr. Pierce described the forming of the Waters-Pierce Oil company and stated that up to the time of his liquidation in 1900, the business of the company had flourished.

"About that time," said Mr. Pierce, "an inexperienced agent of the company in Texas entered into an agreement with the Standard Oil company which resulted in our being ousted from that state."

"I took the matter up with the Texas authorities and was frankly informed that no Missouri company, controlled by the Standard Oil company, or doing business according to its methods, would be tolerated in that state."

"After the reorganization in 1900, until the spring of 1904, the Standard Oil company made no attempt to interfere with my control of management of the Waters-Pierce company. At that time the Standard Oil company transferred the 2,746 shares of stock held in my name to M. M. Van Buren and began in many ways to dictate the policy of the Waters-Pierce company. I protested vigorously against this interference."

"After frequent interviews and discussions of this point," continued Mr. Pierce, "the management and control of the company were again committed to my direction and my son, Clay Arthur Pierce, is now president of the company and conducting it as an independent business."

Division of Territory. "A great deal, Mr. Pierce, has been said in this case about the division of territory between the Standard Oil company of Indiana and the Waters-Pierce Oil company. State as briefly as you can when the territorial operations of the Waters-Pierce Oil company began and to what territory they extended."

"When in 1873 I organized the first Waters-Pierce Oil company its predecessors, Waters, Pierce & Co. and H. C. Pierce & Co., had already established business in all of the territory in which the present Waters-Pierce Oil company now operates and which was agreed and understood between myself and the representatives of the Standard Oil company of Ohio, I think at least it was the only Standard Oil company that I knew as being in existence at that time—the first Waters-Pierce company would continue its operations and transact its business within the certain territory in which the Waters, Pierce & Co. and H. C. Pierce & Co. had transacted their business. In other words, the Waters-Pierce Oil company organized in 1873 was to take over the business of Waters, Pierce & Co. In pursuance to this understanding certain lines were agreed upon in the state of Illinois, which comprised parts, I think of Madison and St. Clair counties, including East St. Louis. The line within the state of Missouri commenced at a point just across the border from the west bank of the Mississippi river, and ran according to county lines southwest to the western border of Missouri, bordering upon Kansas a short distance out of Fort Scott. Also the state of Arkansas, what is now the Indian Territory and Oklahoma, the state of Texas, all of the state of Louisiana west of the Mississippi river, and the Republic of Mexico."

"Has there been any change in that territory since it was then established?" "There has not."

Buyer of Oil Standard. "From what source did the Waters-Pierce Oil company obtain its supplies of refined oils at that time?" "Almost exclusively from the Standard Oil company."

"And from what source has it since that time obtained its supplies of refined oil?" "Almost exclusively from the Standard Oil company and its allied interests."

"Did the old Waters-Pierce Oil company or the present Waters-Pierce Oil company receive any oil or manufacture any of the products of petroleum in the United States?" "No."

"Did it manufacture any refined oils. It did manufacture lubricating oils and greases. All of the refined oils, naphtha, kerosene and most of the lubricating oils were obtained from the Standard Oil company and its allied interests."

"Did the Waters-Pierce Oil company establish any refinery in the republic of Mexico?" "No."

"Did it refine?" "From what source did it get the crude petroleum to refine in the republic of Mexico?" "Because crude petroleum was not produced within the republic of Mexico the Waters-Pierce Oil company obtained all of its crude petroleum for manufacturing in Mexico from the Standard Oil company. The present Waters-Pierce Oil company in 1900 succeeded to and established the business of the old Waters-Pierce Oil company and since that time it has confined itself exclusively to building up the business within the territory formerly occupied by the old Waters-Pierce Oil company."

"Will you tell me approximately the amount of sales in gallons of the Waters-Pierce Oil company in the United States?" "I have not a division of the business between the United States and the republic of Mexico, but I can state the gross amount of sales in the United States for the year ending June 30, 1906, was 1,000,000 gallons."
