WHEAT MAKES SUBSTANTIAL ADVANCE

Yews Generally Pavors Bulls, Foreign Situation Being Stronger-Corn Remains Steady, with Light Trade-Oats Firmer.

Opening prices were up this morning. The market remained steady a while, then advanced further on covering by snorts. Nows favored the buils, caoles being higher and the tone on the continent being cherally firmer on account of Argentina expected. Receipts were not as large as expected in the northwest, and the weather hostifwest and southwest, but export demand was poor, OMAHA, Sept. 14, 1904.

was crear. Cash demand was stronger northwest and southwest, but export demand was poor.

Coin prices were steady, with very little change, trade being very light. Receipts were larger than estimates, but cash prices had steady, the advance in wheat lending straightening influence.

Primary wheat receipts were 1,00,000 but and shipments 738,000 but, against receipts last year of $77,000 but, and shipments of 0.6,000 but. Corn receipts were $57,000 but, and shipments of 251,000 but. Corn receipts last year of $76,000 but, against receipts last year of $76,000 but, and shipments of 251,000 but. Corn and $6,000 but, against receipts last year of $64,000 but, against receipts last year of $64,000 but, against receipts last year of $6,000 but, wheat, 50,000 but wheat, 50,000 but wheat, 50,000 but wheat, 50,000 but on the shipments of $60,000,000 bushest, based on threshing returns, as against the government report of last year of $63,000,000, also made on threshing returns. As agoinst this shortage of 103,000,000 bushels more feed barley than last year, all of which will go into cats of to replace onts as feed. We cannot count on exporting within 40,000,000 bushels as many oats as last year, but most important of all, the present price being sea bushel higher than last year, whill induce great saving on the farm, where at least for per cent of the crop is consumed. It also must be remembered that we shall undoubtedly have a much lower average price for corn this year than last, which will have a direct bearing, not only on the farm, but also on the market price."

PAC throughout the day and traders, generally, were inclined to the buying side. The selling pressure on the market was not heavy at any time during the day and all offerings were easily absorbed. The heaviest selling was by houses with north-western connections. The shipments from Argentina were reported as being less than one-fourth of those of last week and one-sixth of those for the same time last year. Reports from England were that the Russian area in which famine prevalled is increasing. Receipts in the northwest were reported light and are now, from August 1 to date, over 1,00 cars less than for the same period last year. Dispatches from the southwest were to the effect that good wheat was scarce and that there is barely enough to supply the milling demand. In addition to these influences cash wheat was strong, both at Minneapolis and Kansas City. December wheat opened \(\frac{1}{2} \) \frac{1}{2} \) \(\frac{1}

SHEEP—There was a fair run of sheep here for a Friday, although the arrivals were not as large as one week ago. The total for the week to date foots up about the same as for the corresponding days of last month.

The most of the arrivals today consisted of lambs and the trade, as a whole was very slow. It looked as if packers had The most of the arrivals today consisted of lambs and the trade, as a whole, was very slow. It looked as if packers had already secured about all the lambs that they needed to kill out this week and hence were not in need of additional supplies. Accordingly, they made very little effort to buy, so that today's market was dull and weak from start to finish. The fact is the fat lamb market is lie and in some cases lie lower than last week.

There were no fat sheep here of any consequence, but the feeling was just about steady for the day. The market on good killers is not very much lower for the week, logific would easily cover all the decline that has taken place.

Considering how late it is in the week, there were a good many feeder buyers here, many of them having walted several days to secure something that would suit their ideas regarding quality and price. The result was that the feeder market today was fully steady with yesterday. Feeders paid as high as 44.75 for feeding ewes, which is the best price paid so far. Both feeder sheep and lambs are a little higher for the week, the market having been in exceedingly good shape from start to finish.
