DAMAGE ACTION BROUGHT FOR A MINOR

Court Anxious to Adjourn Until Monday, but Forced to Wait, as the Grand Jury Was Not Ready to Report.

A record was established in the district court of Council Bluffs yesterday. personal injury damage suit was filed in the morning, an answer filed by the defendant, tried to the court in the afternoon after the time limit had been waived by the defendant and judgment entered for the plaintiff. James Larson, a minor in the eyes of the law, sued by his next friend, Nels C. Nelson, to recover damages of the Northwestern vallroad for the loss of his leg resulting from an ac-cident on July 12, of this year.

Larson was a car cleaner in the employ of the defendant company in this city when the accident occurred. According to the regular rules of the court his suit, being filed but yesterday, could not have been docketed until the October term had not the defendant company waived the time limit. The company, however, was agreeable to have the matter disposed of at once and consequently both sides waived a jury and the case was tried before Judge Macy, who decided that the plaintiff was entitled to a verdict in the sum of $1,600. The railroad accepted the decision of the court and the judgment was paid shortly after the court made its ruling.

MARSH AND CATO SELLS CANDIDATES

Plans Had Been to Delay the Appointment Until After the Election, but the Factions Could Not Wait.

DES MOINES, Sept. 19 .- (Special.)-Hon.

Cato Sells is a candidate for the vacancy on the democratic national committee from

Iowa made by the resignation of Charles Waish, and W. W. Marsh of Waterloo is also a candidate for the same position. Marsh is the candidate of the ultra con servative wing of the democratic party and Sells is the candidate of the Bryan people. It had been supposed that in the interests of harmony and the hope of slecting the democratic ticket in November the question of filling the Walsh vacancy would be left till after election. Both conservative and Bryan democrats have expressed a preference for letting the matter go over till after the election in November, but it was discovered here today that to take the matter up at once and further | not hard to digest. soliciting their support for Marsh. Since the discovery of the move by the March men the Bryan men and friends of Sells have been busy. On being placed in touch with the situation Mr. Sells today authorized the statement that if there is a general sentiment among democrats for him he will be a candidate. Wilbur W. Marsh is proprietor of a factory at Waterloo that manufactures cream separators. The bustness is a very lucrative one and Mr. Marsh is recognized as being a millionaire. While he is well known in lows politics he is not so well known nationally, but occupies a commanding position and is especially strong because of the endorsement of the state committee, which it is recognized he will get. Important Witness Found. The discovery of evidence that will be given by William D. Van Sittert, a traveling man and friend of H. B. Dickinson, who is accused of the murder of Irene Blydenburg of Eldora, has been considered a very important development in the case today. Van Sittert traveled over the state for the Brown-Hurley Hardware company and thus came in contact with Dickinson, also a tra ling man. It is stated that Van Sittert thus came in possession of valuable information bearing on the case Clearmont, began this afternoon. The witfore the grand Jury today testifying in September 26; Fifth, at Cedar Rapids, September 27. George MacRille of St. Charles, Ia., Is here to investigate the cause of the death of his 15-year-old son. The boy came to this city because the family are not wellto-do and he desired to make his own living. He hired to a circus for a day and at the close of the day was arrested with a lot of hangers on of the circus and thrown into the county jail, though mitimus or other record was made to how for it. The age of the boy prohibits his incarceration in any jail and yet he was kept there a month. At the end of the time he found his way home to St. Charles and soon after died because of the treatment and sickness he contracted while in the county Jail here. The father demands punishment for his imprisonment against the law and litigation may follow. As a result of the recent hearing by the railroad commission it was ordered today that stone and clay be placed in the classification with coal, which is a reduction of 22 cents a hundred on a 100-mile haul. Stoneware was ordered from class B to class D and old liquor barrels to fourthclass for less than carload lots. This is of special benefit to the vinegar works, which use these barrels. Must Make Close Connection. Close connection will have to be made between the conventions in Shelby county and the secretary of state's office. The demograts and republicans have each called the conventions in Shelby county for October 6. The law requires that the iominations of representatives must be filed with the secretary of state thirty days before the election. They must therefore be filed by midnight of October 6. A train leaves Harlan at 3 p. m. and reaches Des Moines at 10. There is no later train If the messengers fail to catch that train or if there is a wreck or washout and delay Shelby county may be cut out.
