ACTIVE CAMPAIGN FOR AUTOMOBILES

Northwestern Railroad Announce Plans for Special Trains for the Big Features of Ak-Sur-Ben Festival

The large tent has been pitched at Twen ty-offth and Farnam streets for the use of the buffders of the industrial and the flower parades. Gould Dietz is the chief mogul of these parades for the Knights of Ak-Sar-Ben and is spending all his time at present in getting exhibitors. While the prizes and other inducements offered are sufficient to get a merchant to decorate a float or the women to cover their autos with flowers, still it takes considerable hustling to bring the matter to their notice. The tent is to be used as a construction booth and the industrial and the flower parades will start from that point.

The owners of automobiles are not re sponding as fast as the committee would desire in the matter of signifying their intention of taking part in the parade and Samson has issued a letter to owners, which says:

There are many reasons why you should come in; you will be performing a patriotic duty in helping to make the event a creditable one and in upholding the hands of those who are working to that end; you will be assisting to give pleasure to many thousands of spectators from our own and several adjoining states by contributing your individual sense of beauty to make up a splendid spectacle: finally, and this by no means the least consideration, you will have an opportunity of winning one of the prizes, a liberal purse, which has been appropriated by the board of governors, as may be seen by the enclosed circular.

The Northwestern has announced special which says:

The Northwestern has appounced special train service for Ak-Sar-Ben week. Besides special trains and special equipment, arrangements have been made to run inte trains out of Omaha after the big parade Wednesday night. Specials will be run to Boone, Sloux City, Norfolk and to the South Platte country.

The big airship, which is to be the feature attraction at the fall festivities, will leave Milwaukee Saturday in a special car and hurried through to Omaha on passenger trains by the Northwestern.

WATER MELONS IN POLITICS Take the Place of Cigars at Election Time Down in Old

Ripe, lucious watermelons have taken the place of cheap stogies as a campaign argument in some of the counties of Missourl, according to Joseph Marrow, balliff in Judge Redick's court, who has just returned from a summer visit in Worth county, Missourl. "I ran up against some new ideas in politics down there," said Mr. Marrow. For example, before the county convention there was no talk of candidates at all. The convention just got together and named a ticket and every man named thinks it is his duty to the county to accept. The county is poor and some of the officials donate their fees to the public

"On the day of the convention all the farmers in the county came to town, each one with a load of watermelons. After the convention the people raided the wagons and everybody in town got a nice, big melon for nothing. They took them over to the public square and sat around on the grass eating them. It would have made a good picture, those hundreds of people on the grass, each one with his buried in the heart of a big melon. cost of the feast is paid by the suc-Every year the same sing happens. January 9—John Benker, administrator, against Charles Meyers et al.

PRISONER BEGS TO CONFESS Cannot Understand Why He is Pre vented from Admitting Crime

in Police Court.

Adolph R. Peterson, allas Emerson, and his partner in crime, Lester Williams, who confessed to many of the burglaries months, were arraigned in police court Thursday morning. They waived a preliminary examination and were bound over to the district court in the sum of $1,000 and wanted to know why he was prevented from so doing until it was explained to him that the court before which he was being arraigned did not have jurisdiction to sentence him for his offense. The particular crime for which they were arraigned was the burglary of the saloon William J. Silk, 917 Davenport street on August 13. Chief of Detectives Savage has ascertained that his catch of Wednesday, when his eagle eye lighted upon Ed Mitchell, who stole an overcoat, is also an ex-convict, having served a term in the penttentiary at Joliet, Ill. Mitchell has an old pany refusing to deliver Joe to C. companion of his penitentiary days now in the toils in the person of Adolph Peterson.

PROSPECTS ARE FINE Several Wells Sunk and Capital is Coming to Back Up Wyoming.

Industry. A. B. Apperson of Basin, Wyo., was in the city Thursday, returning from Call-fornia. "The off prospects in our section are mos ncouraging." said Mr. Apperson. though several wells were put down some time ago and capped, the flow was considered hardly sufficient. This fall, however, some eastern capitalists are coming in to sink some deep wells and we look for better results, when the only question will ortation. The irrigated lands are giving most encouraging returns and the great influx of settlers is making the entire country in that section most prosperous."

BIG TENT FOR TWO PARADES the convention, there is plenty of it after DANIEL FREES ICE TRUST

New City Prosecutor Dismisses Drivers as His First Official Act.

Meanwhile Victims of Trust's Venge ance Are Still Unable to Buy

This Prime Necessity of Life.

H. S. Daniel, democratic successor of Fom Lee, celebrated his advent as city prosecutor Thursday morning by dismissing in police court Robert Evans, Otis H. Plummer and E. S. Coates, drivers for the Omaha Ice and Cold Storage company, arrested at Mayor Dahlman's instigation for refusing to sell lee to C. W. Eckerman and C. L. Ransom of Bernis Park in obedience to orders of their employers, the head of the Ice trust. It was remarked as the men were dismissed that the mayor and prosecutor ought to get together or one night be constantly undoing the work of the other. While it was the general impression the drivers were not criminals, it had been thought their arrest offered ar opportunity of seizing the Ice trust.

The men were arrested at the order of the mayor and booked as being suspicious characters. When their case was called Tuesday morning it was continued until Thursday to give the city authorities time to file a complaint against them in the ice case. Mr. Daniel, the new city prosecutor, who dismissed the case, said that careful investigation had revealed that there was no ordinance or statute covering the offense under which the men could be con-

No further arrests have been made and the Eckermans and Ransoms are still without ice. Mr. Daniel does not signify whether he intends to try to prosecute the ice magnates or not.

Lee Aids His Successor. Thursday morning Mr. Lee and Mr. Dan iel came to the police court together and the office and records of the city prosecu tor's office were turned over to Mr. Daniel, and holdups committed within the last few who immediately entered upon his duties of clearing the docket of the unfortunates Mr. Lee stood by a part of the time and assisted the new city prosecutor in the details of the work. Everything went off each. Peterson was anxious to plead guilty as smoothly as in the days of the regime of Mr. Lee, the dove of peace being greatly in evidence.

Mr. Lee said he did not regret leaving the office as the work had vastly increased during the last year and it had kept him busy with his private business. He said he had no immediate plans for the future.

Dahlman Will Not Quit. Regarding the ice situation, Mayor Dahlman declared Thursday morning that his conferences with the county attorney and city prosecutor did not produce the result of finding a specific law to cover the case of the Omaha Ice and Cold Storage com-Eckerman, but the mayor affirmed that feature of the case would not cause him to let up in his campaign for pure ice the weight proposition and now the mayor is going to determine whether ice sold in Omaha is pure or not. The mayor declared Thursday morning that in cases where impure ice is being sold the officers of the company selling the ice will be arrested.

There is a city ordinance providing that ice companies shall make monthly tests of their ice, the samples to be selected by the health commissioner and the expense to be paid for by the ice companies. County Attorney Slabaugh said he had nothing more to say on the lee question further than he is gathering his evidence to present to the grand fury October 1. all the evidence at hand.

TRIBUTE TO BRAVE SOLDIER FINDS NO LAW THAT WILL HOLD THEM Token to Paid Sergeant Andrew Mayewski by One Who Knew His Service.

This tribute was paid the late Sergeant Andrew Mayewski by an "army" friend: "The passing away of a military man. be he general or private, carries with it a sadness born of the army. The ceremonies, even to the sounding of 'taps' and the firing of the volley over the grave, stirs one's heart with pity, only to have it hardened by the sound of a may tune on the march home. But such is the life and death of a soldler. "Sergeant Mayewski, who recently died in this city, deserves more than a passing word on his memory and service, Born in Strzelno, Prussia, November 23, 1884, he enlisted in the United States army as a private in the Ohio Volunteers in 1861, serving our country at a time when our great war had begun, and not only particlpated in many batttles, marches and skirmishes, but came out (wounded) with the rank of corporal and with such a reputation as to secure on a later discharge the following character, given him by the then Assistant Adjutant General George D. Rug gies: 'Excellent. Corporal Mayewski is one of those valuable men who merits an receives universal commendations.

"Following is a list of the battles in which the old sergeant participated: First Bull Run, Va.; Pea Ridge, Ark.; Cotton Plant, Ark.; Chickasaw Bayou, Miss. Arkansas Post, Ark.; Greenville, Miss. Jackson, Miss.; siege of Vicksburg; Jack son, Miss., second time; running fight from Iuka to Tuscumbia, Tenn.; Lookout Mountain, Missionary Ridge, Reseer, Dallas, Decatur, around Atlanta, Jonesboro and Lovelov Station, Ga., and Nashville,

"After his fighting days were over he settled down to the quiet life of general service as a messenger, and later clerk at Army headquarters, Omaha, where he remained many years, doing faithful work, until his retirement for length of service. The promptness and punctuality of the old soldier never left him, till it became a byword of the office that 'they could even set their watches by Sergeant Mayewski. "With an illness, the result of old wounds he passed the last two years of a well spent life a confirmed invalid, suffering much, but eaying little.

"A kind father and loving husband are now the pleasant memories for the wife and son who survive him, while he has passed on to One higher in command."

In a short time a plant for the manufacture of smokeless coal will be erected in Council Bluffs. Such is the statement and correct weights. Convictions have al- of Charles T. Peavey, who is in Omaha ready been secured in the police court on from Chicago and who has organized in Chicago a company for the manufacture and exploitation of smokeless coal. The Smokeless Coal company has been organized in Council Bluffs, with a capital of $12,000, and will build the plant, says Mr. Peavey. Dr. Snyder, Mr. Wadsworth and one member of the firm of Kimball Bros. are mentioned among the stock holders, Mr. Wadsworth being president The Chicago concern is to get a large share of the stock in return for the priv liege of making the product. Nothing will be done toward the erection of a plant until final papers on the patent of the process have been received from Washington by Mr. Peavey and it The county attorney said he would then go is expected they will be here in a week after the alleged ice and coal trusts with or two. Mr. Peavey says there are already 478 patents on manufactured fuel products, and this necessitated an immense amount of red tape in getting the patent in the present instance. The process was discovered by a Council Bluffs man. Extensive experiments in the practical use of the coal were made in Council Bluffs before the local company was organized.

SWENEY LOSES HIS LICENSE Employment Agent Put Out of Busi-

ness by Mayor for Abuse

of Confidence. The office of M. A. Sweney, employment agent at 209 South Twelfth street, has been closed by order of Mayor Dahlman. The revocation of Sweney's license followed his conviction in the police court September 6. Sweney was charged with obtaining money by false pretenses.

Sweney has been arrested numerous times by the police during the last year, but the employment man was in most of the cases sharp enough to outwit the police when the case came to the police court. On one occasion Sweney was arrested on complaint of a young man who said he paid the employment man #15 for a course instructions by mail, the young man to become a full-fledged railroad conductor

It was conceded in police court that Bweney was working a graft, but by some hook or crook he managed to remain outside the pale of the law in his correspondence school graft. His last conviction was for sending a laborer to work at a place where there was no work and none

URE SUGGESTS NEW LAWS

Would Have Special Attorney for Board Reducing County's Present Staff.

NO WITNESS FEES FROM GOVERNMENT

Recommends City and County Workhouse, Auditor Merged with Clerk and Elected and Fixed Pay for Sheriff.

In order to start the discussion relating to seeded changes in the state laws as they neern the county affairs, County Commissioner Ure has drawn up a list of suggestions which; with others, will be submitted to the meeting of county officials when it is called by the chairman of the county board. A resolution suggesting the meeting passed the county board some time ago, but the date upon which it will be held has not been fixed

Among the most important changes sug gested are these:

That the office of county auditor b nerged with that of county clerk and made elective by the people instead of by the county commissioners and that he be given powers similar to those of the city comp-

That one less deputy county attorney be employed and the county board be empowered to appoint its own attorney at salary of $1,500 a year, whose business it shall be to attend all civil cases affecting the county.

That an attorney be appointed by the judges of the district court at a reasonable salary to represent such criminals as are unable to hire an attorney, instead of paying from $25 to $150 in each case where an attorney is employed by the

That the sheriff be paid a reasonable salary, say $5,000 a year, and the county board appoint a jailer who shall have the management of the jail, and the county furnish the supplies.

Wants Primary Law Changed. That the primary law he changed to re quire from candidates a petition signed by a reasonable number of electors in order to get his name on the ballot. tion and that registration lists be checked up by persons appointed by the judges of the district court, these persons to visit the number from which parties register and ascertain if they are bona fide residents there.

That persons employed by the county or any municipality should not be paid fees as witnesses in district court and providing that no one shall draw pay from more than one governmental subdivision at a time. This would save from $1,400 to $1,500 a year in witness fees. That the county and city be enabled to build a workhouse in conjunction with

That steps be taken to provide a consolidated tax. That the Illinois law be enacted providing for the payment of one fee to cover all costs in the district court and that provision be made for keeping all files in the office of the district clerk at all times. That the county judge be required to keep a record of all moneys paid into his hands and this record be the property of the county and should include court costs, probate funds and money paid in in condemnation proceedings.

A number of other miner changes in the law are suggested. Other county officials will be asked to present similar suggestions and they will all be gone over at the meeting. The county attorney will be asked to draw up bills for such laws as the meeting recommends and these bills will be introduced into the next legislature.

Announcements of the Theaters. One of the really important engagements of the season at the Boyd theater begins this evening, when Mr. James O'Neill will be seen in his famous creation of Edmond Dantes in "The Count of Monte Cristo." It is Mr. O'Neill's farewell appearance in the role, and as such is of more than common interest. The company supporting the star is especially picked. The engagement includes performances on Friday and Saturday evenings and a matinee on Suturday.

Edwin Arden made a tremendous hit in Chicago during the summer as the hero of Marah Ellis Ryan's play, "As Told in the Hills." This is a drama of life in the west, and tells a story close to nature Mr. Arden has a splendid role, and brings to it the training of long years on the across the addition and people whose prop- stage. The engagement here is for four nights and Wednesday matinee.

> Until after Saturday evening "The Altar of Friendship" will be the bull at the Bur-wood. For the coming week "The Lady of Lyons" will be put on.

After the regular program by the Hawalian band at the Auditorium tonight there will be a concert dance, lasting one hour. These dances are very enjoyable, as the music is furnished by the Hawaiian Band and Glee club and there is no extra charge for the dance. All who attend the concert are welcome to remain for the dance if they so desire.

The Kilties' band, who will play at Krug park on Sunday from 4 p. m. to 7:20 p. m., the closing day of the season, give a very unique and diversified program. They play classical and popular selections. The cian Johnstones are highland dancers and solo bag pipers, and a vocal choir of twenty sing the old familiar Scottish airs that are every popular everywhere. There is nothing like the Kiltles in the musical world; their concerts are delightful, artistic and pleasing. Everyone can get something from the Kilties to please.
