REPUBLICANS LIKE TICKET

All Elements Satisfied with Primaries and Will Work for Success.

LEADER'S VICTORY REBUKE TO FIRE BOARD

Democratic Slate Looms Up Weak and Falls to Arouse Hope or Contentment with Majority of Party.

A spirit of satisfaction and optimism prevails generally among republicans over the result of Tuesday's primary. Those candidates who failed of nomination have expressed intentions of doffing their coats and working for the entire ticket, believing it much stronger than the one offered by the democratic party. On the other hand, the instruments in the political observatory have recorded a state of unrest in some democratic quarters, particularly so over the selection of representatives.

That the democrats are far from being a unit on the selections of their party made Tuesday is no secret. Many are even conceding the strength of the republican ticket for senators and representatives.

Five Good Men Chosen.

Secretary Burgess of the school board said: "It is gratifying to note that the public selected five of the six strong men on the republican school board ticket. One good man had to lose. Dr. Vance has been one of the best men on the board, but another capable man, William B. Christie, will succeed him. Mr. Christie filled an unexpected term on the board four years ago and I know he then refused to do certain things for political ends, even when strong pressure was brought to bear on him."

Fecular interest centers on the nomination of Edward Leader, the freeman who was discharged from the service of the fire department last Monday evening because he broke one of the rules of the department by filing for office. One prominent man in politics attributed Leader's election to the efforts of those who thought Leader's discharge came with poor grace from the Board of Fire and Police Commissioners, some of whom had, he declared, on various occasions used both the fire and police departments for their own personal political ends. Some of Leader's friends think his election something of a rebuke to the commissioners and a hint that they take the department completely out of politics.

Joe Hummel, republican candidate for county commissioner, sounded the tocsin of those who failed to make the race on Tuesday by declaring: "Not a sore spot on me. I made the race and lost, and now will take off my coat and help to elect the splendid ticket nominated."

It is noted that seven of the nine candidates for representatives shown on the "Dahlman Democracy" slate last week went through, which result is said to be a thorn in the flesh of the other fellows.

N. F. Dodge, Jr., who received the highest vote for representative on the republican ticket, said: "Tuesday's primaries were naturally very satisfactory to me, and in my case showed the inability of the corporations to control nominations. Considerable money was spent by certain interests to defeat me, as I was picked out as an unsafe man for them in the legislature."

In a conversation by a group of politicians on Farnam street one man incidentally noted he had just figured out on his card that the county's primary election expense would average about $2 per voter and the city about 50 cents per voter.

Michael Lee, Omaha, Neb.: My Dear Lee—You have my most hearty congratulations on doing good work this winter. As ever your friend, R. B. WINDHAM.

ROADS MAY COMPROMISE TAX

Four Lines Delinquent to City Negotiating for Settlement Out of Court.

RESULT IS LOOKED FOR BY SATURDAY

If Amicable Terms Are Not Reached City Will Renew Fight to Enforce Collection of Full Amount.

Present indications are that an early settlement will be effected between the city and the four railroad companies, which have been in litigation to resist the payment of $238,000 city taxes for 1905. If pending efforts to bring about a satisfactory settlement fail, the case will come up again in the district court this fall, but signs which portend an adjustment out of court are noted.

Saturday morning Attorney John P. Breen, one of the special counsel appointed by the city in the tax case, will confer with John N. Baldwin, general solicitor for the Union Pacific, with a view to agreeing on terms of settlement.

The four railroad companies in the case: Union Pacific, Burlington, Northwestern and Belt Line (Missouri Pacific) have made overtures to compromise a settlement on the basis of paying 7 per cent per annum, instead of 1 per cent per month, which is now standing against the taxes. As the taxes were delinquent July, 1905, there is now an accumulated interest rate of 1 per cent per month for thirty-nine months, amounting to about $30,000 in interest alone. The total taxes for 1905 in dispute amount to $238,000, which, if paid this year, would come in as a neat little nest egg in the city's exchequer.

The Burlington, Northwestern and Belt Line companies have made propositions acceptable to the city's counsel, and it is confidently believed the Union Pacific will fall in line promptly and pay up.

Two Patients Recovering.

The authorities at St. Joseph's hospital report that Conductor Ridgeway, who was seriously injured in the street car accident near Thirtieth and Jones streets about ten days ago, has recovered remarkably during his stay at the hospital and it is expected that he will be able to

AUTO RUNS OVER O. M. E. BOY

General Cowin's Big Machine Collides with Messenger on His Bicycle.

Joe Nightingale, aged 14, a messenger boy employed by the O. M. E. company, was run into by an automobile at Twentieth and Farnam streets Friday about 12:30 p. m. and was severely injured. The automobile belongs to General John C. Cowin and was being driven down Farnam street by the chauffeur, Charles Thompson. Thompson was going to General Cowin's office, Fifteenth and Farnam, to take him to lunch and was said to have been traveling at a high rate of speed. Nightingale was riding up Farnam street and in turning out to avoid a collision with a street car, ran into the path of the big machine and was thrown to the ground, unconscious. He was taken by the police ambulance to the Omaha General hospital.

Nightingale lives at Sixteenth street and Ames avenue with his father, William Nightingale, a barber. He has only been in the employ of the messenger company two days and at the time of the accident was riding a wheel borrowed from one of the other boys.

General Cowin was not in the machine at the time of the occurrence. Witnesses report that Nightingale was riding on the wrong side of the street and when he turned south to let the street car pass he road directly into the machine.

After an examination at the Omaha General hospital it was ascertained that one of the bones of Nightingale's hand was broken and that he sustained many severe bruises about the face and body. It is believed, however, he suffered no internal injuries and that he is in no immediate danger. The automobile passed completely over his abdomen and it is considered extremely fortunate that he escaped with so few injuries.

OMAHA ROAD CUTS GRAIN RATE

Announces a Reduction from Points in Northeast Nebraska to Omaha.

The Omaha road has announced a reduction in grain rates from points in northeast Nebraska to Omaha, ranging from 1 cent to 2 1/2 cents per 100 pounds on coarsens and 1 cent to 2 cents on wheat. This reduction resulted from the readjustment of South Dakota-Omaha rates by the Milwaukee and Northwestern roads, and the re-checking of rates in northeast Nebraska by the Northwestern and Omaha roads.

Although the new schedule names a substantial reduction, it is not entirely satisfactory to the grain men, for it still allows an advantage to Chicago of 1/2 cent to 1 1/2 cents a hundred pounds, and does not put Omaha on a fair basis of competition with Minneapolis. The "Grain" exchange will make an effort to secure a further reduction in place Omaha on an equal basis with Chicago and Minneapolis.

WOMAN BLAMED FOR DEATH

Mrs. J. W. Rubardt Found by Coroner's Jury to Have Stepped Off Moving Car.

Thursday afternoon the coroner held an inquest over the body of Mrs. J. W. Rubardt of Blair, who was killed Tuesday evening by falling from a street car at Twenty-fourth and Emmett streets. It was found she was entirely at fault for the fatal accident, stepping from the car while it was in motion, before the conductor had a chance to warn her of her danger. She stepped out of the car backward, fell heavily to the pavement, fractured her skull and died Wednesday morning from the effects of her injuries. Her body is being held at the office of the coroner until her son, who is in the west, can be heard from.

PIPER FINDS HOMES FINE

Says School for Deaf and Deafblind Institute Appear to Be Ideal.

J. E. Piper, chief clerk of the State Board of Charities, and Mrs. J. W. Pomeroy of Lincoln, a member of the advisory board, spent Thursday and Friday in Omaha visiting various public institutions in company with members of local charitable clubs. They went through the county hospital, the Detention school, the State School for the Deaf and the county jail.

Mr. Piper declared conditions at the State School for the Deaf appeared to be ideal and the Detention school almost above criticism. He considers the county jail greatly overtaxed by the number of prisoners kept in it. Mrs. Piper accompanied the party Thursday.

ALTSTADT ON POLICE BENCH

Der Shudge Seizes the Reins of the People's Bar, Also the Scales of Justice.

Judge Cockrell, who has been acting police judge for the last few weeks during the absence of Judge Crawford, relinquished the office Friday morning in favor of Justice of the Peace Altstadt, who will act until Judge Crawford's return. With Mr. Daniel as city prosecutor and Judge Altstadt as the chief in command, the prisoners arraigned Friday morning before the people's bar were up against a new deal and apparently suffered thereby, as the new police court battery worked hand in glove and thirty-day sentences for Mr. Daniel was the order of the day. Judge Altstadt said he wanted to lock up all suspicious persons where they would be safely taken care of until after the Ak-Sar-Ben festivities, and he certainly did his best to that end Friday morning.

If Some One Should Offer You a Set of Dining Room Chairs Next Spring—Wouldn't You Take Them?

But wouldn't it be better if you had saved the money yourself to buy them? Well, you can have those chairs if you are a mind to—

You can save the money for them on your feet this winter by using a Cole's Original Hot Blast Stove. And you not only save this winter, but every winter you use the stove—

Because Cole's Hot Blast is an air-tight stove—it is made without stove pipes, and consequently there are no pipes for air-leaks to develop and waste your fuel. It not only saves the chimney heat—but holds back and burns the escaping gases (the best part of the fuel).

An ordinary stove may give satisfaction for a few weeks, but as soon as the putted seams open up, it will require twice as much coal to keep up the heat. And thereafter you will waste up on the coldest mornings and find the fire out.

Cole's Hot Blast holds fire over night and heats up the rooms for two or three hours the next morning with the fuel put in the night before. Burns soft coal, slack, hard coal, Nevada or wood. $50; and $100 at Milton Rogers & Sons' Co., Orchard & Wilhelm Carpet Co., John Husse Hardware Co., E. L. Jones & Co., G. F.
