GRAIN AND PRODUCE MARKET

Bulls Cause Option Prices to Rise for While.

GAIN LOST ON REACTION AT CLOSE

Heavy Demand for Wheat Early, but Weakness Comes When North-west House Turns Seller—Corn Follows Wheat's Lead.

OMAHA, Sept. 21, 1906.

The demand for wheat was heavy in the first hour. Opening prices were up and the market gained in strength until prices were a big fraction above yesterday. The advance was easily made, cables being up, receipts small in the northwest and the weather there showery. Large northwest interests turned sellers at the advance, and local prices reacted under the influence to yesterday's close. All markets reported a good cash demand.

Opening corn prices were in sympathy with wheat, but after remaining firm an hour, the market turned weak, selling off to ½c below yesterday. A flurry in September carried prices up a cent. Receipts were small, but estimates for tomorrow are fair.

Primary wheat receipts were 1,010,000 bushels and shipments 615,000 bushels, against receipts last year of 1,255,000 bushels and shipments of 1,255,000 bushels. Corn receipts were 558,000 bushels and shipments 315,000 bushels, against receipts last year of 621,000 bushels and shipments of 424,000 bushels. Clearances were 554,000 bushels wheat, 22,000 barrels flour, 51,000 bushels corn and 11,000 bushels oats.

Liverpool closed ¼@½c higher on wheat, and ¼@½d higher on corn.

Bartlett of Chicago wired W. C. Sunderland: "The country is commencing to contract new corn. Our Peoria house report they bought 25,000 bushels of new corn in Iowa this morning. My Terre Haute house has already contracted about 400,000 bushels of new corn for future delivery. This is the best indication possible of what farmers and dealers think of the crop."

Modern Miller will say today: "Beneficial rains have fallen in sections of the east and southeast, where dry weather has delayed winter wheat seeding. This work is well advanced and is now being carried on as far north as Nebraska. Farmers maintain their holding attitude on wheat."

CHICAGO GRAIN AND PROVISIONS

Features of the Trading and Closing Prices on Board of Trade.

CHICAGO, Sept. 21.—Heavy realizing sales and the decided opinion of the bears, backed by short sales, that a reaction in the wheat market is due, caused prices in the local wheat market today, after a strong opening, to react close to the final quotations of yesterday. At the end of the session December wheat was unchanged to ⅛c higher. Corn was down ⅛@⅜c. Oats were ⅛@¼c lower. Provisions were up 5@12½c.

The wheat market opened strong on good buying by commission houses and shorts. The chief factors were firm cables, small shipments from Argentina and light northwestern receipts. Later news came that the northwestern crop has been overestimated and that the yield in that section will be about 30,000,000 bushels less than last year. Wet weather and unfavorable farm reports were also factors for higher prices. Local traders fought the advance strongly, selling heavily every time the market halted. They made no impression on the market, however, until after the middle of the session, when prices declined under the constant hammering. The market for cash wheat was firm throughout the day. The market closed firm. December wheat opened ⅜c to ⅝c higher at 75⅛c to 75⅜c, sold between 74⅝c and 75⅜c and closed at 74⅞@74¾c. Clearances of wheat and flour were equal to 678,700 bushels. Primary receipts were 1,014,000 bushels, against 1,255,000 bushels last year. Minneapolis, Duluth and Chicago reported receipts of 700 cars, against 742 cars last week and 1,013 cars a year ago.

Trading in the corn pit was chiefly in the September delivery, prices in that option declining from 49½c to 48½c. Cash corn dropped to a similar extent. The more distant futures were not affected severely by the decline in September, but still they were weakened somewhat. The selling of the September option by a prominent commission house was the cause of the weakness. Primary movement was fair and exports small. The close was easy. December opened ⅛c to ¼c higher at 43⅜@43½c to 43⅝c, sold between 42⅞c and 43½@43⅝c and closed at 43c. Local receipts were 264 cars, with 152 cars of contract grade.

The slump in corn and the loss of the early advance in wheat caused an easy close to the oats market. Early in the day the market bulged along with wheat, scoring an advance of ⅜c. Later it declined ⅜c from the top figure and closed easy, with a net loss of ⅛@¼c. Local longs were heavy sellers and the country is said to be offering grain liberally. December oats opened ⅛c to ¼c higher at 34⅛c to 34¼c, sold between 33⅞c and 34⅜c and closed at 33⅞@33⅞c. Local receipts were 204 cars.

The provisions market was firm, chiefly on an advance of 5c in the price of live hogs. The market throughout was dull. Free predictions are made of a light run of hogs during the next few weeks. At the close January pork was 12½c higher at $13.12½. Lard was up 5c at $7.67½. Ribs were 5@7½c higher at $7.05.

Estimated receipts for tomorrow: Wheat, 75 cars; corn, 423 cars; oats, 289 cars; hogs, 12,000 head.

NEW YORK STOCKS AND BONDS

Market is Dull and Sluggish and Nearly Stagnant at Times.

FEW SPECULATIVE FAVORITES ACTIVE

Bank Statement Today is Expected to Make Favorable Statement—Rate for Call Loans is Lower.

eign gold with the subtraction of drains to other quarters. An important element in the offset was the loss of balance to the interior on the express movement, which rose again to above $4,000,000, indicating that the interior drain on New York has been fully resumed. There was a small additional parcel of gold secured today and this not in London, but in Paris, and not from the Bank of France, but from other quarters. The private discount rate in London rose an additional fraction above the bank rate and the price of gold also rose higher, the effect being to divert New York's demand upon Paris. Unless the Bank of France relinquishes its determination not to release gold to New York, it is not expected that a movement from Paris will attain any important proportion. This increased the conviction that treasury measures were the next available source of relief. The special strength of Southern Pacific was based on reports of an issue of preferred stock to provide means for taking over St. Paul. Amalgamated Copper responded to an advance in the price of the metal and a number of minor industrials were affected by special factors bearing on their industries. The closing tone was heavy and there was no relief from the predominant dullness.

Bonds were heavy. Total sales, par value, $1,474,000. United States 2s, coupon, declined ⅛ per cent on call.

NEW YORK, Sept. 21.—The shrinkage in the volume of the dealings in today's stock market was principally due to the lessening of the furious activity in a few stocks which has kept up the aggregate for several days past. Reading and Southern Pacific were still disproportionately active, but in nothing like the same degree as for some time past. Outside of the speculative favorites the market was exceedingly dull and sluggish and nearly stagnant at times.

The dullness of the market in face of an appreciably easier condition of the call loan market and the promise of a substantial increase in the banking surplus to be shown in tomorrow's bank statement, was the occasion of various theories to account for it. Voices were heard in the financial district to point out that an inference might be drawn that speculative demand was not so eager to lick up resources in the call money market as detractors had alleged. Secretary Shaw's circular to national banks warning against lending government funds for speculation has impressed upon the minds of stock market borrowers that they must wait on signs of urgent need in other departments of the money market than the call loan branch to induce fresh relief measures by the Treasury department. The contrast in the call loan rate receding to below 6 per cent, with the stock market quiet and gilt-edged mercantile paper commanding 6½ to 7 per cent, and also loans for sixty to ninety days commanding a premium equal to an interest above 7 per cent, was regarded in stock market circles as glowing evidence of the innocence of speculative borrowers of any part in the responsibility for high money rates. This contrast was felt to offer a convincing argument in favor of new relief measures by the Treasury department. Belief was very confident in fact that further deposits of government funds in national banks was immediately imminent. Estimates of the week's movements of cash point to a gain by the banks of upwards of $11,000,000. This represents the week's acquisitions of for-

Wool Market.

BOSTON, Sept. 21.—WOOL—The Commercial Bulletin of this city, basing its report on statistics gathered for the government, will say tomorrow of the wool market: A more substantial interest is being shown by manufacturers and an important volume of trading is being accomplished. Most dealers are sharing in the activity, although some are moving larger blocks of wool than are others. The transfers include graded, ungraded and scoured territory, fleeces of practically all grades, Texas, California and medium grades of Australian. The wool mills are taking clothing wools quite freely and the majority of purchases are for consumption. The mills are undoubtedly short of stocks, but their continued effort to break prices are having no effect whatever on dealers' views. A leading Summer street house has disposed of about 1,000,000 pounds of Wyoming stock to Philadelphia at full price, while its other transactions have made an important aggregate. A purchase of 1,000,000 pounds of Montana wool is credited to the American Woolen company, and although great activity on the part of this consumer is denied, it would not surprise some of the trade to learn that its purchases this week are large. Three-eighths of both territory and fleece wools is the leading feature of the market, while half bloods are active second. Quarter bloods are daily becoming stronger. Montana is selling original bags at 26½@28c, the low figure being for half blood and the higher one for three-eighths. Fine medium Nevada, Utah and Wyoming moves at about 24c, or 68@70c scoured. Oregon and Idaho stocks are comparatively quiet. Fine staple territory is quoted at 73@75c; fine medium, 68@70c. Medium Texas is selling quite freely at 23½@24c. All grades are in request, with particular activity noted in three-eighths unwashed and Ohio delaine. The shipments of wool from Boston to date from December 27, 1905, according to the same authority, are 178,361,455 pounds, against 174,970,279 pounds at the same time last year. The receipts to date are 226,865,683 pounds, against 292,077,299 pounds for the same period last year.

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 21.—WOOL—Steady; medium grades, combing and clothing, 24@28c; light fine, 18@22c; heavy fine, 14@20c; tub washed, 32@38c.

LONDON, Sept. 21.—WOOL—A sale of Cape of Good Hope and Natal sheepskins was held here today. The offerings amounted to 137,796 skins, of which 96,393 were sold. All the skins were in good condition, except eastern province. Prices generally were ¼@½d lower.

Oils and Rosin.

Coffee Market.

NEW YORK, Sept. 21.—COFFEE—The market for coffee futures opened steady at unchanged prices to a decline of 5 points in response to lower cables. There was none of the support from leading trade interests noted yesterday and the market was generally easy during the middle session under scattered realizing and bear pressure. The close was steady at a net decline of 10 to 20 points. Sales for the day were reported of 37,500 bags, including November at 6.45c; December at 6.45@6.50c; March at 6.65@6.75c; May, 6.75@6.90c; July, 6.90@7c; August, 7c. Spot, steady; No. 4 Rio, 8¼c.

CATTLE—There was the usual moderate run of cattle for a Friday, less than 100 cars being reported on sale. Of this number quite a considerable proportion consisted of cow stuff with no great number of good feeders or good beeves on sale.

There was no quotable change in the market for beef steers, the few loads here selling in about the same notches as yesterday. The week is closing up in very fair shape, both on corn-feds and rangers.

Cows and heifers, owing partly to the liberal receipts, partly to the fact that buyers already had a good many on hand and partly to the fact that the week was near its close, were very slow and lower. Sellers, as a rule, were asking about steady prices and worked hard to maintain values. On the other hand, buyers not being in need of any great number, were disposed to take their time making the general market slow as well as lower. For the two days it is safe to quote the best cows 10@15c lower with other kinds 15@20c lower. In some cases salesmen were calling their common cow stuff as much as 25c lower than the high point of the week.

There were only a few stockers and feeders in first hands and they sold in about the same notches as yesterday.

HOGS—Most of the hogs sold 5c higher this morning and the trade was reasonably active, so that the most of the receipts changed hands in very fair season in the forenoon. Possibly some of the rough, undesirable hogs may not have shown quite that much advance. The market as a whole was in very satisfactory condition.

Today's advance, together with that of yesterday, makes up for the decline of Tuesday and Wednesday and leaves prices about where they were on Monday. In other words, the market is now a shade higher than it was at the close of last week.

SHEEP—South Omaha had more sheep and lambs yesterday than all other western markets combined. The total reported at Chicago, St. Joseph, Kansas City, St. Louis and Sioux City footed up 23,900 head, whereas the official count at South Omaha was 29,334 head. More than this, thirteen double decks arrived at South Omaha after 3 o'clock, the hour at which the stock yards company closes its records for the day, so that they were not included in yesterday's figures. Large runs, however, are rather to be avoided than encouraged if they lead to a demoralization of prices, but it is right here that the South Omaha market showed up to the best advantage. In spite of the excessive receipts, buyers stood up to the rack and took practically everything, without enough difference in prices to be noticeable. Practically everything, either feeders or killers, that could be quoted desirable sold at good, steady prices. It would be possible to point out sales that looked a little lower, but it was also possible to point out others that looked higher, as for example, feeder yearlings sold at the highest point of the year. When it was all over with and the scale houses closed for the day it was found that, barring seven loads of speculators' stuff shipped to an eastern market, there were only ten cars left unsold and the most of them were carried over more on account of the impossibility of their being shaped up in time to be sold. In looking over the sales reported sheepmen should bear in mind that after a continuous downpour of rain lasting for several days the stuff arrived here in the worst shape possible. In fact the owners themselves would hardly have been able to recognize much of their stuff.

The receipts this morning, while nothing like as heavy as yesterday, were much larger than usual for a Friday, being in fact the largest run for that day since the opening of the range season. After the heavy receipts of previous days buyers might have been expected to hang back a little this morning, but, on the contrary, they were out in good season and the market was fully steady. There was very little stuff among the fresh arrivals suitable for killers, but such as there was sold quite readily. Feeders also sold in about the same notches as yesterday.

For the week there has been comparatively little change in desirable kinds of sheep and lambs. Some of the common medium kinds of feeder lambs possibly are a little lower.

Quotations on killers: Good to choice lambs, $7.00@7.50; fair to good lambs, $6.75@7.00; good to choice yearlings, $5.75@6.15; fair to good yearlings, $5.65@5.75; good to choice wethers, $5.15@5.40; good to choice ewes, $4.75@5.10; fair to good ewes, $4.50@4.75.

Quotations on feeders: Lambs, $5.75@6.85; yearlings, $5.25@5.80; wethers, $4.65@5.25; ewes, $3.50@4.78; breeding ewes, $5.00@5.25.
