ENGINEERS WANT MORE PAY

Brotherhood Will Make Concerted Demand on Railroads for Advance.

ALL WESTERN LINES TO BE INVOLVED

Action Will Be Taken at Meeting of the Engineers in Chicago Next Week After Deliberate Planning.

A movement is on foot to secure an increase in wages for the engineers on all railroads west of Chicago. This is not to be waged as in times past by the employees of any one road, but is to be broader in its scope than any demands ever made by operating employees of the railroads. The fight will be started at a meeting of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers at Chicago next week. The engineers plan to embrace every western road in their movement for higher wages.

Effort is being made to enlist at the same time the aid of the other great railroad brotherhoods and while nothing definite is given out, it is understood some of these have given a partial endorsement to the movement. The engineers, however, say they will move without the aid of the others if it is necessary.

Arrangements have been made for the meeting at Chicago and, although extra precautions were taken it has leaked out. The grand officers of the engineers' brotherhood at the Cleveland headquarters issued the call, which calls for the chairman of all the adjustment boards of the various roads to convene in Chicago next week for the purpose of formulating a joint wage scale for all systems west of Chicago.

This movement originates from a desire to equalize the wages of all engineers on all lines west of Chicago. On some of the roads the engineers are said to receive as low as $2.75 for a run of 100 miles, while on other roads the scale is $4.50 for 100 miles. The ruling of the Burlington on the question of removing men who wear eye glasses will also come up at this matter has never been entirely settled.

White carnations and golden rod were used in the decorations of the back parlor, where Miss Helen Davis and Miss Mary Rogers presided over the punch bowl in the dining room. Miss Marian Hughes and Miss Elizabeth Congdon served tea during the afternoon, the table being effectively arranged with a huge bouquet of pink asters on a lace center piece and the whole hung with asparagus fern, which was suspended from the chandelier. The buffet was banked with beautiful white roses. Miss Chambers was gowned in white silk mull and carried American beauty roses. Others who assisted through the rooms included Misses E. P. Peck, Lewis Reed, E. E. Daich, John Wilbur, G. B. Jones and Mrs. Janet Chambers grandmother of the debutante.

LEADER OF GANG CONFESSES

Youth Tells Police About Mischief He and His Pals Have Been Committing.

Thursday afternoon Detectives Mitchell and Shepard captured J. S. McDonald, the leader of a gang of boys that has been causing the street car company and the Missouri Pacific considerable trouble in the northwestern part of the city. The boys have placed lumber on the tracks, thrown switches at different times and a few days ago it is reported that McDonald, who lives at Forty-sixth and California streets, threw a brick through the car window of a Missouri Pacific train that was passing.

McDonald has confessed to his share in the operations and has also advised the police as to the personnel of the rest of the gang that probably will be arrested.

AFFAIRS AT SOUTH OMAHA

Council Meets and Approves the Bonds of Sewer Contractors.

INJUNCTION PROCEEDINGS THREATENED

Mystery Which Surrounded the Presenting of Forged Bond Coupons is Satisfactorily Cleared Up.

The city council met in special session last night and approved the contracts and bonds of the successful bidders in the sewer contracts. The bond of the National Construction company for the Mud creek and Jetter creek sewers, with E. A. Cudaby and John Flynn as sureties, was approved. The bond of Jensen was furnished by the Fidelity Surety company, and that of Hannon and Craig was furnished by Kats & Callahan. There was no dissent by any member of the council. James Pivonka was present at the meeting and promised Daniel Hannon that he would have an injunction proceeding under way the first thing this morning. He left the hall before the council adjourned and did not make his threat known to any of the councilmen. Many of those present in the council chamber are of the opinion that the city is in a predicament as to all. The mayor and council are confident that no injunction can be secured, for one reason that the order of the court still hangs over the action of the council, which in face of a mandamus to compel action toward the construction of a sewer and the return of the city for the sewer contracts liberal construction of the law governing the action of the city.

The council received a communication from T. F. Mallone asking for a reimbursement of $27.38 paid as an illegal tax. It will be adjusted. The Omaha Co-operative company petitioned for sidewalk on I street, stating that the company had been in South Omaha six years and paid heavy taxes but had no accommodation in the way of sidewalks. "Now that the council is made up of such good democrats," they said, "we think the time is auspicious to set a precedent from the city for others are the kind of people we like." The council proposed a marble walk immediately.

The Highland Park Improvement club wanted the council to pass an ordinance creating the office of meter inspector, to be paid in fees, for the purpose of requiring the citizens against paying in the meters now in use through defects or through the employment of crooked methods.

An ordinance was passed on third reading creating an improvement district for the grading of F street from Twenty-sixth to Twenty-ninth streets. One also provided a walk from Twenty-fourth to Twenty-fifth on G street. The light and telephone companies were instructed to remove their poles on Thirty-ninth street for convenience in the grading of that street from Q to Y.

Dan Hannon bid par on a number of electric improvement bonds and was allowed the contract of purchase.

The council then adjourned, to meet Friday, September 28.

Bond Mystery Unraveled.

It has just leaked out through the office of the city treasurer that the true outcome of the duplicated securities of South Omaha, which raised such a little tornado of inquiry last spring. Letters were received from nearly every banking firm of the east asking for a description of the duplicated coupons. It will be remembered that only one duplicate coupon was presented for redemption at South Omaha, being one of the coupons of bond No. 60. The multitude of inquiries and the tedious process of sending replies has kept the office force pretty close-mouthed as to the final result of the affair. This was effected some time ago.

The fiscal agents of the city of New York traced the matter down. It was discovered that the coupon had been presented to them by a Boston firm. When this was called to account their records showed that a young man of that city had presented it at the bank and it had been redeemed. The young man was easily found and stated that he had found the coupon in the street and had taken it home to show to his brother, that no one claimed them thought them genuine and presented one for redemption at the bank. He immediately offered to return the money and eighteen or twenty other coupons which he had in view of his explanation this was accepted. He simply thought he had made a good find.

The printing concern which printed and lithographed the bonds were able to give an explanation which threw light on the matter favorable to the explanation of the young man who found the coupons. There had been a mistake in printing some of the bonds and the copy which had been struck was thrown away or at least could easily have gotten into the street. All explanations of the matter being entirely satisfactory the coupons were closed up and no arrests were necessary nor possible.

Trouble in the Smith Tribe.

The House of 37 Nations was a rough house Wednesday night. The occasion was the belated condition existing between William Smith and Frank Smith, who are colored. The emity has existed for some time, though the two principals are not related. William Smith attacked Frank Smith with a lamp. He smashed the bowl over the latter's head and continued blows with the cage glass inflicting four severe wounds. One of these required eight stitches to close it. The man came to the police station about 12 p. m. to have his wound dressed. This was done by Dr. Leo De Langey. His assailant was arrested, but has not yet been brought to trial.

Enforcing License Law.

Chief Briggs, acting under instructions, is carrying out the city ordinances relating to licenses. Several of the milkmen have been selling without licenses. Some of the milkmen have paid for the licenses and failed to take out the same. It is also said that several men operating vehicles have not secured licenses for the same. The billiard halls will also be given attention.

Nelson Charged with Forgery.

Jens Nelson was arrested last night for forgery. It is alleged he passed a bogus check on Torrey Burth, who operates a saloon at Twenty-fourth and N streets. This occurred Wednesday night. The check was for a small amount of money. Nelson made out the check for Emil Hansen and afterward countersigned the check, using Hansen's name. He then went into the saloon and offered the check in payment for a drink. Nelson claims to have $20 on deposit at the Packer's National bank, but the bank refused to honor his check, and it was returned to Hansen, who asserts that he had never signed the name on the back at all.

NEW USE FOR MARKET HOUSE
Bedford Will Ask that It Be Made Work Shop for City Prisoners.

Councilman Bedford, at next Tuesday's council meeting, will introduce a resolution that the market house on Capitol avenue be used for the working of city prisoners until such time as a permanent rock pile or workhouse shall be established. Last Tuesday evening Mr. Bedford's rock pile ordinance was passed. The idea is to work city prisoners breaking rock for the paving plant and other purposes, and to allow prisoners $2 a day to apply on their fines or sentences. Able-bodied prisoners who turn up their olfactory nerves at the rock pile idea are to have a diet of bread and water until they agree to work.

The coming of "Told in the Hills," with Edwin Arden as star, is one of the most interesting announcements Manager Burgess is able to make for the Boyd this season. The play is by Marsh Ellis Ryan, based on her widely read novel of the same name, and tells a romantic story of life in Montana in a powerfully dramatic way. It is going to New York soon for a run that will last all winter. The company and production to be seen here are the same that were used all summer in Chicago. The engagement opens on Sunday evening.

A matinee this afternoon and a performance this evening conclude the engagement of Mr. James O'Neill in "The Count of Monte Cristo" at the Boyd theater.

Two performances today of "The Alms of Friendship" at the Burwood will conclude the run of that piece. Beginning with a matinee on Sunday the bill will be "The Lady of Lyons."

Announcements of the Theaters.
The bill that has been drawing big audiences at the Orpheum all the week will be brought to a close today, when matinee and night performances will be given. Next week commencing matinee Sunday the Basque Quartette will be one of a number of excellent features. These French operatic vocalists are highly spoken of, having distinguished themselves in Europe. Arthur McWaters and pretty Grace Tyson come back this season with a spectacular musical comedy called "Yodelville." Then there will be Collins and Hart, the ludicrous strong men;
