WHEAT LACKS SUPPORT AND RULES LOWER

Though Trade is Light, Corn Advances on Buying by Cammission Houses, Afterward Reacting to Previous Day's Close.

OMAHA, Sept. 25, 1998. Little snap was present in the wheat market today and though opening prices market today and though opening prices were no lower, they became easier as the session advanced, in the absence of any good support. A little reaction late in the session brought them to the opening. Cables were higher, but American news was generally benrish, weather being favorable and receipts showing a fair increase. A temporary check to the weakness was lent by talk of some export business at the seaboard. Cash demand was fair.

business at the seaboard. Cash demand was fair.

Corn prices were easy early, but firmed up on buying by commission houses. Oats were also very strong and to a measure influenced the advance in corn. Receipts were large and the weather favorable, but trade is very light. At the close prices dropped back to yesterday's closing.

Primary wheat receipts were 1,323,000 bushels and shipments 575,000 bushels, against receipts last year of 1,493,000 bushels, and shipments of 685,000 bushels. Corn receipts were 723,000 bushels and shipments of 503,000 bushels and shipments of 500,000 bushels and shipments of 514,000 of 590,000 bushels and shipments of 590,000 bushels and shipments of 714,000 bushels. Clearances were 104,000 bushels of wheat, 48,588 barrels of flour, 21,247 bushels of corn and 18,996 bushels of oats.

Liverpool closed unchanged to 4d higher on wheat and unchanged to 4d higher on corn.

Prices on Board of Trade.

CHICAGO, Sept. 25.—Increased receipts of wheat in the northwest had a weakening effect today on the local wheat market, closing prices on the December delivery being of 1,424c. Corn was up a shade. Oats showed a gain of 1,424c. Provisions were a shade lower to a shade higher.

Weather in the spring wheat country continued favorable to the movement of the new crop, and arrivals today at the northwestern markets showed a considerable increase although they were still less than for the corresponding day a year spo. This increase in receipts furnished the main incentive to moderate profit-taking by local longs, which was in evidence the greater part of the day. Demand lacked animation, and in consequence, prices cased off a triffe although no special weakness was manifested. Lower prices for cash wheat at Kansas City and St. Louis were additional reasons for the moderate decline on the local market. The close was casy. December opened unchanged to he lower at The Color of the lower at the lower at the lower of the lower of the lower at the lower of the lower of the lower at the lower of the lower

The greater part of the business transacted in provisions consisted of the changing of holdings in the nearby deliveries to the January option. As a result of such transactions October ribs were conspicuously weak. A 5c advance in the price of live hogs, however, tended to help the market. At the close January pork was a shade lower at $13.23\frac{1}{2}$. Lard was off a shade at $7.23\frac{1}{2}$. Ribs were up a shade at $7.23\frac{1}{2}$.

But the heavy realizing in that stock and in Amalgamated Copper had a bad effect on general speculative sentiment as showing a disposition to sell on good news in a stock that is regarded as a speculative favorite of the group of capitalists most relied upon to carry through the present speculative campaign. HOGS—There was a fair run of hogs for a Tuesday, but several of the trains were late in arriving at the yards. The trady opened with good loads in fair demand and aithough it was by no means active, the market was steady to a little stronger in spots. It would be hardly possible to limit the strength to any particular one kind of hogs. Some good light loads sold stronger and others just as good no more than steady. Heavy hogs in some cases also showed strength, while in other cases heavy loads sold at harely steady prices. Whatever strength there was disappeared toward the close, when it was not possible to get over steady prices at the best.

Heavy hogs, especially those on the rough order, were poor seliers, especially toward the close, and a good many of them showed a decline of fully 5c as compared with yesterday.
