Saturday We Will Give Ak-Sar-Ben Visitors

A Grand Opportunity to Buy Men's, Boys and Women's Clothes

Men's Thoroughly Stylish Fall Suits

There is nothing that the makers of good clothes have to offer for fall which cannot be found at this store Saturday. This is the most complete clothes store in Omaha, broad in its scope, handling anything that might be desired by any man in any walk of life—distributors of all that is worthy. Prices on our clothes are regulated by actual value and our buying ability, which is so great that it can command liberal concessions of no small amount and these it shares with its patrons. Hence our ability to quote lower prices for the same qualities.

A pleasing feature of our display of Fall Suits is the special lines of all-wool Worsteds and Cheviots at these popular prices. The general $ and detailed excelence of these suits will win favor for them at once, and they will be a strong, permanent feature of this store. They are made specially to our order by manufacturers of unquestionable skill. Plain blacks, nobby checks and genteel plaids. Exemine them and see how much value is given at these prices-

Our New Fall Suits

It is a dandy-and there are many more like it, and hundreds of other nobby styles - the biggest line we have ever shown. The biggest values, too.

Our $2.95 Line

is made up of the class of garments which other stores show at $4.00. Nice new all wool cheviots and cassimeres, in new fall shades and styles.

Our $3.95 Line

is positively equal to any well made suit that is being offered around town as special at $5.00. We can fit the boy out satisfactorily and save you money.

with our Soft and Stiff Hats at $2.50, which we sell under the name of "Asbury." We have been repeatedly told by men who have worn them that they get more good out of them than they ever did from hats for which they paid $1.00 more. The models are, of course, correct and the finish and workmanship the very best. There are thousands of men who believe that $2.50 is as much as any one should pay for a good hat. We jealously guard the reputation of this "New Asbury"—Asbury Hats are sold in the City of Omaha by this store exclusively.

Disgruntled Candidate Bo Longer Factor Even in the Recount.

The result of the recount of the primary ballots, as far as it had proceeded at adjournment yesterday afternoon, was to lose John O. Yeiser the gain of four he made Thursday. After the vote of the Third precinct of the Third ward had been counted he stood just where he did when the counting began. Relatively, however, he was a vote or two ahead, as Harvey, his nearest competitor, lost two votes. Thursday and made a net gain of only one yesterday. This puts Yelser one vote nearer the nomination than he was before the recount was begun. Mr. Yeiser, however, declares he does no care how many votes he loses in the Third ward. The net loss of three votes in the Third precinct and one in the Second does not worry him, he said, because he Heves he can go into court and have the rote of the whole ward thrown out on charges of fraud. He told the board it out could go on with the Fourth ward, as he is satisfied he can present evidence that will throw out all five precincts.

"If I can gain thirteen votes in the other precincts I will take care of the Third rard," he said. "I haven't a shadow of a doubt that I can present ovidence that will cause the entire vote to be thrown out by the court. If I can get thirteen or fourteen Best who is next above Harvey, gained four votes in the recount yesterday. This will just about overcome his loss of the day before and put him practically when he was when the count started.

C. J. Andersen's loss grows with the progress of the recount. He lost eight and gained one vote yesterday, making a total net loss of about fifteen votes since the recenvass started. At this rate he will drop several notches below Yelser and will his point in court and throws out the Third

FORCED TO LARGER QUARTERS C. W. Hull Company Takes Its Office

October 1 to Fine New Rooms at Fifteenth and Farnam. Pedestrians along the busiest part of Farnam street have noticed a handsome new sign placed over the main entranc to the Barker block, just above Fifteenth street, reading, "C. W. Hull Company," The meaning of the new sign is that after fourteen years of active business life in the very modest building at Twentieth and Izard streets, the C. W. Hull company has been compelled by sheer growth of patronage to vacate its present restricted quarters and move its office force to the arge contrally located rooms at Farnam street, originally occupied by the National Bank of Commerce, and just re-

The C. W. In four teen years the C. W. Hull company has grown from a retail house with one yard into the largest wholesale and retail concern of its kind on the Missouri river with five yards and over 100 employes in Omaha and its traveling representatives covering Nebraska, Kansas, Iowa, Minnesota, South Dakota and Wyoming.

It is striking evidence of the wonderful prosperity prevailing in Omaha and the west, to have such a conservative firm make this significant and important move to bring itself into closer touch with the constantly increasing demands of the public October I is the date set for the occupancy by the C. W. Hull company, of its magnificent new office in the very heart of the business district.

It is understood at the New York offices of the company that many unique features have been introduced in the passenger acommodation on this steamship, and the builders claim that the vessel will be unrivaled in its class by any steamship built or building. The Adriatic will more nearly approach the aim of the great shipbuilding concerns to produce a vessel that is a replica in the details of comfort and convenience of the great modern hotels of New York and London than any other steamship ever built, and this is particularly noticeable in the development of the private bath and tollet room in connection with a large number of the rooms and the introduction of added accommodation in the form of lounging rooms for common
