CUBANS LIKE TAFT

young men. The idea that a university education was not beneficial to young men entering commercial life was erroneous. Foreign capital was of course necessary, but if young Cubans will enter commerce and take hold of the industries, twenty-five years from now would show the Cubans themselves placed on a firm domestic and financial basis.

Senator Palma said that Cuba owed a profound debt of gratitude to Senator Taft.

This statement was greeted with more applause than any of those which had preceded it. The governor concluded, with the words "Viva Cuba!" and the cheering which ensued continued unceasingly for five minutes.

At the conclusion of the governor's speech scores of prominent men and women crowded about him, demonstrating their sympathy with his work and anxious to meet with him.

The men were particularly enthusiastic. "We are glad to hear your statement that the United States was here only to help Cuba."

As the governor and his party were leaving the university the students and others crowded about Mr. Taft's automobile, cheering for President Roosevelt, Governor Taft, the United States and Cuba. Mr. Taft and his party were driven to the American legation.

A brigade of marines, consisting of 750 men, commanded by Major Wendell C. Neville, was landed at 8 o'clock this morning from the United States warships Kentucky, Indiana and Minnesota and proceeded by trolley to Camp Columbia. There was no demonstration.

The departure of Senator Palma from Havana has been postponed until tomorrow.

All the marines were landed within two hours. Tent supplies and general equipment were brought along in the boats with each detachment, so that each boatload of men had with them full equipment for a long sojourn. Several field guns were also landed. All the landings were made at the new wharf of the Havana Central Electric railway. Thirty street cars and several freight cars were run out on the long pier and the ships' boats, laden with supplies, were tied up to the pier.

Three and four of the launches. As the marines with their equipment reached the wharf they were started into the street cars, which at once started two or three at a time for Camp Columbia.

Governor Taft offered to make a speech to convey his sentiments to the people of Cuba, but the ex-president courteously declined to travel in that manner. It is known that Palma's family are not willing to travel to Cuba until the pacification has begun, but they are no longer apprehensive of a personal assault upon the ex-president.

The members of the supreme court called at the legation this morning to pay their respects to Governor Taft, who had gone to the university to participate in the annual opening.

Major Eugene F. Ladd, of the disarmament commission, passed the day in the camps of Generals Pino Guerra and Castillo, completing the disarming arrangements.

The marines alighted east of Camp Columbia and marched to the westerly barracks, the easterly portion of the encampment being occupied by Cuban troops. The location of the marines is slightly and healthful, but the barracks have been cleaned and repaired and are in good condition.

Three carloads of rations were taken to the camp, sufficient for a few days. More supplies will follow later.

First Troops Sail.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 1.—Gonzales de Quesada, minister from Cuba to the United States today, conferred with Secretary Root regarding the situation in Cuba. Mr. Quesada expressed full confidence in the friendly attitude of this government toward Cuba.

The battleship Texas, carrying marines to the island, which has been anchored outside the Virginia capes since last night to await further orders from Secretary Taft was instructed to proceed on its way to Cuba. After the Texas left Newport News, a message came from Secretary Taft saying he wanted more marines.

Secretary Taft said he wanted more marines, but he would not say how many. Dispatches were sent to him explaining that the Texas was being sent merely as a transport and Secretary Taft then assented to the orders for the Texas to proceed. Besides the British steamer Marion, just secured as a transport, the War department announced that he had chartered the steamer Andes at Havana as a troop transport. It will proceed at once to Fort Matanzas and it is said will take to Havana the light battery ordered from Fort Sheridan.

General Bell, Chief of Staff announced this evening that the transport Sumner would sail tonight from New York for Havana. It will carry the first detachment of troops for the Cuban expedition, consisting of two battalions of infantry from the Plattsburg, N. Y. barracks and one battalion of engineers from the Washington barracks, 300 men in all. The troops will be under command of Colonel Cowley of the Fifth infantry. In addition to the troops the Sumner will carry a large contingent of commissary stores.

President Pleased with Speed.

The sailing of the Sumner will be within 48 hours from the issuance of the orders for the movement of the troops. Practically the first bit of information conveyed to President Roosevelt after his arrival here was that respecting the Sumner's readiness to sail. He expressed gratification at the expedition.

Brigadier General W. P. Duvall, commanding the Department of the Gulf with headquarters at Atlanta, was at the War department today in conference with General Bell, chief of staff, and other officers with regard to the movement of the troops in his department that have been ordered to New Orleans for embarkation for Cuba. General Duvall was one of the American officers sent to Berlin to represent the United States army at the maneuvers of the German troops.

General Duvall will leave here this evening at 10 o'clock for Atlanta and will hold himself in readiness for orders to Cuba, in case any more general officers are required in the enforcement of peace on the island.

Brigadier General John Pershing, recently promoted to be brigadier general and military attaché at Tokyo, Japan, called the War department today that he will sail at once for the United States, arriving in San Francisco about the middle of this month. He will report to the military secretary and no doubt will be ordered to duty in Cuba.

Clerks Work All Night.

Secretary Taft is in constant communication with President Roosevelt concerning the Cuban situation, but has not seen fit to communicate with the War department since the government's preparations for the first expedition to Cuba are being hastened with all possible speed. Officers and clerks at the War department worked practically all night, and advice from the troops ordered to mobilize at Newport News indicates that they will be ready as soon as transports are available.

The second battalion of engineers left here today to go aboard the Sumner at Newport News.

Two complete field hospital outfits will go to Cuba, sailing on the first transport leaving Newport News.

Another company of the hospital corps is on its way from San Francisco to Newport News. Each of the seven regiments ordered to Cuba will have a regimental hospital and a full quota of medical officers.

Quartermaster General Humphreys has just secured the British steamer Marion, now at Philadelphia, capacity 10,000 long tons, 200 bunks of cargo and other contents. In place of the Missouri, which the United States Steel corporation refuses to lease as an army transport.

The Marion is ordered to report immediately at Newport News, Va.

Cuba and White House.

President Roosevelt tonight had a long conference with two members of his cabinet, Secretary of State Root and Attorney General Moody. Both cabinet officials declined to discuss the nature of the discussion, but they called at the White House before a previous arrangement and the conference began after 9:30. Just previous to their coming the president received Mr. Quesada, the Cuban minister, with whom he had a brief talk regarding Cuba. Upon leaving the White House Mr. Quesada stated that he had called to thank the president for his letter to him, for Secretary Taft's "kindly" proclamation and for the efforts that the president is making for the people of Cuba. Mr. Quesada said that he had not received a reply from the president to his letter of resignation, but that he had received a request similar to that sent all diplomatic representatives of Cuba, asking them to continue at their posts, but as he had already resigned that message of request did not, under the circumstances, apply to him, and he is awaiting a specific reply to his resignation.

At the conference between the president and the two officials representing the diplomatic and law departments in the cabinet, it is expected that it is not only Cuba, but some other important questions engrossing the attention of the government, were discussed.

Palma Goes Out of Office Poor.

Senator Quesada, the Cuban minister, when seen today, had not received any reply from Secretary Taft to his letter of resignation transmitted Saturday.

The retiring minister, retaining toward former President Palma feelings of the greatest attachment and sympathy.

"After spending forty of the seventy-three years of his life in fighting for Cuban liberty, President Palma leaves the palace in Havana without a dollar," said Senator Quesada. "His private fortune, as well as the best energy of his life, have been patriotically poured out in the cause of his country."

"I had called to President Palma an invitation to make my home here if he decided to come to the United States. Although President Palma is practically penniless, he has hosts of friends who will remain steady to him through adversity has become his portion."

Mr. Quesada made known today for the first time that a year ago he had tendered his resignation, but that President Palma had declined to accept it. He said it was his purpose to return to Cuba and participate in the election to be arranged by the provisional government, as he had no ambitions for future office.
