flutter of excitement moved over the assemblage as the door opened and the beautiful queen of Ak-Sar-Ben stepped majestically out into view. Preceding her the maids of honor marched to the front of the stage and just in front of the Board of Governors. Six little flower girls, Helena Chase, Dorothy Darlow, Katheryne Breckenridge, Dorothy Judson, Margaret Parmer Mathews and Esther May Smith, dressed in filmy white over blue walked in front of her and strewed flowers, from baskets in the royal pathway. Little Esther Wilhelm, bearing the queen's crown, followed the flower girls. Two Pages, Musters Martin Rolston and Burdette Kirkendall, acted as train bear-

The coronation gown was regal in its richness. It was of ivory white satin, made princess with square neck and full court train. A shimmering net panel embroidered in gold thread in marguerite defrom the neck to the foot of the skind, people gave vent to their joy in the many tapering at the waist and flaring again woven in the pattern. Two similar panels extended up the sides of the skirt and over the shoulders, tapering to the waist in the back, where they were held with rhinestone buckles. The sleeves were short puffs of the satin inset down the with a puffing of flimsy maline crossed with bands of gold lace and finished at the cuff with a graduated ruffic of gold lace, She wore a necklace of pearls and diamonds. The costume was completed by the coronation robe of light blue velvet edged with ermine, which hung from the shoulders to the end of the court train.

Slowly and with regal tread they marched Blowly and with regal tread they marched down the center of the hall to the dias, where she was to meet her royal consort. Applause and exclamations of wonder Mary Hayden.

CAN'T STOP TALKING. Farmer Talks Grape-Nuts to All His Friends.

The average farmer is nobody's fool. It takes a pretty level head to run a farm, and the more carefully he thinks the more successful he is. A Missouri farmer writes "I want to say something about Grape-Nuts as a food, but as I am just a common old farmer, I can't put it as strong as I would like to.

"My little boy was pale and shim, did he is robust and hearty, cats Grape-Nuts every day and enjoys perfect health. "I have prevailed upon my neighbors to try Grape-Nuts and it is astonishing. the results. I would not be without if it I had to pay $1.00 a package.

"A year ago I read about it and had my grocer order some. I hought most of and soon saw the benefits from it and then began to talk Grape-Nuts to everyone. Now I don't know how many packages the grocer sells each week, but he keeps nearly everybody around here sup-

"Now you can publish this if you want to or do as you please, but you can't keep me from talking about Grape-Nuts, for there is no equal to it anywhere." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich. Read the book, "The Road to Wellville," in pkgs. "There's a reason"
