Adjutant General Culver Returns from Camp of the Rushville Rifles-Indians Much Interested in the Affair.

(From a Staff Correspondent.) LINCOLN, Oct. 5 .- (Special.)-In today's Commoner Mr. Bryan gives Hearst's candidacy this strong endorsement:

The New York gubernatorial contest will not be a sham battle. It will be a spirited fight. The personality of both candidates is such as to command the most faithful support on the part of fleutenants who delight to follow men whose love for battle runs in the bicoo, while in the public record of each candidate there is inspiration for the rank and file bent upon securing the best results in the management of public affairs.

for Democracy. KEARNEY, Neb., Oct. 5 .- (Special Teledron, L. S. Deets and T. B. Garrison, sr. Mr. Bryan, members of the committee and Mr. Waldron presided and the speaker was anything wild and visionary.

introduced by Mr. Oldham. Those who have read reports of Mr. Bryan's speeches from day to day will already have the substance of his speech in Kearney. The general line of talk was the familiar theme that the republican party has taken up principles advocated by the democrats, and that every reform brought about by the present republican administration had been suggested by the democratic national platform. In summing up the argument for the democratic party and completing his arraignment of the republican party he asserted that during the ten years the republican party has been in power it has not impressed a single idea upon the country, while the democratic party, though defeated, had forced the country to adopt the principles for which it stands. Government ownership was referred to briefly.

GARND ISLAND, Neb., Oct. 5 .- (Special Telegram.)-Hon. W.J. Bryan was greeted by a crowd tonight in this, the home city of W. H. Thompson, democratic candidate for United States senator. He began his two hours address by a eulogy of Mr. Thompson's steadfast and faithful adherence to his ideals of government and to his earnest and loyal aid during the past fifteen years in bringing these ideals to the attention. the understanding and the final acceptance of the American people. He also made a plea for the congressional candidate Mr. Sutherland and the democratic state ticket. While he seemed somewhat hourse his address was a most vigorous one, and for two hours he held the close attention of his audience. Otherwise than to commend the candidates local questions were not touched upon excepting with reference to regulation of railroads.

In his address tonight he related his belief in government ownership and said Mr. Roosevelt says "Regulation of the great railroad corporations and if that is not successful then government ownership." "I say regulation cannot be successful, therefore we must have government ownership." In elucidating this point Mr. Bryan called attention to the fact that when ten years ago an effort was made to regulate them in this state, a raffroad locomotive carried out a necessary member of the legislature and had not returned him yet. He had no hope for success in regulation. An overflow meeting was held at the court house at which Hon. R. D. Sutherland and Mr. Hanks of Nebraska City addressed the
