LINEMEN CREATE EXCITEMENT Servant Girl, Who Calls Police.

About 5 p. m. Thursday the police station received a 'phone message saying that some bold, bad burglars were then in the act of robbing the home of H. Weller, 3610 Boulevard. The message was sent by the maid of an adjoining house, who had seen the men at their work and who promised to keep a close watch on them until the could arrive on the scene.

The patrol wagon was dispatched as soon as possible, filled to the roof with officers, who were expecting a lively time. All they found was two linemen of the telephone company repairing the 'phone at the Weller home. They had been left in the house slone by Mrs. Weller, who went to see the floral parade, and the sight of two strange men in the house attracted the attention of the servant girl next door

First Number Out Today Get It Early

Published from fourteen cities

Each issue the same except the local section and brim-full of the week's happenings, flashed by wire from all parts of the country up to going to press.

The big events of the week featured in national editorials contributed by telegraph by fourteen editors throughout the country up to midnight Friday, shaped-up by Samuel Hopkins Adams and his associates in New York, and telegraphed back to all the branches, for publication this morning.

Ridgway's is the newest thing in modern journalism. It is published by twentieth century methods for twentieth century people. Edited by telegraph, and in your hands a few hours after going to press. It is an epitome of the vital important things that concern the nation with their real significance made clear.

The magazine section is good. There are excellent stories, well illustrated, several articles, plenty of humor of the sort that lingers in the memory.

The illustrations are a big feature. 16 pages of half-tones printed on super paper depicting the important occurrences in Business, Politics, Finance, Sports, Society and the Drama.

W. Gilmore Beymer contributes a brilliant short story, "The Left Handed House," splendidly illustrated.

William Travers Jerome, New York's District Attorney, writes an answer to an absorbing question, Is the Political Boss

Joseph Conrad begins his great serial story, The Secret Agent, a story that will interest and fascinate.

Martin Egan conducts the Washington Bureau with a staff of 12 editors, contributing the latest news from the capitol. Every department of the government service under review by bright, crisp, writers.

There are 4 pages on national topics of the week, 4 pages of national editorials, 8 pages of local happenings in your district, 16 pages illustrating current events, 8 pages from the Washington Bureau, 4 pages of humor, with additional pages of general articles and sketches, making 64 pages in all.
