they could at Anamosa. They have tried to make it a model prison in every way, and for this reason they may require that the new warden know something more about

DANES TAKING THE CITY

Delegates Arriving for the Convention of the Danish Brotherhood.

MUCH BUSINESS COMES BEFORE BODY

Order Which Had Its Origin Omaha Has Had an Interesting History and Rapid Growth in the West.

A large number of the delegates to the Brotherhood, which opens in this city this morning and lasts over Saturday, arrived yesterday. The convention is composed of 248 delegates said if is expected ceeded in securing one rifle and one shot-that with possibly a few exceptions all gun, but several of the boys made their will be here. The sessions will be held in Danish hall, at the corner of Broadway and Park avenue, where headquarters also will be established for the delegates during their week's stay in the city.

As the convention is only held every four years there is consequently much work for it to do and a greater part of the week will be devoted strictly to business, although proper arrangements have been made by the local committees for the entertainment of their guests. The first entertainment will be tomorrow evening when the visiting delegates will one guests of the local lodge at its meeting, at which a Lane Marble and Grunite works, 217 East Broadway, Council Bluffs, La.

History of Organization,

The history of the organization of the Danish Brotherhood is an interesting one. It is the outgrowth of an organization formerly known as the "Danish Weapon society," formed in Omaha in the year 1878 or 1879. The members were veterans of the Danish wars with Germany, known as the Schleswig-Holstein wars. Only those who had served in these wars were eligible to membership. Similar organizations were formed in Davenport, Ia., Neenah and Racine, Wis., and Moline, In 1881 these organizations were merged into one body, known as the Danish Veterans, and a year later it was decided to extend the organization so as to admit all Danes and their descendants who spoke the Danish language. The reorganized society then became known as the Danish Brotherhood and started with this name with a membership of 187.

The Danish Veteran society was incorporated in 1881 under the laws of Nebraska and a convention was held in that year in port and Moline. On January 2, 1882, at the convention in Omaha, the name of the order was changed to the Danish Brotherhood and the membership extended to admit all Danes and their descendants.

Since its reorganization in 1882 the Danish

BULLET BARELY MISSES WOMAN Shot, Evidently Carelessly Fired.

Passes Through Window.

As Mrs. Crandall was sitting reading it the front room of her home at $13 South Seventh street yesterday afternoon a bullet crashed through the window and imbedded itself in the wall opposite. The missile missed Mrs. Crandall only a few nches. The police were at once notified, but they were unable to locate the shooter. As the bullet was evidently from a 37 callber rifle it was supposed the shot was a stray one from boys shooting in the neighborhood, but the officers were unable to locate the marksman.

Residents in Morningsfue complained of twelfth national convention of the Danish | boys shooting in that neighborhood, and Deputy Marshal Crum was sent to the place. He found a number of boys armed with small rifles and shotguns and succeeded in securing one rifle and one shotescape. William Capel, the son of Thomas Capel, a gardener, living at 1270 East Pierce; John Senior, living at 1284 Canning street, and R. Barrett, living at 128 Baughn street, were the possessors of the weapons seized by Officer Crum, and they were notifled to appear in police court this morning, when they will be charged with discharging firearms within the city limits.

> Residents in Morningside complained that a gang of young lads frequented that neighborhood, armed with guns, and when lacking other sport, shot and killed their chickens. Major Richmond stated yesterday that he was determined to put a stop to this promiscuous use of firearms by the boys about the city.
