

MIDDLE LIFE

A Time When Women Are Susceptible to Many Dread Diseases—Intelligent Women Prepare for it. Two Relate their Experiences.

The "change of life" is the most critical period of a woman's existence, and the anxiety felt by women as it draws near is not without reason. Every woman who neglects the care of her health at this time in life is liable to disease and pain. When her system is in a deranged condition, or she is predisposed to apoplexy, or congestion of any organ, the tendency is at this period likely to become active—and with a host of nervous irritations make life a burden. At this time, also, cancers and tumors are more liable to form and begin their destructive work.

Mrs. A. E. G. Hyland

Such warning symptoms as sense of suffocation, hot flashes, headaches, backaches, dread of impending evil, timidity, sounds in the ears, palpitation of the heart, sparks before the eyes, irregularities, constipation, variable appetite, weakness, inquietude, and dizziness, are promptly heeded by intelligent women who are approaching the period in life when woman's great change may be expected.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound was prepared to meet the needs of a woman's system at this trying period of her life. It invigorates and strengthens the female organism and builds up the weakened nervous system.

For special advice regarding this important period women are invited to write to Mrs. Pinkham at Lynn, Mass., and it will be furnished absolutely free of charge. The present Mrs. Pinkham is the daughter-in-law of Lydia E. Pinkham, her assistant before her decease, and for twenty-five years since her decease has been freely given to sick women.

Another Woman's Case
"During change of life words cannot express what I suffered. My physician said I had a cancerous condition of the female organs. One day I read some of the testimonials of women who had been cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and I decided to try it and to write you for advice. Your medicine made me a well woman, and all my bad symptoms soon disappeared."

Read what Lydia E. Pinkham's Compound did for Mrs. Hyland and Mrs. Hinkle:
Dear Mrs. Pinkham—
"I had been suffering with displacement of the organs for years and was passing through the change of life. My abdomen was badly swollen; my stomach was sore; I had dizzy spells, sick headaches, and was very nervous. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound succeeds where others fail."

"I wrote you for advice and commenced treatment with Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound as you directed, and I am happy to say that all those distressing symptoms left me and I have passed safely through the change of life, a well woman. I am recommending your medicine to all my friends."—Mrs. Annie E. G. Hyland, Chester-ton, Mo.

WILLIAMS TO BE SCRATCHED

Otherwise Reports to Republican Headquarters Promise Success.

SHELDON AND BROWN ARE IN DEMAND

Normal Board Accepts New Library Building at Peru Attendance at Normal School Most Gratifying.

LINCOLN, Oct. 9.—(Special.)—Chairman Rose of the republican state committee, said at noon today that the campaign is progressing nicely and the organization was being perfected as rapidly as possible. Many applications are coming in for George L. Sheldon and Norris Brown to address meetings of republicans, but Mr. Brown's absence in Washington will cut into a number of meetings, while Sheldon is going night and day. Tonight he speaks at West Point. The poll books were sent out rather late this year, but returns are coming in and there are no indications but what the republican ticket, with the exception of Williams for railroad commissioner, will get the usual republican vote. Information received here is to the effect that Judge Williams will be scratched by the republicans all over the state, and so far as heard from, no fears are being shed anywhere over this matter. Democrats are urging republicans here who really want to elect good men to office to concentrate their votes on George Horst, the Polk county candidate on the democratic ticket. Mr. Horst, they claim, has a splendid record as a member of the legislature many years ago and can be depended upon to be fair to the people of the state should he be elected. So far as heard from in this section of the state, except through the mouthpiece of the fake reformer, not a good word has been said of Williams or his candidacy. The State Normal board met at Peru yesterday afternoon and accepted the new library building and inspected the new arrangements whereby many of the girls are doing their own housekeeping and thus learning to become good housewives and incidentally cutting down expenses. A large building has been rented by a number of the girls and each suite has been fitted up for housekeeping. Three or four of the girls occupy a suite and do their own cooking. A woman appointed by the board has general supervision over the arrangements. Other cottages are shortly to be erected and rented for this purpose and before long it is expected most of the girls will be cooking for themselves and learning to keep house. The increase in the attendance at the normal school has been gratifying to the board, the increase this year over last year being 164. For the past four years the attendance has been as follows: 1902, 416; 1903, 429; 1904, 491; 1905, 496. The senior class this year is the largest in the history of the school.

Insurance Fees Heavy.
The insurance department, under the direction and supervision of Auditor Scarle, has done a good business during the period from December 1, 1905, to the present time in the matter of collecting fees and in the matter of weeding out undesirable companies. There are now fifty-five companies less doing business in the state than there were in 1905. For two years or more the suit brought to test the legality of the reciprocal law held up considerable money, but as soon as the law was held to be constitutional, Auditor Scarle got busy on a collecting tour and succeeded in getting all the money due this department. At this time there are 223 insurance companies doing business in Nebraska against 278 in 1905. The collection of fees for the past few years follows: 1905, $18,422.49; 1906, $47,509.22; 1907, $38,294.05; 1908, $45,221.14; 1909, $55,382.72; 1904, $77,558.23; 1905, $88,765.90; up to September 1, 1906, $122,008.07.

Federal Court Proceedings.
The federal grand jury got busy this morning, with F. D. Wood, an Omaha real estate dealer, as forwarn, Charles Nesbitt of Nebraska City will act as clerk. After the court had disposed of a few motions today a jury was called for the trial of the case of Gage Bros. & Co., et al.

SHELDON REFINES ISSUES

Give Voters of Cuming County Something to Think About.
RAILROAD DOMINATION MUST CEASE
Republican the Only Party Which Has Accomplished Anything Practical for the People of the State.

WEST POINT, Oct. 9.—(Special Telegram.)—A large and enthusiastic crowd of all political faiths thronged the West Point opera house tonight to hear Hon. George L. Sheldon discuss the political issues of the day from the republican standpoint. The next governor was in fine form and good spirits and created a remarkably favorable impression on the voters of Cuming county. He was introduced to the audience by former Senator D. C. Giffert, chairman of the republican county central committee, and spoke for one hour and fifteen minutes, during the whole of his speech carrying his audience with him and making many telling points. His remarks were frequently interrupted by applause, both loud and long.

In his opening remarks Mr. Sheldon dwelt upon the phenomenal development of the country, especially the west. Illustrating the enormous output of our country he stated the fact that only 7 per cent of our production is exported, yet small as that ratio appears it makes the greatest exporting nation of earth. The speaker spoke a few words commending Norris Brown for senator and expressed the hope that more men like him would be sent to Washington to hold up the hands of the administration.

He then took up the question of railroad taxation, the attempts of the Burlington and the Union Pacific railroads to evade payment of their taxes, showing the fact that as nonresidents they had taken advantage of that fact to appeal to the federal courts. He showed that the republican party, who had ever steadily stood for the people as against railroad domination in politics, protested against allowing them the right to fix their own assessments. His arraignment of the injustice and inequality of freight rates in Nebraska was scathing. He quoted rates voluminously, whereas it was conclusively shown that the rates on staple commodities from central and eastern points in this state to Omaha were more than the rates of the same produce from Omaha to Chicago, and this, in spite of the fact that the earnings of the Nebraska roads per mile, are much more than in Iowa or any western state. Discrimination in the rates on coal from Sheridan, Wyo., to Nebraska points was also touched upon. The speaker showed that coal from Sheridan to Omaha was delivered there at a freight rate of 27 1/2, whereas to Grand Island the rate is 32 1/2, a difference of 5 on a shorter haul of some 20 miles.

Maximum Rate Law Dissected.
The speaker proved the futility of the present maximum freight law and showed to the satisfaction of his hearers that the only proper solution of the rate problem now confronting the people was in the passage of the amendment and creation of the Board of Railway Commissioners, clothed with plenary power to enforce its own regulations as to state commerce. He next took up the question of regulation of passenger rates, incidentally mentioning the agitation now prevalent for a 2-cent passenger fare. Answering the suggestion that a state law fixing this limit would answer the purpose, he stated that a law as suggested would be comprehensive, that it would include in its operation all the roads in the state on an equal basis and that in case one small railroad, of which he instanced several, should attack the law successfully, his abrogation would have the effect of restoring the maximum rate on all the roads in the state, as well as the road complaining, whereas under the proposed railway commission if any individual railway complained of the 2-cent rate being a hardship, its case would be judged on its own merits without reference to any other road, and it could, on a proper showing, be released from the operation of the rule, leaving all the other roads subject to it, a point which the audience seemed to think was well taken. In speaking of the question, Senator Sheldon emphatically denied using a pass or free railroad transportation of any kind since January 1, 1906. He admitted, in 1903, accepting a pass from the Missouri Pacific railway, which he had a very little, but he explained that upon reflection he considered that he could best serve his constituents by being perfectly independent of railroad influences and therefore returned the pass, as also other passes he had since received. The action on his part was taken voluntarily, long before the pass question became an issue in politics or before it had entered the public mind as a campaign issue.

The boy and team escaped, but the wagon was reduced to kindling wood and Jonathan Matty was thrown several rods and severely bruised, but at the present time is resting easily and the indications are that he will recover.
